WEDNESDAY JANUARY 27 1894

GOOD EVENING

140 STOLEN.—Yesterday two men giving the names of Lee Hays and Wild Bill were arrested by Constable McClaine, of Harrisburg, at that place, on the charge of having broken into the residence of M. Garrison, near the Linn county line, and having stolen $140 from the same last Wednesday. The warrant was issued from the justice court of Harrisburg. At the time of its being issued it was thought that Mr. Garrison's house was located in Linn county, but after investigating the location thoroughly, it was proven that the crime had been committed in Linn county. The deputy prosecuting attorney was notified, and he issued a new warrant before Justice Kinsey. Deputy Sheriff George Smith brought the men here on this afternoon's train, and they will probably be given an examination on the charge this evening or tomorrow morning. One hundred and thirty-five dollars in gold which the men had buried was recovered. The evidence against them is almost certain to convict.—Guard.

BAPTISM NECESSARY.—An uncommon incident took place yesterday afternoon at the Christian church, says the Corvallis Gazette. Mr. John Will, the father of our well known J. Wm Will, and Christina Will, his mother, now respectively aged 76 and 74 years, after having earnestly striven to live what is usually considered an honorable christian life for forty odd years, realized in a full sense that baptism by immersion was essential. Therefore, in obedience to instructions of our Savior, they were baptized into the Household of Christ by Elder W. W. Sharp, of Eugene, of the Seventh Day Adventist church, with which they united in this city.

AN IMPORTANT SUIT.—D'Arcy & Bingham, of Salem, representing 116 Oregon Pacific employees, have filed a plea in intervention in the case of the Farmers Loan & Trust Company of New York, to foreclose a big mortgage against the company. The employees pray for an order of the court, requiring and compelling this big creditor trust company to pay into the court the several amounts claimed by the claimants bringing this suit, together with interest at 8 per cent thereon, until the same shall have been paid, and allege destruction of duty on the part of the trust company.

VERY HEALTHY.—The Ashland Record boasts as follows: Not a child was buried in the Ashland cemeteries during 1893. This is a clincher of a testimony to our climate, and we doubt if there is a single town on the Pacific that can show a similar record. The only undertaker in the city, I. L. Downing, is compelled to be engaged in other enterprises in order to keep busy. There were only twenty burials during the past year and they were invariably old persons. Ashland is the healthiest town on the coast of its size.

A RELIC.—Yesterday morning we were shown a tobacco pipe by Mr. D. Carlisle, of this city, that to us was quite an interesting relic. It was made on the battlefield of Bull Run by General Reub Williams, editor of the Warsaw, (Ind.) Indiana Republican, and by him given to Thos. Hubler, a drummer boy who was the youngest enlisted soldier in the Union ranks during the war of the rebellion. After the war was over Mr. Hubler sold the pipe to Mr. Carlisle, now of this city, but at that time a resident of Warsaw.—Gazette.

THE SCIO GIRL.—A Brownsville man gets off the following in the Times: The young girl from Scio. She was so high, O! Says Johnny B did you see me? With the young girl from Scio! Oh, dear me, high ho, but the young girl from Scio, has gone away, over to stay, high-ho, Scio, you see, says Johnny B, I could easily cry. Oh, for the young girl from Scio. Oh, come back to me, a treat it shall be, says Johnny B, to the young girl from Scio.

FOOT BALL.—A dispatch received today in Albany announced that the great foot ball game between the Multnomahs and Corvallis would be played at this city on Feb 3 for a guarantee of $150. This will probably be furnished, and our citizens be given an opportunity to see the liveliest game of the season.

On the occasion of the installation of the new officers of the A. O. U. W. at Scio a free public dinner was served. The Press says: Many persons on this occasion seemingly had not taken a square meal for some time, judging from the way they caused grub to disappear in their immediate vicinity. One party is reported to have drunk five cups of coffee and eat accordingly.

Geo. W. Skinner, of the floating mill of Independence, has invented a new kind of a boat with which to navigate the Willamette river during low water, and will have a model for exhibition in a few weeks. His boat is a new departure, having no boiler, as it will be run by gasoline, thus saving the weight of a boiler. It will be flat bottomed, needing only a light draught of water.—Salem Independent.

The following from the Oregonian is about a former Scio girl: Lena Houston, 17 years old, was taken from the Delevan house, in the North End, by Officer Tom Coleman yesterday and given an opportunity to tell her troubles to Chief Hunt. The latter official is assured that Miss Lena is not living an upright life, and as she is not yet old enough to choose for herself, he committed her to the charge of Matron Pitkin until her case can be thoroughly investigated.

Brownsville.—C. H. Dalrymple one of Albany's able attorneys, was in this vicinity last week.

If there is a man on this mundane sphere who we simply detested it is the dirty scoundrel who has been taking our paper for the past two or three years, and who has never paid a red cent for the same, and then had the post-master send it back, "refused." We thought seriously at first of publishing his name, and will if the money is not forthcoming.

Owing to the resignation of Prof. W. S. Mayberry, Miss Belle Chance is acting as principal of the school and Miss Anna Warmouth as primary teacher for the present. Applications have been made for the principalship, but as yet it is not known who is the successful candidate.

Fugilism seems to have invaded the air around Brownsville. Sunday afternoon Gus Vennon and Lee Riggs retired to a sequestered spot, shed their linen and proceeded to use each other as a battering ram. Vennon was too much for his opponent.—Times.

CITY ASSESSMENTS.

The totals for the assessments of the eleven cities, and school districts of the county have just been completed and reports sent to the city officials and school boards in order that they may report to the county clerk their levies before the 1st of February. According to the roll the net assessment of the several cities is as follows:

The taxable property in School District No. 5 is $1,997,975. In most cases the assessment of the school district is slightly more than that of the city.

A HARRISBURG FIRE.—Harrisburg came near having a fire Wednesday evening, and had a few more minutes elapsed before noticing the blaze, the residence of J. G. Sanders would now be in ashes. Early in the evening while Mr. Sanders was at the store, the youngest son, Edgar, took a lighted candle and went into Mrs. Sanders's room after some article. A few moments later a couple of gentlemen who happened to be passing by noticed the fire, and rushed in to subdue it which they were successful in doing. The wall, ceiling and carpet were badly burned and the damage will amount to $100 or more, besides considerable wearing apparel which was ruined.—Courier.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.—No more excuse for sending your washings to Celestials Richards & Phillips will now do plain family washings for the astonishingly low price of 20 cents per dozen. This breaks the record, and should bring every citizen of Albany into line. Stand by white labor and patronize home industry. Under this arrangement there must be a full dozen to count. It is to be hoped there is not a single resident of the city who sends out washings, who will not patronize the Albany Steam Laundry.

Absolute Merit. No other plaster has been produced which gains so many testimonials of high value as those continuously accorded to Alcock's Plaster, and the only motive for these exceptional commendations is the fact that it is a medicinal and pharmaceutical preparation of superior value. MISFITS

The oldest chestnut in existence has been dug up again. It is that quarter of twelve joke.

A Salem society debated the question: "Resolved, That the United States congress, to relieve the prevailing business depression, shall at once issue $2,000,000,000 of treasury notes which shall be a full legal tender." It was decided in the negative, it being proven conclusively that $2,000,000,000 of fiat money would be a detriment to the country.

The sentiment is general that the new receiver Charles Clark is doing all that it is possible to make the Oregon Pacific pay expenses. The appointment was a good one. The Salem paper that is throwing cold water on him is in small business. It is taking a very silly course in the matter, on the face of it simply for notoriety.

Schiller B. Herman, a son of the congressman has gone to Boston for a wife, and an Ashland paper kicks because the son of a man who made his money in Oregon and is sent to congress from this state goes away for a wife. Probably fortunate for the Oregon girl, and then love has no bounds.

A man who was in Portland says: That town is ridden with commissions, and the voters would almost give their heads to get rid of them. A commission is building the city hall. Another watches the police. A fourth has supervision of the streets. A fifth keeps an eye on the sewers. A sixth, perhaps, issues licenses. And so Portland is run. There is no central lean, and practically no responsibility. The commissions are perpetual.

A secret political organization is stirring up matters in Portland and the prospects are there will be many astonished politicians in the metropolis when the votes are counted next June. This secret society is known as the "American Protective Association," and its object seems to be to break up the power of the Roman Catholic church in America. An extract from a circular distributed by the society reads as follows.

"For the protection of our country and free institutions from the secret, intolerant and aggressive efforts that are being persistently set forth by the religio-political organization known as the Roman Catholic church." Who the members of the society are no one knows outside of the organization.

Thompson, of Brownsville, Mrs. Mary Westermood, of San Francisco and Mrs. Martha Boone, of Boise City, Idaho.
