From what is now known of the moon it is certain that it is inhabited. It must be by beings organized very differently from the human race or any animals on the earth. The moon is without water and without atmosphere; and owing to the fact that it revolves on its axis but once a month so that the lunar days and nights are each nearly thirty times as long as our days and nights the extremes of heat and cold range every month from 400° F. above zero to 330° below. In the midst of such conditions no form of animal or vegetable life known to this planet could possibly exist; and it is generally agreed among astronomers that the moon is utterly barren of life in any form.

Reports of internal revenue for the first 10 days of the present month were $5,079,211, against $4,514,805 the corresponding period last year. Treasury officials regard this as a sure sign of returning business activity. Its significance is increased by the facts that since the beginning of the fiscal year now the internal revenue has constantly decreased.

The Forum
"The Greatest of all our Periodicals."

The foremost men of the world write the literature of contemporaneous activity for THE FORUM.

Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it naturally comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems of the time, as no other periodical does.

To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prohibitory; indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature—men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the narrow limits of particular sects and parties—is great enough in the United States to warrant so revolutionary a reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporaneous activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity.

SIZE AND QUALITY UNCHANGED.
The Forum is now as cheap as the magazines of mere entertainment. THE CHEAPEST, THE LARGEST, THE BEST, OF THE GREAT REVIEWS.
