ABILITY AND PAITHFULNESS VERSUS
BOSSISM.—BOSSISM SCORES & EVERAL POINTS

The members who were sent from here to the populist convention in Albany, were individually and collectively the superior in point of ability to any delegation from elsewhere in th's county. The populists of Lebanon have in their ranks a better class of men than the rank and file of the party can elsewhere claim. Men of ability and of property belong to the party in this vicinity. The reason is obvious to those who know the history of the party in this precinct. Several years ago, Mr A. Jack Adams, a man of ability and an original populist, began to promulgate the princi ples of this party, He did this very successfully by personal appeal and by newsgaperwork. He spent his time, his talents and his money in this, the work of his life, while the present leaders of his delusive hops of securing a warm nest in their midst, and were ridiculing the princules to the bottom of a ship,

The work thus begun by Adams has been carried on by Goo Alexander, another old-time populit of Lebanon, Persuaded by the efforts of these two men, in the main, the people of this neighborhood have in considerable number, gone over to this published by the treasury department.

The ablest, if not the oldest member of this party in this precinct-and even in this county-is Hon C B Montague, a delegate to the county convention. The other delegates were all men of more or less ability. They all reflected honor upon their cause-and were thirteen strong.

Thus Lebanon, represented by thirteen honorable men, with the advantage of being the strongest precinct in the county and with the prestige of being the cradle of populism of this county, entered the convention. They left it-with the same number, the same advantage and prestige, but with the most meager and unsatisfactory representation on the ticket nominated.

One place was secured, and that with hardly enough compensation attached to it to defray actual expesse-if elected. Adams, the father of his party, was turned down for the party's precoclous grandson for recorder. Alexander was left to sigh for even one world to conquer. Montague, the ablest and most eloquent member of the convention, was beaten for a seat in the state convention by a man who cannot hope to command the attention that would have been cheerfully given his defeated opponent. Thus did this convention repay the services of their most worthy party

The Lebanon delegates, believing that they were entitled to recognition, for reason mentioned above, did not attend the midnight caucus just preceding the convention. They were early on the ground the next day, but the early bird did not catch the worm, for the night-owl got in his deadly work and there was no worm to eatch. Innocent of wrong themselves, and unsuspicious of foul play in others, ignorant of midnight caucuses and strong in the faith that Populists could do no wrong, they soundly slept on the night of the ninth only to a-wake on the tenth to the knowledge that the Popullst party, like the old parties, can have its rings, its cliques and its bosses.

The awakening is sad indeed; but sadder still will the awakening be, when these confiding voters, having placed these bosses in power, see the florce of these lamba hanging to the bristles of a Tammany tigorand their bosses, anxiety to serve the dear people forgotter, in there frautic efforts to make the dear people serve the bosses,— Lebanon Express.

The people's party does not lack for practical politicians as witness the nominses and proceedings of the state conven-tion at Oregon City. It has mot the fate of all new parties. Disappointed office sackers from the old parties, in whose coula gain no re have flocked to he standard. While the greater part of its adherants are bodest and well meaning in their intentions there is a considerable element that is there for preferment and selfish motives. Among them are many who have been demograte republicans, greenbackers, independents, prohibitionists, women suffragists, and any other is in that might have been a pular fad. It is a heterogeneous crowd. -Eugere Guard,

Should the Bland seigniorage bill, which passed both houses, become a law, the coinage of the $55,000,000 of siver bullion will have to be done at the mint of Philadelphia, San Francisco, and New Orleans, the only mints in operation The Philadelphia mint could turn out $1,000,000 per month, the San Francisco mint about the same, and the New Orleans mint about $800,600. The San Francisco mint, however, has only $16,000,000 but ion on hand, and the New Orleans mint only $9,500,000 so that after the supply of these mints is exhausted the remaining $30,000,000 would have to be Philadelphia. The whole time, therefore, necessary to coin the seigniorage is approximately two years and two months.

Here's a prediction: If the Republicans run Thompson and the Populists Pierce, General Compson will march down the middle of the political buttle field as the next governor of Oregon,-Capital Journal

If the Oregon City platform is the best result of keeping in the middle of the read? the populists ought to take the sidewalk,-

Protected hop producers have sent the following dispatch to Voorhees, chairman of the senate finance committee:

of the sensete finance committee:

"The proposed reduction in the tariff on hops from 15 cents per pound specific duty to 20 per cent ad valorem, would result in great injert to a large andgrowing industry on the Pacific coast. In 1893 25,000,000 pounds were produced in California, Oregon and Washington and the coming crop in expected to yield over 30,000,000 pounds. We respectfully request you to use your best endeavors to resist such reduction. In season of low prices an ad valorem duty of 20 per cent is equivalent to placing hops on the free list, Under the to placing hope on the free list. Under the circums arces, and if a reduction cannot be obviated, the cuty of 8 cents per pound recommended in the Wisson bill would be no more than just."

There is no estimating the cheek and gall of these protected pets of the government. We have reached a point where the statement of such men as the above are to be regarded as entirely unworthy of credit. As has been shown hundreds of times before, if we can ship hope abroad and sell them at a profit in competition with for ign party were loyal to the old parties in the hops, what need of protection to our hop growers? None whatever, Are we exporting more hops than we impert? Yes, much more, ciples he then advocated and to which they For the seven months ending January 31 have now attached themselver, like animal- 1894 we imported from foreign countries 493,996 pounds and during the same time we shipped abroad and sold in foreign markets 13,824,894 pounds or about twenty eight times as many pounds as we import. These figures are taken from the "Sammary Statement of imperts and exports? for January
