Paily Democrat.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

our regular Corne Washington, March 19, 1894

What will President Cleveland do with the Bland bill for the coinage of the seign-lorage, now in his hands? There is more anxiety among democrats to have this question answered than has been observable for a long time. It involves a great deal more than the mere comage of $5,000,ogo allver dollars, for which it provides. of the tariff bill, as there are many demo-crats in both house and senate whose to become a law without his signature if a statement, "Ye can dot serve God and he feels that he cannot considentiously sign Manmon." it, and sliver demograte who have not been to the White House since the big allver Cleveland and urged as a matter of party policy that the bill be allowed to become a that a solid red onion eaten at bedtime law. The silver democrate of the west and south, how numerous they are in congrees may be seen by referring to the vote on this bill in both house and senste, many of whom supported the administration against their own to victions in securtion against their own to victions in accusing the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman alliver law, say that the veto of this bill will be accepted as proof positive by thousands of their constituents that president Cleveland is unalterably apposed to silver, and that the result would certainly be disastrous in the congressional elections.
Three members of the cabinet, secretaries
Grasham Smith and Herbert, have advised Gresham, Smith and Herbert, have advised Mr Cleveland to sign the bill. It is believed A few years ago a number scientists of that the delegation of New York bankers New England made a calculation as to the signature.

The revised tariff bill will be reported of the Senate this week, and the debate will begin Monday, April 2, This is authentic and official. No one can possibly regret the unexpected delay in getting the bill before the Senate more than the democratic members of the Finance committee, do. They have worked until they are almost in a state of exhaustion, but fresh obstacles have constantly confronted them, and as they could not be avoided they hab to be overne. Since the bill has been before the full committee, the republicans have taken advantage of every opportunity to aild to the delay, and owing to the absence of Senator Vance, these opportunities have been frequent. The fact should not be for gotten by critically inclined democrat, that when all of the members of the Finance committee are present the democrats have only one majority. With one democratic absentee the committee is a tie pulifically, It was the absence of Senator Vance that enabled the republicans on the committee to stave off the beginning of the debate until April 2.

Unless all indications are at fault, the administration will soon right a program that will cause the working democrats to enter the Congressianal campaign with enthusiasm. I cannot without violating confidence enter into particulars, but if this program he catrled out the republicans who atlil remain in federal offices, outside the classified service, would better be looking around for new jobs, unless they have money enrough to spend the summer in idleness. Those democrate who believe that the offices under a democratic administration should be filled by democrate will be pleased with some things that will occur in the near fature, unless my information is wrong,

Representative Tucker, of Va., although not yet at years old, has a right to fee proud of the part he has taken in shaping the legislation of the present Congress. Although there were several other bills providing for the same thing it was his bill for the repeal of the federal election laws that was reported, passed and whien became a law. Another compliment has just been paid the skill of Mr Tucker by the lense committee on the election of President and Vice President and Representatives in Congress, which selected his joint resolution providing for a Constitutional amendment for the election of Senators by direct sets of the people, although there were several others of a similar nature before the committee, to be favorably reported to the house. The house has been weaking faithfully on the regular annual appropriation bills and it has been making a good record, both in the quantity of business done and in the amount of money appropriated, Every appropriation has been reduced materially. law. Another compliment has just been

It is a common remark of those who have heretofore been democrats, but who have left the party and joined the popu lists, that they are still democrats in prin ciple; in fact they attempt to make the atatement emphatic by claiming to be Jefferson democrats. At the same time they claim that the democratic party has deserted its principles as enunciated in former days. No greater mistake was ever made. The populists believe in a sub treasuay scheme by which the govern ment is to loan money to land owners at two per cent, and to secure the money to meet the demands of such a scheme, the government is to issue millions upon millions of irredeemable fist paper If will decide whether the attempt now money. This was never democratic doc being made to unite the democrats in trine, nor indeed could it +e, because it congress and the administration on a basis is governmental paternalism, totally at of let by gones he by gones shall be a fail- variance with the very genius and spirit ure, or a success that will enable the party of the fundamental doctrine of democra to go into the congressional campaign of the fundamental decirate of democra to go into the congressional campaign of the transposable hope of retaining control "equal and exect justice to all men for the house. It may also decide the fate of the tariff bill, as there are many demo. populist it is necessary for one to embrace a political doctrino that was never constituents are more directly interested in any part of the democratic faith nor in ailver than in the tariff. A number of deed could it be. So the democrat who eastern democrats who did everything in has become a populist need not spend their power to prevent congress passing his breath in claiming to be a democrat the Bland bill are now advising the president for no one who understands the princi dent to sign the bill, or at least to allow it ples of democracy would believe such
