Mrs. C. L. Monson and Mrs. J. W. Swank were hostesses for the ladies of the Thursday afternoon study club this week. The ladies met at the Monson home, where the roll call was responded to with current events and Mrs. Swank read an interesting paper on "Historic Oregon." After a short discussion, Miss Lois Yates sang two solos after which the guests went next door to the Swank home, where an elaborate four-course luncheon was served at two large tables. Pink carnations and pink candles decked the prettily arranged tables and the Misses Gertrude Swank and Audrey McMeeken, dressed in pink, served. The hostesses complimented on this occasion, Mesdames S. E. Watson, W. L. Marks, Walton Worrell, O. E. Kinne, W. H. Barker, Earl Fisher, Allan Stellmacher, Fred Ward and George Sanders.

Miss Louise Wieder entertained several friends at a "chafing dish supper" the first of the week. The invited guests were: Mrs. Nelson Wilber (Payette, Idaho), Mrs. Reade Dowlin, Misses Kate Stewart, Pera Wilkins, Grace Langdon (Portland), Christine Pipe, Willetta Wright, Mae Tillman, Claire Tillman, Stella Dorgan, Velma Davis, and Louise Wieder, Messrs. L. Reade Dowlin, Hiram Torbet, Victor Olliver, Henry Volstedt, Stephens, Fred Dohmert, Gus

Abraham, Harry Fogarty, and Dr. W. B. Cook.

The Kewpie club girls met with Miss Naomi Duncan on Tuesday, at her home on West Fifth street, for a "covered dish supper." A vase of green ferns centered the dining table, from which were suspended kewpies. The place cards, being kewpies also, marked covers for the Misses Anita Conn, Esther McChesney, Velma and Alice Lawrenson, Blanche Earl, Beulah Richardson, Bessie Hoover, Alvie Millholland, Harriet Van Tassel, Hildegard Spillman and Naomi Duncan. After supper the young ladies attended the Globe theater.

In compliment to Mrs. E. W. Langdon (Portland), Mrs. J. R. Flynn, (Portland), and Mrs. Patton (South Bend, Washington), Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hopkins were hosts at dinner on Wednesday, at their home on West Sixth street. The dining table looked beautiful with a basket, filled with violets and yellow rose-buds, as center piece, and yellow nut cups and pretty violet place cards, which marked covers for Mesdames Langdon, Flynn, Patton, E. D. Cusick, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Flo, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rahn, Misses Flora Mason, Grace Langdon, and Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins. After dinner, in honor of Miss Langdon, several additional guests called and the jolly crowd passed the evening in dancing and singing. Refreshments rounded up the evening's pleasure.

On Tuesday evening the Catholic church parlors resounded with much mirth and gaiety, when the Ladies' Social Circle entertained with a Hard Times Party. The many different costumes suitable to the occasion proved much merriment and the refreshments and service were in keeping with the evening's entertainment. Messrs. Kropp, Gallagher, Shea, Mickel, M. Stevens and J. Stevens rendered a pleasing and lively musical program. Prizes for the best and most appropriate costumes were awarded to Mrs. Ben Ridders, Mrs. J. F. Dooley, Mr. Marvin Stevens and Mr. Clarence Mickel.

Miss Greta Fortmiller was hostess for the young ladies of her sewing club on Thursday. Sewing and cards were the diversions of the evening, after which a dainty repast was served. Those present were: Mrs. Nelson Wilber (Payette, Idaho), Mrs. Reade Dowlin, Misses Willetta Wright, Pera Wilkins, Mabel Schultz, Christine Pipe, Volena Smith, Kate Stewart, Stella Dorgan, Louise Wieder, Mae Tillman and the hostess, Mrs. Small and Miss Grace Langdon were honored guests.

Mrs. Beauchamp of West Third street was hostess for the ladies of the Kensington club on Thursday. The members brought their fancy-work and passed a social hour together, followed by choice refreshments. Mrs. Lau rendered several selections during the afternoon. Those present were: Mesdames McDonald, Jones Wilson, Byers, Anderson and Lau Mrs. Beauchamp of Stayton was a complimented guest.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of the World had a business meeting, followed by a social hour and refreshments, served by the hostesses Mesdames McAlpin, Duncan, Smith and Scholls. Mrs. Addie Tillman, the deputy state commander of Portland was an honored guest and spoke to the club members.

The ladies of the H. D. W. club met with Mrs. Kroschel of Lyons street on Thursday. Sewing was the pastime of the afternoon, after which choice refreshments were served. The hostess complimented on this occasion Mesdames Addie Tillman (Portland), Prettyman, and T. J. Burkhardt.

The Grace Guild study club of the Grace Presbyterian church met with Mrs. John Bryant, at her home on East Fifth street on Tuesday. After an hour of study a social time was enjoyed and at the close of the evening, dainty refreshments were served.

The Alpha Omega Girls gave a "covered dish supper" on Thursday at the home of Miss Kate Stewart. Seated around the table were: Mrs. L. Reade Dowlin, Mrs. D. W. Merrill, Mrs. Kenton Merrill, Misses Helen Hulbert, Julia Crowell, Stella Dorgan, Elsie Bain, Winnifred Austin, Lora Taylor, Marion Anderson, Janet Dawson, Mae Ballack, and Kate Stew-

Mesdames Cox and Collins were hostesses for the Elks' ladies on Wednesday. Cards was the diversion of the afternoon, brought to a close by a dainty collation.

Mrs. Marguerite Whinnery entertained the ladies of her club on Friday afternoon, at her home on East Fifth street. "500" was the game played at three tables and at the close, choice refreshments were served.

Mrs. Nelson Wilber went to Eugene this morning to pass the week end with Mrs. Glen Elkins.
