A NEW JACKSON

The finesse and erudition of Jeffer son and the courage and determina tion of Jackson seem to be happily blended in Woodrow Wilson. combination of qualities is a mighty od one for this country, especially at this critical period. And it is appreciated, as the ovation given the president on his visit to Indianapolis attested. Mr. Wilson's speech on this occasion was one of the best he has made since he assumed the presi-

Unhampered by the limitation which an official communication to congress impose, he took the who nation into his confidence, speaking straight from the heart, and his vigorous words carried a message that his countrymen rejoiced to receive. It was a declaration of war against smug pharisaism of selfish interests hiding behind a mask. That message was not pleasing to the Tor ies of Big Business in the Senatethe Gallaghers and Lodges and Burtons, who with a pretense of patriotism would throttle commerce and prosperity to serve the shipping trust. But it will strike an answering chord in the heart of every thinking citizen who has not a selfish reason for op posing the establishment of an Amer ican merchant marine.

The reactionary Republican senators have announced their purpose of talking the shipping bill to death. Under the peculiar rules of the senate-which some day an indignant country will demand wiped off the books-they can do it, but it will be at the peril of their political future. Woodrow Wilson is a fighter as well as a scholar. This Andrew Jackson of 1915 is as ready and as capable to fight a shipping trust to its death as the hero of the battle of New Orleans 100 years ago was to crush a corrup and insolent money power.

We are glad to note that Theodore Repudiates the interview with him printed in a London newspaper, in which he was quoted as making very uncomplimentary remarks about the United States' present foreign policy The storm of indignation which the interview now termed a fake aroused the Colonel that his waning popularity is not to be revived by unjustified attacks upon a government which is struggling along as best it may bereft of his direction and control.

Again that illustrious statesman and patriot, Senator Dimick of Clacktime his claim to notoriety lies in a bill which would prohibit the landowner or lessee of the landowner from feeding ducks or wild fowl. The Democrat would consider it of more direct benefit to the taxpayers if the senate would pass a bill prohibiting Dimick from feeding any more freak laws into the legislative mill at Sa-

SENDING A KITCHEN TO SAN FRANCISCO FAIR

Model Designed to Illustrate Princi Ples of Kitchen Arrangement Housewives at Fair.

Washington, Jan 22.- A complete citchen with a real stove, refrigera or, sink, work table and other neces saries is being sent by the Department of Agriculture to San Francisco for the fair. This kitchen is not model" in the sense that every ousewife is to try to make hers as nearly like it as possible, but is rather composite of many possible mode kitchens which is designed to illustrate various essential principles of convenient kitchen arrangement. The American housewife, for whose special benefit the model has been constructed, must judge from it what appliances and improvements in arrangement will best fit her peculiar nousehold needs-and those of her

One general idea emphasized by the Department's San Francisco-bound kitchen is that the size of the ordinary kitchen should be small rather than large if the room is to be used only for the preparation of meals. It should be as compact as possible to save traveling back and forth. The stove, table, and sink should be as near together as is convenient, and the distances to supplies and the dining room or pantry should be short On the floor of the model room the distances most commonly traveled in reparing and serving meals are indicated by straight lines.

"The fewer ornaments the better it housewife's workshop" is the test of another lesson of this little exhib-Corners are rounded: surfaces are possible to catch dirt which must be removed with so much effort. One feature is a table with legs that may be raised or lowered to suit the height of the worker. The refrigerator, as it stands, would never in the world recommend itself to any thrifty housewife, for one part of it is lined with solid porcelain, another with enameled steel, another with zinc painted with enamel paint. and another with unpainted zinc. However, this refrigerator preaches a sermon of its own, for the advantages and disadvantages of each particular lining are explained in labels attached. Each woman who reads may look for what suits her own refrigerator, and housewives from the North or from the South, from a high, dry region or a low, moise region may each decide which feature is most adaptable for her own use and pocketbook A stew kettle is shown in several ommon materials in the model kitch. en, but no particular make is recommended. The aim is to show sauce pans or kettles made of steel, aluminum, enamelware, copper, and earthware, and descriptive labels explain how each material excels in its own way, and its disadvantages. On the walls of the model are shown samples of the more commo floor coverings and wall finishes with tabels setting forth the relative merits and drawbacks of each. Linoleum and oil cloth have their strong points. and so have tinted, painted and un dressed wall surfaces. Varnished
