OREGON HOP GROWERS ARE NEARLY ORGANIZED

The following announcement is made by the Oregon Hop Growers' association:

"The field workers of the Oregon Hop Growers' association have about completed their work and a mass meeting will be held at the Commercial club, Salem, Oregon, on Saturday, Jan. 30, at 1 p. m. to fully inform the growers of the state of the conditions of affairs in Oregon, Washington and California. This meeting means much to the grower and those who have not signed up are very earnestly requested to be at this meeting to have the matter fully explained to them. The directors feel that no grower should miss this meeting as it means much to every individual grower."

"OREGON HOP GROWERS' ASSOCIATION,
"Fred N. Stump, Secy."

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN TO MISS NELLIE ALLEN

As a farewell party to Miss Nellie Allen, for the past two years cashier at the S. E. Young department store, the employees of the establishment met last night at the apartments of Mrs. Anna Crawford in the Knights of Pythias building. The crowd took in the moving picture shows, and afterwards had supper at the Elite. The rest of the evening was spent with Mrs. Crawford.

Miss Allen will leave shortly for her home in Sherwood to take a rest after her work in the big department store.

The drama class this evening at 7 o'clock, will consider the Irish playwright's Lady Gregory and W. B. Yeates, the plays chosen being "The Traveling Man," and "The Land of Heart's Desire." The class will be held in Albany College chapel.

Hauser Team Wins—

In a closely contested series of three games bowled last night in the Albany city league, the Hauser Bros. team won from the Leaders, taking two out of the three games played. The winners had scores of 736, 765, and 802, while their opponents rolled 685, 742, and 830.

ASKS TO BE GIVEN CUSTODY OF 4 YEAR OLD DAUGHTER

Married in 1905 in Kansas, Mrs. Estella Rogers has filed suit in the circuit court of Linn county against her husband, Irwin Rogers for divorce, alleging desertion as cause. She asserts in her complaint that they have been residents of Linn county for over a year, and that on Jan. 23, 1914, her husband left her and has not since returned. Since that time she says, he has made no effort to aid her in any way.

One child, a daughter four years old is in her possession, and she asks that she be given custody of the little girl. She asks in addition reimbursement for costs of the action.

UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR TO LECTURE HERE ON ROME

The date of the lecture was changed from Thursday night to tonight owing to the special union services which have been arranged for, for tomorrow night. The subject of the lecture tonight is a most interesting one and is well worth attending. The lecture is given under the auspices of the Albany Public Library and is free to all.

SAILS TO CONQUER SOUTH AMERICA FOR U. S. TRADE

(By United Press Association)
New York, Jan. 27.—The commercial invasion of South America begins in real earnest today when the American built and American registered steamer Finland starts out on its 16,000 mile trip. The steamer will go to the West Indies and then circumnavigate the southern continent, stopping at the principal ports and coming back by way of the Panama canal. The passengers will be prominent bankers, manufacturers, merchants, exporters and importers.

On the Finland will be a complete assortment of goods suitable for South American trade, each article bearing the "Made in U. S. A." stamp. The trip will take 106 days. Arrangements were made by the Fidelity Trust company of Baltimore and the steamer will stop at that port on January 29.

J. B. Holt, of Lebanon, was in Albany this morning.
