San Antonio, Jan. 28.—Six daily newspapers printed here in Spanish are eagerly read for news from Mexico by the big Mexican population of San Antonio and vicinity. Five thousand or more refugees are making their homes here pending final settlement of the revolutions and counter revolutions in the republic south of the Rio Grande. Of the six dailies, three espouse the cause of Carranza, two champion Villa and one favors Felix Diaz.

The Carranza consulate here announced it paid out in telegraph tolls about $1000 monthly for telegraphic advice from various Mexican points.

and exchanges with Washington. These dispatches appear in the local Carranzista papers and are copied by the opposition which interferes them in footnotes according to the Villista or Diazista standpoint. The newspapers bristle with news and comment on the Mexican situation, often going far afield for material.

La Prensa, a Villista organ, published a cablegram from Madrid reporting that a paper there through the United States government ought to intervene in Mexico in the name of the Monroe doctrine and humanity.

Intervention is deeply and sincerely hated by the Mexican refugees here. They want none of it and declare that if the United States intervene it will involve the Washington government in a great war which will eventually drag in Europe and Asia. These refugees maintain that Mexico will work out its own salvation and they prefer this method, even at the cost of many lives.

ST. PAUL CATHEDRAL TO OPEN ON PALM SUNDAY

(By United Press Association)
St. Paul, Jan. 27.—On Palm Sunday, the triumph in the life of Archbishop John Ireland will be celebrated. This will be the formal opening of the $4,500,000 St. Paul cathedral. The building of the cathedral, which has occupied several years, has been the life work of the aged archbishop.

Because of its extreme height above the business part of the city, and the fact that a street car tunnel running near the cathedral, an angle was necessary to prevent the cave in of the tunnel.

(By United Press Association)
New York, Jan. 29.—Whether Vassar "Supermen" got tired wearing 'em, or have at last admitted men to equality was debated today by college alumni who planned to attend this year's play of the Associate Alumnae of Vassar College, to be given at the Century Lyceum tonight. For the first time, the alumnae have admitted men to the cast and half a dozen male friends of the graduates will appear in leading roles, formerly taken by betrousered college girls. CARLSON HAS NO WATCH COUNTS TIME BY WORK

(By United Press Association)
Denver, Jan. 29.—Governor George A. Carlson, Colorado's new executive, has never carried a watch. His friends do not expect the mere fact that he has become governor of his state will cause Carlson to purchase a time piece as they say his idea is that time is measured by work accomplished and not by mere hours and minutes. Because of Governor Carlson's lack of a watch, one of the first things his secretary did after the new executive took office was to purchase a clock which is to be put in a convenient place so that it may at least be of interest to visitors who threaten to take up too much time.
