PROF. McPHERSON WILL DELIVER LECTURE TOMORROW

Dr. McPherson, of the O. A. C., will give his lecture at the library tomorrow night at 8:30. He was to be here last week; but was unable to meet the appointment. In a letter to A. C. Schmitt he gives the reason. He went to Salem on Thursday to work on the cooperative law. It passed the house and was amended in the senate, but in such an unsatisfactory way that the Professor set to work to get it properly amended, and entirely forgot the lecture in the excitement of the work. He will make proper amends tomorrow night.

DEER KILLED IN LAKE CLOSE TO BROWNSVILLE

Game Warden Brings Charges Against Three Men Who Give Him the Laugh.

L. B. Tyser, deputy game warden at Brownsville, arrived here this morning to appear before the grand jury against three men who killed a deer two miles from Brownsville about a week ago. The deer had been run out of the hills by dogs and was standing in a lake when the defendants found it. They fired a few shots at it, only wounding it. The deer went out at the other side of the lake, but the men had no more ammunition. Thereupon, one of the party got his horse, lassoed the deer and dragged it across the lake by the horns and proceeded to kill it with a rock. It seems that Mr. Tyser happened to pass these men as they were bringing the meat into town in their wagon, but did not discover the deed until the culprits began to boast of the trick some time afterward. Later Mr. Tyser went to the tannery at Brownsville and recovered the hide, which will be used as evidence. L. Tyser, Clare Church, Bill McLeod, and Jess Lynch appear as witnesses for the state.

GERMANS TORPEDO THREE VESSELS

Within Twenty-four Hours They Play Havoc With the Merchantmen.

ENGLAND HAS CONCENTRATED PLAN TO STOP IT

A Very Important Session of Parliament Held to Protect Merchant Marine.

(By United Press Association)
London, Feb. 24.—Three vessels were torpedoed by German submarines a few miles from the British coast within 24 hours. It is officially admitted by the admiralty that the British steamer Oakley was sent to the bottom of Folstone. The survivors are reaching the shore in small boats. They said the torpedo struck the Oakley without warning. Ten minutes after the crew entered the small boats the vessel sank. A report from the second fishing boat regarding the disaster caused the circulation of a report that two vessels were sunk; but the admiralty officials declared they were certain only one was sunk. The submarine which sent the Oakley to the bottom, it is believed, is the same which sank the Norwegian steamer Regim, and the British collier Bramersmine yesterday.

Another Steamer Sunk.
London, Feb. 24.—The British steamer Oakley was sunk off Folstone today. Whether by mine or by a German submarine is not yet known. The crew landed at Dover.

Transport Sunk.
Berlin, Feb. 24.—It was officially announced that the British transport number 192 was sunk by a German submarine off Beachy Head. There are no details of the affair given.

London, Feb. 24.—What many believe will prove one of the most momentous sessions of the cabinet since the war began will be held. As a result it is expected an announcement will be made of a concerted plan of attack by the allies to force the Germans to abandon their submarine attacks on the British, and other merchant vessels. The plan was hinted at by Asquith in the house of commons a few days ago. It is expected to be far reaching in its effect.

Will Stop at Warsaw.
Berlin, Feb. 24.—Owing to the problem of feeding the alien population here, it is learned that Germany does not contemplate an extensive conquest of Russia. Von Hindenberg, it is announced, will halt the advance at Warsaw, if successful in capturing the city.

More Russians Defeated.
Berlin, Feb. 24.—Fresh Russian troops, coming to the support of the crushed Slav armies were defeated in their attempts to assume the offensive about Prasznya, it is officially announced. Twelve hundred prisoners were taken near Prasznya, according to the statement, and the Russians are being checked in the west near Grondo. Engagements at Perthes, the statement said, were favorable to the Germans. It is claimed the German lines at Vosges have advanced and that 500 prisoners were taken.

Pushing the Germans Back.
(By United Press Association)
Petrograd, Feb. 24.—The Russians from Grondo are pushing back the Germans toward the Russian frontier in several places, according to war office statements. A big battle is said to be developing about Stainslaus, in Galicia.

London, Feb. 24.—The admiralty has practically admitted that the converted cruiser Clan McNaughton was lost in the recent storms. The official statement of the estimated casualties are 279. All hope for the vessel is abandoned, the statement said.

Our Indian War.
(By United Press Association)
Cortez, Colo., Feb. 24.—Although shots were exchanged at intervals during the past 24 hours between the Piutes and the marshals' posse, no further progress toward capturing the stronghold of the Redmen was made.

Fight Postponed.
(By United Press Association)
El Paso, Feb. 24.—Promoter Curley announced the postponement of the Johnson-Willard bout at Juarez, until the latter part of March, or the first of April.

H. S. LOGAN IS AGENT HOYDAR GOES TO FLAVEL

Popular Oregon Electric Men Receive Merited Promotions; Change March 1st.

News has just been released announcing the promotion of two Albany men in the service of the Oregon Electric. J. J. Hoydar, city freight and passenger agent, has been appointed agent for the Hill company and steamship lines below Astoria. Mr. Hoydar will leave for his new post March 1. Flavel station will be opened March 15. A big excursion will be run from Portland March 16th, to witness the first arrival of the palatial new steamship, the Great Northern, which has sailed from Philadelphia, and arrives from Honolulu on that date.

Mr. H. S. Logan has been appointed to the position of city freight and passenger agent to succeed Mr. Hoydar. Mr. Logan came to Albany in September, 1912, coming from the employ of the O. W. R. & N. Co., and holding the position of operator and ticket clerk here since that time.

Mr. Hoydar came to Albany from Madras, Or., and has been with the Hill lines for five years. Coming here July 3, 1912, Mr. Hoydar has been the first and only agent of the company in this city.

Both Mr. Logan and Mr. Hoydar have earned their promotions through hard and faithful work, and are deserving of every consideration shown by their company. Their many friends in Albany will be pleased to receive this announcement, and while congratulating them on their good fortune, will be sorry to lose Mr. Hoydar from their midst. Mr. Logan's successor has not been named.

A TALENTED COMPANY IN ALBANY FRIDAY NIGHT

Seldom if ever have Sheridan people heard more talented and versatile musicians than those comprising the Harmony Concert Co. which appeared at the Congregational church last night. The audience was large, the auditorium of the church being completely filled.

The program given by the company was thoroughly appreciated. Leota McNemry, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McNemry, delighted the audience with her unusual ability and versatility. She played the tambourine, Chinese drum, orchestra bells and castagnets. Notwithstanding her talent, the child was very simple and unassuming in manner.

ALBANY SHOTS BROKE THINGS AT CORVALLIS

In Valley Tournament Got Three First Places Out of Five in Field of Forty.

Securing about a third of the merchandise offerings and three out of the first five amateur records, was the work of the Albany newcomers who attended the big valley shoot at Corvallis. They report a great day in sportsmanship, with some fine contests in banging at blue rocks. The work of Phil Baltimore was of special interest on account of his life's work as a shot at blue rocks and birds. He came back, according to the old showing, and but for a little bad luck at one stage of the game would have landed on top in the amateur class. The record of the first five highest was: Wilson, Salem, 89; P. A. Young, Albany, 88; P. J. Baltimore, Mark Siddall, Salem, 87; W. G. Ballack, 85.

In the professional class Hugh Poston, of the Hercules Powder Co., broke 98 out of a possible 100; Holohan was next with 92. Bull hunted 82 to pieces and Reid, generally up in the 90's, only 79.

AN INTERNATIONAL SECRETARY SPOKE

Karl Lehman, a German of Boston, Tells Things of Interest.

TRAVELS FROM THE ICE OF THE NORTH TO JAMAICA

A Mission of Character Building and Service, the Work of the Secretary.

Coming all the way from Boston, the city of beans and culture, Karl Lehman, international field secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society, spoke several times in Albany yesterday, last evening at a general meeting at the Christian church. Mr. Lehman had been at the state convention in Eugene.

A good natured, full-faced German, he is a man who holds one's attention instantly. Mr. Lehman's salary and expenses are all paid by one man, a Mr. Stuart, up in Canada, and his work covers a big field, all the way from up into the frozen north, amidst the natives to the Gulf of Mexico and down into the islands beyond, as well as into Old Mexico. He therefore has had a wonderful opportunity for the real experiences of life, and in his prelude last night he told of some of them. Probably nowhere did he ever find such devoted Christian Endeavorers as in Jamaica, where crowds came as far as nine miles, in one case 35 people, through a rain, barefooted, with their shoes in their hands, to attend a sunrise prayer meeting at 6 a. m. In some cases there would be a hundred or more on the outside unable to get into the house. At one place in Alabama he found a church of 148 members, without a single person, including the preacher, who could read or write.

About the best Christian he ever met was an old man in a penitentiary, who remained when he might leave to work among the convicts, and it was said he was worth a dozen guards.

In Christian Endeavor membership he M. E. church leads the world, besides having a big Epworth League following.

In his address Mr. Lehman said there is a twofold purpose in the lives of the Christian Endeavorer: First to lead the Christian life, second, to train for efficient service. The work of the Endeavorer is to build a strong type of character, one that shall stand the encitements of an amusement loving era. This character, too, calls for a broad face, not a long one, for sunshine in the life, and joy in the service.

In Japan the cherry trees are all blossom, without any cherries, very much like the lives of many people.

Mr. Lehman spoke for the new international building going up in Boston and a liberal collection was made for it. He said though that the most liberal contributions in the world for it, had come from the Pelee Islands, about $260 a member.

Before going into the work twelve years ago Mr. Lehman was an actor on the stage, and he continues to be a good actor, with a man completely consecrated to his work.

Previous to the address last evening, a fine banquet was served in the basement of the Christian church with chicken pie as the central attraction of the menu.

PICTURES WORTHY OF A CROWDED HOUSE

The Democrat is pleased to comment on the wild animal life pictures of Salisbury, being given at the Rolfe. They are worthy of packed houses at all the sessions. Seven reels cover the marvels of the fields and forests in the lives of wild animals, birds and fish. They are not sensational pictures, but the real thing in the lives of outdoor life. With them, though are shown situations of a sensational character, such as a fight by a seven-entree pound trout, etc.

These pictures, which are being shown in all the states of the Union, are an Oregon product. The animals were taken in the hills of the Umpqua, the birds around Klumath and the fish up the McKenzie. Educational of a high order they deserve being seen.
