SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

The European war this week has been a spotted affair, all over the map, with everybody being licked, more or less, to the finish.

The U. S. along the way had a little experience too. One of its vessels was stopped for contraband and blown up by a German vessel, but even the German government says it was unjustified, and proper reparations will undoubtedly be made at the proper time.

Then down in Mexico we had a disagreeable experience. One of our citizens was riddled in cold blood, under our very flag, with the seal of the legation on the door behind which he was hid.

It is difficult for a person of common everyday reasoning faculties to appreciate how a man can be convicted of conspiracy if he is insane. That's Thaw's experience. Of course he is not insane except by order of a court; but technically he is an escaped lunatic.

There is a growing sentiment that the U. S. will keep out of the awful disturbance across the big ocean. As this grows it creates a feeling of confidence in the situation, and this helps commercial matters generally, nationally and locally.

One does well to be neutral in many of the affairs of life from the war down. There are big principles though that call for emphatic stands for what is right.

A paper down the road declares that it has had right along the backbone to say that it never did have any use for the saloon. Plenty of company that way these days.

The helpful life is not one with greed as the watchword.

IN OTHER TOWNS. Bandon is going to have a $1500 gymnasium. Bonds were voted down there by the voters of the school district, but the enterprising coach, Harold Quigley, got busy and has already raised over $900 of the amount by subscription.

Eastern capital may erect a large sawmill at Roseburg. The Roseburg lodge of Odd Fellows was 56 years old Tuesday.

Miss Opal Whitley, a 17 year old girl from the Cascade mountains above Cottage Grove, who has educated herself in the wilds of Oregon, is astounding the faculty of the University of Oregon with her remarkable knowledge.

Only two candidates have filed nominating petitions for the office of mayor of Eugene in the coming primary election, April 5. A rest cottage for the livestock men who attend the state fair will be erected on the grounds at Salem this summer.

The University of Oregon will give 350 rose slips to residents of Eugene this Fall, as a donation towards beautifying that city. The employees of the Portland, Railway, Light and Power Co., at Salem, have organized a band and made their first appearance the other day.

Sutherlin, in Douglas county, has a fine new hotel and business block, on the site of the one which burned over a year ago. From a cow pasture to a city of 800 people in seven years is the story of town. Sutherlin has paved streets and cluster lights, which give it a good appearance to the traveler passing through.

Marshfield has a good band and a high school chorus of seventy voices. Over 1200 people witnessed their Sunday concert. More irrigation canals are being dug in Klamath county.

I wish to state that while I do intend to establish a branch office at Salem in the near future, I will, with the aid of my assistant, Dr. Mitchell, who has been with me for the past three years, still continue my office here, and still consider Albany my home.
