PREDICTION OF PROSPERITY.

Another confident prediction that the country soon will enter upon a new era of enterprise and prosperity was voiced by President Wilson in a speech before the convention of the American Electric Railway Association.

Speaking to the business men and through them to the world of business generally, the president outlined what the Democratic congress tried to accomplish through its trust legislation and declared that while a test period would be required to determine whether the correct remedy had been applied, he believed "the maize of interrogation points" which had checked enterprise for 20 years had been cleared away.

With the common understanding regarding business reached, he said, henceforth nobody is going to be suspicious of any business just because it is big. He gave some of the "rules of the game" which he thought ought to be followed, heading the list with publicity—"not doing anything under cover."

"I have always maintained that the only way in which men could understand each other is by meeting one another."

"If I believed all I read in the newspaper I would not understand anybody. I have met many men whose horns have dropped away the minute I was permitted to examine their character."

"It seems to me that I can say with a good deal of confidence that we are upon the even of a new era of enterprise and of prosperity. Enterprise has been checked in this country for almost 20 years because men were moving amongst a maze of interrogation points. They did not know what was going to happen to them. All sorts of regulations were proposed and it was a matter of uncertainty what sort of regulation was going to be adopted. All sorts of changes were made against business, as if business were at fault, when most men know the great majority of business men were honest, were public spirited, were intending the right thing, and the many were made afraid because the few did not do what was right."

"The most necessary thing, therefore, was for us to agree upon the main particulars of what ought not to be done, and then to put our laws into such shape as to correspond with that general judgment. I for one have never doubted that all America was of one principle. I have never doubted that all Americans believed in doing what was fair and honorable and of good report. But the method, the method of control by law against the small minority that was recalcitrant against these principles was a thing that was difficult to determine upon. And it was a very great burden, let me say, to fall on a particular administration of the government to have to undertake practically the whole business of final definition."

Some people have chronic toxemia-fatigue.

Several streets in Louvain are to be given American names. Then if any one kicks them we'll all get mad.

"I'm not too old to start again," said 60 year old Tom Edison. Brave boy.

Big brained men never give up.

Forty-nine years in business and always kept going ahead. That's a record to be proud of.

The boy who has a purpose in life and keeps moving along clean lines need never fear the result.

Boys, if you ever see an adv. of cigarettes say "nit."

Just as much money as ever; but it needs an electric current through it.

We're itching to see the Pheasants line up.

Some one has sent the Dem. an article headed: "The Clergymen the Enemy of Country Towns. What? No? How is that?" It is written by a former minister, now president of the national indoor Game Association. He says the trouble is the minister has been against all kind of sports from the checker board to the billiard table, and young men, who are bound to have amusement of some kind, have gradually gotten out with the proposition and into associations where such things are tabooed. Of course there is a golden mean, nevertheless it is a problem that must be studied and met. Clean wholesome amusements should be encouraged, even though sometimes there is a black eye in basket ball.
