SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS

A striking feature in the European war these days is the submarine, whose maneuvers are something entirely different from what has heretofore had to be contended with. With a small periscope reaching above the water these boats sneak along quietly and are upon an enemy before he knows what is up, and then everything is up with him as soon as a torpedo strikes.

Even our friend the Oregonian calls booze an old reprobate. This was done this week in one of the neatest cartoons against the vice that has yet been seen, that of Mr. World striking the bottle with his club "prohibition," while Mr. Bottle cries, "Nobody loves me any more." This was suggested by the action in England looking to prohibition in that country at least during war, which will undoubtedly mean permanently.

One sometimes wonders if people on the earth sometime will be digging enormous canals like Mars in order to have any kind of irrigation. If there ever is a decreasing of our water supply it certainly has not yet been begun in Oregon, and, one good thing about a residence here will be the fact that we will be about the last to run out of the precious fluid.

What a wonderful machine the automobile has become. It is no longer a thing just for pleasure; but has become practically one of business and convenience. One feature of it alone is worthy of special notice, and that is the jitney in a place like Albany, with only a short line street car, hardly reaching anywhere. These jitneys on short notice take their place at a fee a poor person can afford to pay, and they do better than the street car, they come to your door. Gradually even editors will be able to have their car.

DO NOT FORGET the big auction sale of jewelry every afternoon and evening at C. O. Anderson's jewelry store.

MISFITS

The auto has come to stay and expand.

Albany has about two hundred of 'em.

The more the jokes the more the folks.

Hello; send a jkt; b-z-z-z-z; there; fare five.

Have you enough eggs for Easter breakfast?

The boy who doesn't half a dozen eggs on Easter morn hardly thinks he has had breakfast.

Some of the Easter bonnets are liable to get wet.

Now the lily is in her glory. This is her kingdom.

Sweets go with the flowers. Easter suggests the opening of the best in life and nature.

The real Easter thought is one that must make one stop and think. It is more important than new hats or flowers.

Three cleanup days. Have you cleaned?

In the big cities the auto trucks are gradually making the horses retire to the pastures.

Even in the modern war the auto plays a great game.

Whiskey is a great foe; but a good many people seem to think that they have to love their enemies.

Here's the latest: "Some one poisoned Bill Jones' Ford yesterday."

THE LIBRARY BENEFIT
CONCERT MONDAY NIGHTAlbany Lady Singers Assisted
By Miss Batchelor of Portland in the Program.

On Monday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church, will be held a concert for the benefit of the Albany Public Library. Tickets are 25c.

First the concert will be an intellectual and musical treat. Miss Frances Batchelor, the youngest virtuoso before the public today, is a musician of rare accomplishment. Miss Batchelor's program includes some of the most exquisite gems of the literature of the piano. Represented are Bach, Chopin, Brahms, Mendelssohn, Wagner-Liszt and our own American composer, Louis Campbell-Tipton. Miss Batchelor will be assisted by the chorus of women's voices under the direction of Dr. W. H. Lee, with Miss Blanche Hammel as accompanist.

Let us show our practical appreciation of the good work already accomplished by the Albany Public Library and our faith in its future possibilities. The library, as you know, has had a struggle for existence. It is now housed in its attractive commodious building, with larger responsibilities in itself and its constituency to meet which money is needed.

Go to the concert, give yourself the pleasure of an evening of poetry in sound, lend your support to the library, and let the librarian and the board of directors know that you appreciate their efforts, that you realize the value of the Public Library to the community, and what it means to Albany, especially to the young men and women, the boys and girls of the city. If you cannot go yourself, give your ticket away; let there be a crowded house, an overflowing treasury, and a rekindled enthusiasm for the "People's University" of Albany.
