BOOSTING HOME THINGS.

Back in Washington today a boom was started for Made in U. S. goods. In Oregon we have had several campaigns for made in Oregon things and products. They are worthy of notice. Even things made in Albany deserve our special attention. More things for sale in Albany should be considered first. This is our point this evening. Whatever builds up the different industries and business of the city builds up the city. The greater the loyalty to the institutions of Albany the better the conditions will be here. Every time you send away to a mail order house or go to Portland to buy your goods you take away from the things that operate to make prosperity for Albany. If Portland people would come up here to do some of their trading we might reciprocate; but they do their buying in Portland. Albany people have no excuse for going away. If the city is good enough to live in it is good enough to trade in. In fact the stores of this city are right up to date in their offerings, and no one looks better who gets her or his trolley elsewhere.

Sir Isaac Newton.

The discovery of gravitation was the first of many great ideas that came to "the greatest original thinker of all time." Newton was also the pioneer in announcing the physical properties of light. His epitaph, translated from the Latin, on his monument in Westminster Abbey describes in a few words the greatest accomplishments of Newton. It reads:

"Here lies Isaac Newton, who by vigor of mind always supernatural first demonstrated the motions and figures of the planets, the paths of the comets and the tides of the ocean. He discovered what before his time no one had even suspected, that rays of light are differently refrangible and that this is the cause of colors."

MISFITS

Not having rained on Easter Sunday Oregon is to be favored with a series of prohibition Sundays.

Albany's style shops are right up with any in the metropolitan centers, except as to prices. Here they are reasonable.

Just a little longer and the fruit will be safe. Cold raw rains are what make the buds drop.

Newspaper advertising began in 1891 and has been growing in favor ever since. It puts the business man constantly before the people.

A wire doesn't amount to much without electricity in it.
The tongue wiggles as easily as a stalk in a wind.

It is a great thing if controlled; but causes untold damage when it joins the brigade of Mrs. Gossip.

By the way examine a story as closely as you would a garment if buying one, and be sure that it fits. As a rule it is a misfit.

The divorce mill grinds just as fast as ever.

A silent tongue often saves a peck of trouble.

Death by Freezing.
It has never been clearly understood why severe cold causes death, but a variety of reasons have been assumed—the accumulation of carbonic acid, paralysis of the vasomotor centers, loss of heat, accumulation of blood in the heart owing to stagnant circulation, anemia of the brain and destruction of the red blood corpuscles.—Philadelphia Press.

Important Detail.
Bacon—I see your brother is in business again.
Egbert—Yes.
"Is it a grateful occupation?"
"I guess so, but it's hard to tell whether he'll gain money or experience."—Youkers Statesman.

Would Not Be So Cruel.
Alice—Now that you've broken your engagement with Jack, you will of course return the diamond ring he gave you? Betty—Certainly not. It would be a constant reminder of the happiness he had missed.—Boston Transcript.

One Exception.
"Two negatives are equal to an affirmative."
"Not if her father says no and the girl backs him."—Baltimore American.

The primary vocation of man is a life of activity.—Goethe.

An Eye For an Eye.
The law of Afghanistan is in theory the same as that of Mohammedan countries in general—that is, of the Koran. This is an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and enables the party wronged to avenge himself on a relative if circumstances prevent him from reaching the aggressor in person, hence revenge becomes among the Afghans a point of honor, which no man may waive except with disgrace.

They Knew.
"Now, children," said the teacher, "I've explained to you the nature of a fixed holiday. Now, give me an instance of a movable holiday."
And the class answered in chorus, "May the 1st"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Her Wavering Affections.
"Hubby, I'm in love with that hat."
"You fall in love with too many hats. If you'll promise to remain constant to that one as much as six weeks I'll buy it for you."—Buffalo News.

There never was a man so strong but strong drink was stronger.—Detroit Free Press.
