WILL SEE AMERICA FIRST.

The slogan this year is: See America First. This is going to mean much to the people of this coast, because this is the place where they will come. Those who start out to see America will want to do the great fair at San Francisco, the Yosemite and the famous redwood forests.

ALBANY COLLEGE STANDARD.

Albany College has just been declared standard by the department of education at Washington, D. C., which is an advancement that will mean much for the college.

MISFITS The person who begins by crying over spilt milk generally has opportunities right along to keep it up for life.

One might as well be philosophical and take things as they come, using their best efforts to have them come right.

It doesn't take long for the play of life to end the real and the visionary troubles.

There is a lot of satisfaction in playing a humorous part along with the serious.

A Pullman porter on the average makes $6.35 a week wages and nearly $20 in tips. Enough to tip the thing over.

Really why should one person who does a service already paid for, whether high or low, be paid extra for doing one's duty.

Anyway the business is a personal matter, and men who can afford it, with a big margin on their resources, so well to be free with their money.

Growing weather, including grass that has to be cut.

That was some style number yesterday for a small paper like the Dem

SCOTLAND'S PALLADIUM. A Famous Piece of Artillery is Ancient Mons Meg. In the most honorable location in the Argyll battery of Edinburgh castle is a huge piece of ancient artillery which is known as Mons Meg.

Mons Meg was made at Mons, Belgium, about the year 1503, by order of James IV., and was named Meg in honor of his wife, Margaret Tudor, the daughter of Henry VII. Its great bulk and weight rendered it almost worthless in those days of hand to hand conflicts.
