The largest event of the week was the military ball, given Friday night in the armory. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with large American flags, hung around the side walls and suspended from the ceiling. At the west end sat the patronesses Mesdames Asa Hart, J. K. Haight, J. J. Collins, O. D. Austin, L. L. Swan and W. M. Parker. The excellent music was furnished by the members of the Albany band, who were seated on a platform in the west end of the hall. At nine o'clock, the grand march was led by Dr. M. H. Ellis and Mrs. L. L. Swan, followed by about fifty couples. A unique feature of the evening was the demonstrations of the modern dances by Mr. and Mrs. Aug. von Roosendaal, recently of Belgium. For a number of years Mrs. Roosendaal conducted a dancing school at Antwerp but on account of the war, she was forced to give up her school and come to America.

Mrs. Charles B. Essex was a charming hostess on Thursday, when she entertained for the members of the Needlecraft club. Roll call was responded to with current events, followed by a short business session. The ladies passed the afternoon in sewing and music, the hostess favoring her guests with several vocal solos. Spring blossoms were tastefully used in decorating the rooms. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served a dainty luncheon. The club members present were Mesdames S. L. Arnold, H. N. Birchett, E. E. Burnett, L. Harris, R. Houser, A. L. Ramse, M. L. Sanders, B. Stevenson, C. L. Straney, W. W. Stuart, B. Wilson, A. S. Feltman, and C. B. Essex. The honored guests were Mrs. Rollin Hackleman and Miss Helen Essex.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward

Viereck was the scene of a charming dinner party last evening, when the Neous Nymphs girls entertained for the husbands, the hostesses presiding were Mesdames Lloyd Marquam, Rollin Hackleman and Edward Viereck, who had charge of the affair. Supper was served "cafeteria style," each guest with her partner passing to the dining room where the table was laden with tempting delicacies. Shaded candles and purple lilacs formed the artistic table decorations and through all the rooms, quantities of harmonizing spring blossoms prevailed. After supper, stunts and games were played and musical numbers were rendered by Mesdames Earl Canfield, John Bryant, Lloyd Marquam, C. B. Essex, Frank Eymonds. Later in the evening punch was served on the porch at small tables, centered with lighted candles and flowers. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Earl Canfield, John Bryant, Lloyd Marquam, C. B. Essex, Frank Eymonds, Alvin Carnegie, Joe Warner, Rollin Hackleman, and Edward Viereck.

Complimenting her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Laughead of Loma, Montana, who leaves next week for home, Mrs. H. H. Hewitt entertained a few friends on Friday. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in sewing and music, after which choice refreshments were served. The guests included Mesdames Charles Monson, W. L. Marks, J. A. W. Gardiner, Stewart Mark Weatherford, Straney, Burnett, Connor, John Bryant, Palmer, Harris, E. M. Pugh, Veal Harry Wilkins, Earl Fisher, and D. W. Merrill, C. B. Essex, McDowell, Ballantyne and John Neely.

The Beta Gamma girls gave a "covered dish supper" on Friday at the home of Miss Le Vern Hofflich. After supper the girls attended the "movies." The members of the club are: Ruth Rawlings, Elda Pettibone, Letha Cummings, Ruth Lockner, Fay King, Hazel Hall and Kamilla Kroschell.

Complimenting Miss Mary Smith, a bride-to-be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Smith, Miss Mary Hall gave a surprise "kitchen shower" to several of her friends on Friday at the Hall home on Ellsworth street. Games and music were much enjoyed, until a late hour, when dainty refreshments were served. The guests included Misses Gladys Davis, Neva Hofflich, Hazel Thompson, Elma Ohling, Jessamy Roberts (Portland), Nellie Snyder, Hazel Hocken-smith, Volena Smith, Josephine Hall, Mary Hall, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Hall. The bride-elect was the recipient of many useful kitchen utensils. The marriage of Miss Smith to Mr. Earl Boyle will take place the latter part of the month.

The girls of the Kewpie club gave a "covered dish supper" on Tuesday at the home of Miss Velma Lawrenson on West Fifth street. The dining table was prettily decorated with a basket of Easter eggs and red shaded candles. Pretty Easter place cards marked covers for Misses Anita Conn, Esther McChesney, Beulah Richardson, Blanche Earl, Hildegard Spillman, Blanche Ragan, Harriet Van Tassel, Velma and Alice Lawrenson. The latter part of the evening was passed in games and music.

The ladies of the Wednesday Book club gave a "covered dish supper" for their husbands on Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marks on Ferry street. After supper cards were played, until a late hour. The members of the club are Messrs. and Mesdames Alton B. Coates, John French, Earl Fisher, Dennis Merrill, Jess Martin, Francis Arnold, Harry Wilkins, Mark Weatherford, D. H. Brattin, Charles Monson and W. L. Marks.

A delightful affair of the week was the Twilight club meeting on Thursday when Miss Mabel Schultz entertained the young ladies at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. Reade Dowlin. Supper was served at six-thirty in cafeteria style, after which the guests passed a pleasant evening in sewing and music. The members present were: Mesdames Calavan, Riggs, Misses Fanny Colby, Bertha Braden, Margaret Stewart, Letha McCullough, Mand Bryant, Zella Burkhardt, Vera Tracy, Lottie Morgan, Minnie McCourt, Ryan, McCourt and Mabel Schultz. The honored guests were Mrs. L. Reade Dowlin, Misses Lee, Mae Lewis, Louise Blackwell, Willetta Wright and Mae Tillman.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Austin will entertain the "covered dish club" at supper tonight. After supper "500" will be the game played. The members of the club are Messrs. and Mesdames Bussard, Walworth, Reid, Junkins, French, O. D. Austin, Veal, Riggs, Worrell, A. Austin and Mrs. Hand. The honored guests will be Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Swan Mr. and Mrs. Hogan and Mrs. Brown.

The ladies of the Tell-Kare club were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. J. Q. Rodgers in East Albany, on Thursday. The afternoon was passed in fancy-work and conversation, followed by choice refreshments. The hostess complimented on this occasion Mesdames True Love (Portland), Terhune, (Plainview), Miller (Kings Valley), Meisner, Dudley and Conn.

The young ladies of class two of the domestic science department of the Albany high school entertained at a delightful eight o'clock breakfast on Thursday, in the dining room of the school. A pretty white basket, filled with apple blossoms, tied with bows of pink tulle, centered the prettily decorated table and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Finnerty, Mr. and Mrs. Boettcher, Misses Patton, Mae Lewis, Mand Miller, Willetta Wright and Mr. Stevens.

In the Swim of Style

Some clothes are just naturally born in the swim, others just try to force their way in with flashy style-kinks and loud shrieking patterns.

We cater most studiously to that class of men who believe they should be seen and not heard—who know real style from freakish innovation.

Our Michaels-Stern Clothes have the naturalness of line, the quiet elegance of design, which distinguishes the inherently smart from the merely novel and superficial.

They pay the highest tribute to the man who wears them, and we modestly add, to the store that sells them.
