A Word From Mr. Hamilton

I believe our customers are rapidly coming to see the advantages of the cash policy which we recently adopted.

I am sure it will not take long to convince everyone that cash buying and selling is the only economical plan of merchandising.

Learn to pay cash and you will unconsciously create a spirit of saving. Cash buying and a bank account go hand in hand.

YOUTH'S COMPANION TELLS OF OREGON HOUSE

The manner in which the Oregon house at the Panama exposition has attracted attention is shown by the following from the Youth's Companion:

One of the most interesting buildings at the San Francisco exposition is that erected by the State of Oregon. It commands admiration for its strength, simplicity, and beauty. The building is supported by forty-eight columns that are simply mammoth trunks of the Douglas fir—from the forests of Oregon. They are from four and one-half to eight feet in diameter. The bark has been left on, and it produces a very attractive effect, which is carried out by the rough surfaced, brown-stained boards of which the building is constructed. These forty-eight majestic columns represent the forty-eight states of the Union, and symbolize, moreover, the sturdy citizenship of Oregon, whose people come from all sections of the United States.

Each of these columns contains enough lumber to build a good sized dwelling house; they weigh from forty thousand to fifty thousand pounds.

The flagpole for the buildings is the tallest in the world—251 feet high. It was hewn from a tree 347 feet high, and weighs 93,600 pounds. There are more than 30,000 feet of lumber—enough to frame and board in five 8-room houses—in this giant flagpole. It is more than 300 years old, and it cost over $5000 to transport it and set it in place.

The flag that flies from the pole is 36 by 49 feet.

PIONEERS SHOWN AT HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

At the meeting of the Linn County Historical Society at the library last night, there was a response to only one number of the program. Mrs. S. A. Dawson presented some pictures of pioneers she had gathered for the occasion, of interest to all caring for the early days of Oregon. Those shown were photographs of U. S. Senators Dolph and Mitchell; Jas. Knox, after whom Knox's Butte was named, and a relative of Ex-President Jas. Knox Polk; Jas. Garrett, of 1845; Capt. John Smith and wife among the most prominent of pioneers; G. H. Barber, one of the county's first judges; H. L. Rudd, father of Z. H. Rudd and Mrs. J. K. Haight, of this city; Nimrod Price, now 94 years of age; Geo. Eagan; Hon. S. M. Pennington and Mr. and Mrs. Baz Cooper.

Mrs. Dawson showed a relic of her own family, a linen sampler, made by her grandmother, Letitia Smith, at Pittsburg, Penn., in 1812.

There was also an interesting group of pioneers, taken at Lebanon at a gathering there.

The Weather—
Fair tonight and Thursday. Light frost is predicted tonight. The temperature yesterday was between 63 and 34 degrees. The river fell to 3.3 feet above low water.

"MORE THAN ENTERTAINING" IS "CANDY SHOP" SAYS BAER

Miss Leane Cass Baer, dramatic critic for the Oregonian includes the following paragraphs in a column of praise for "The Candy Shop" which plays at the Albany Opera House next Sunday, April 25.

perfect in intonation and inflection. Nonchalant is the only word that will tell of William Rock's airs. He just throws himself away every minute. With Miss Fulton he dances a funeral fox trot that sends the audience into hysterics and then they dance a beautifully graceful real one.

New York Law.
(Written by Hal Sheridan for the United Press)
New York, Apr. 21.—A legacy left to New York's stage devotees of the arent and padded mit by the state legislature, which was preparing today to adjourn sine die promises a new deal in managing fiscal affairs.

BRIGHTEST PEOPLE LIABLE TO GO INSANE

The Salem Statesman has the following good one at the expense of Judge Kelly
Judge Percy Kelly of Albany, who is holding court in this city, admits that he is not an expert on insanity and grants that Sheriff Williams, Each may be familiar with mental maladies. Nevertheless, the judge is inclined to believe that people of intelligence are those most liable to become insane.

In defense of his argument he says that about a year ago Sheriff Each arrested a man who by his loud and unseemly conduct was making himself a nuisance. The man demanded a lawyer and was particular, saying he wanted Judge Kelly, who was the finest attorney in the state, or in the United States, or even in the world.

Mike Donovan, veteran trainer and up to a few months ago boxing instructor at the New York Athletic club, has been an active candidate for appointment as one of the new commissioners. Donovan's application has the signature of endorsement of many financiers. He was once star middleweight boxer and is a civil war veteran. He was recently retired by the N. Y. Athletic club.

Those in the know here do not believe that an attempt will be made by fight promoters to boost admission prices because of the proposed extra state tax. They are chiefly anxious regarding the attitude of the Commission on regulations of boxing matches and, particularly, the question of granting permits to new clubs.
