

Great Windup of the Young Closing-Out Sale

Watch tomorrow's Democrat and our circulars for the extraordinary last-week bargains in this Great Sale which ends May 1

YOUNG'S

L. E. & H. J. HAMILTON, Successors
"ONE WAY ONLY—FOR CASH"

RETURNED FROM A TRIP TO NEBRASKA

Stanley Keith returned this morning from a trip to Nebraska, one in which he had quite an experience. A sister died in Deer, leaving a husband, given to intoxication, and three children. Mr. Keith succeeded in getting possession of the children, after considerable trouble with the father. He was greatly aided by the celebrated Judge Ben Lindsey. Then he took them with the body of their mother to Grand Forks, Neb., where the remains of the sister were buried, and the children were placed in the care of other relatives. Mr. Keith, a former clerk in the store of L. E. & H. J. Hamilton, went to Blodgett this afternoon for a visit with his folks, when he expects to return to the mercantile business as a clerk.

DENIAL OF STATEMENT ABOUT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

F. Elmo Robinson, of Portland, Says Christian Science Does Not Deny Christ.

Portland, Ore., April 24.
To the Editor of the Albany Daily Democrat: Your issue of April 15 contained the report of an address delivered in Albany recently, in which the speaker said, "Christian Science has the bias of the serpent, because it denies Christ." This is such a gross misrepresentation of what Christian Science actually teaches that I am asking the courtesy of space in which to reply.

If it were true that Christian Science "denies Christ," we could quite readily agree with the speaker that it "has the bias of the serpent." Our brother would have been quite correct had he said that Christian Science denies some of the teaching of scholastic theology concerning the Christ. This, however, is very far from a denial of Christ. From the religious tenets of Christian Science—which first announce Christian Scientists' belief in the inspiration of the Bible and in the one infinite God—we read the following: "We acknowledge His Son, one Christ; * * * and we acknowledge that man is saved through Christ, through Truth, Life, and Love as demonstrated by the Galilean Prophet in healing the sick and overcoming sin and death" (Science and Health, page 497). On page 192 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy further says, "We are not Christian Scientists until we leave all for Christ." From these quotations, it must be quite apparent that Christian Science does not deny Christ. It does not even deny the Christ by limiting his power to the healing of sin, but acknowledges that the Christ, here and now, heals both sin and disease.

Oregon Boy Makes Good.

Corvallis, April 26.—The appointment of G. V. Copson, of Corvallis, Oregon, to an assistant professorship in the Agricultural College, calls attention to the present day opportunity to achieve honorably success by care and diligence. Mr. Copson is now studying in Germany under the supervision of the world's greatest specialists in bacteriology and will return in time to take up his new duties in the college where he was so recently a student before the next semester opens. Neither he nor the college authorities, who are well pleased to have him join their forces, believe the pessimistic dogma that our country no longer offers chances for success.

Bought a Dray—

J. S. Rankin has bought the dray outfit of Everett McKinney and will hereafter run the Hub dray. He is a reliable man who may be depended upon for prompt work.

An Ingenuous Circular—

Most of the men of Albany this morning received a circular from a Portland liquor shop. One of the questions is "Do you drink rye whiskey?" Then there are three other blanks, with an envelope, all in one sheet, a very ingenuous arrangement. On the top in big letters are words "Rush." An appropriate word for things connected with Mr. Rye, which generally means a rush heading downward.

Spent Sunday in Albany—

Hon. and Mrs. A. Blevins, of Corvallis, were in the city yesterday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Lewelling. They had been out to their former home town Tangent for a visit.

President Frank McAllister—

At a meeting of the commercial club of Eugene Saturday night, Frank N. McAllister was elected president for the ensuing year. He is a live wire. McAllister is a former Albany young man, at one time an Albany College student, and has been making good right along.

Head Consul Boak—

Head Consul I. A. Boak, of the Woodmen of the World, passed through the city yesterday on the Shasta Limited, going to Portland. He has been head consul ten years, a very popular lodge official.

Monday Night Bible Class—

The lesson tonight is the 20th chapter of the Revelation. This is a very interesting chapter, and the hour between 7:30 and 8:30 will be an hour of profit. United Presbyterian auditorium. All welcome.

Good Hat Window—

A big tire with a sign inside at the Blain Clothing company's, attracts attention. It reads: "You auto tire of your punctured hat. Around it are all kinds of straw hats."

Tax Commission Here—

Chas. V. Galloway, state tax commissioner and Wallace Benson, son of the late ex-Governor Benson, of the tax commission, are in the city today from Salem. Mr. Galloway returned on the noon electric, but Mr. Benson will remain a day or two to do some special tax work for the commission.

Eorn—

At the home of W. T. Pockrus, Water street, an eight pound boy. The young man arrived this morning and is getting along nicely, as is his mother.

Wants Hotel Names—

The Portland Automobile Association, which has undertaken the publishing of the "Oregon Scenic Book" to be distributed at the San Francisco fair and elsewhere, pointing out the high ways, points of interest, etc., has asked the Albany Commercial club for a list of the hotel and garages located here and in nearby towns.

HANDSOME RED MEN AT ROSE FESTIVAL

Portland, April 26.—Sixteen of the most picturesque Indians of the Blackfoot tribe, who make their home in Glacier National Park, in Northwestern Montana, will come to Portland for the Rose Festival as the guests of Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway. Mr. Hill has sent the Glacier Park Indians on many trips over the United States the last two years to call attention to the new national playground, and other scenic wonders of Montana, Oregon and Washington with a view to attracting tourist travel to the Pacific Northwest.

His efforts have been most successful and last year more than 30,000 people visited Glacier National Park. Many were prevailed upon to continue their journey to include Seattle, Spokane, Portland and Tacoma, and the many interesting side trips from these cities. Mr. Hill believed that the presence of these handsome Red men, with their women folks and children all in war paint and feathers, would serve to make people in all walks of life ask questions. It did with the result that thousands of tourists who have been in Oregon and Washington the last two years were attracted to the Northwest by the unique publicity methods of Mr. Hill.

in his work of exploiting Glacier National Park.

The Blackfeet Indians will pitch their teepees near the Festival Center, hold daily receptions, take part in the parades and give an exact reproduction of the primitive life of the Blackfeet before their reservation in the Montana Rockies was taken for a National park.

Southern Commercial Congress.

Muskogee, Ill., April 26.—Officials in all branches of the government service and prominent citizens of the Southland have prominent places on the program of the sixth annual convention of the Southern Commercial Congress, which convened here today. Senator Fletcher, of Florida, president, presided.

Various experts are here to discuss development of Dixie along agricultural, manufacturing, and industrial lines. Rep. Moss, of Indiana, will tell of the administration's rural credit legislation program. Sen. Ransdell, of La., president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, and Mrs. Julian Heath, of New York, president of the National Housewives League, are among the other speakers. A greeting upon opening of the Congress was received today from President Wilson.

Miss Lila McCoy spent Sunday at her home in Brownsville and returned to Albany this morning.

Hon. W. P. Elmore came over from Brownsville this morning.

True Economy Consists in Wise Buying

"Bargains" often turn out "Lemons" First of all comes "Reliability."

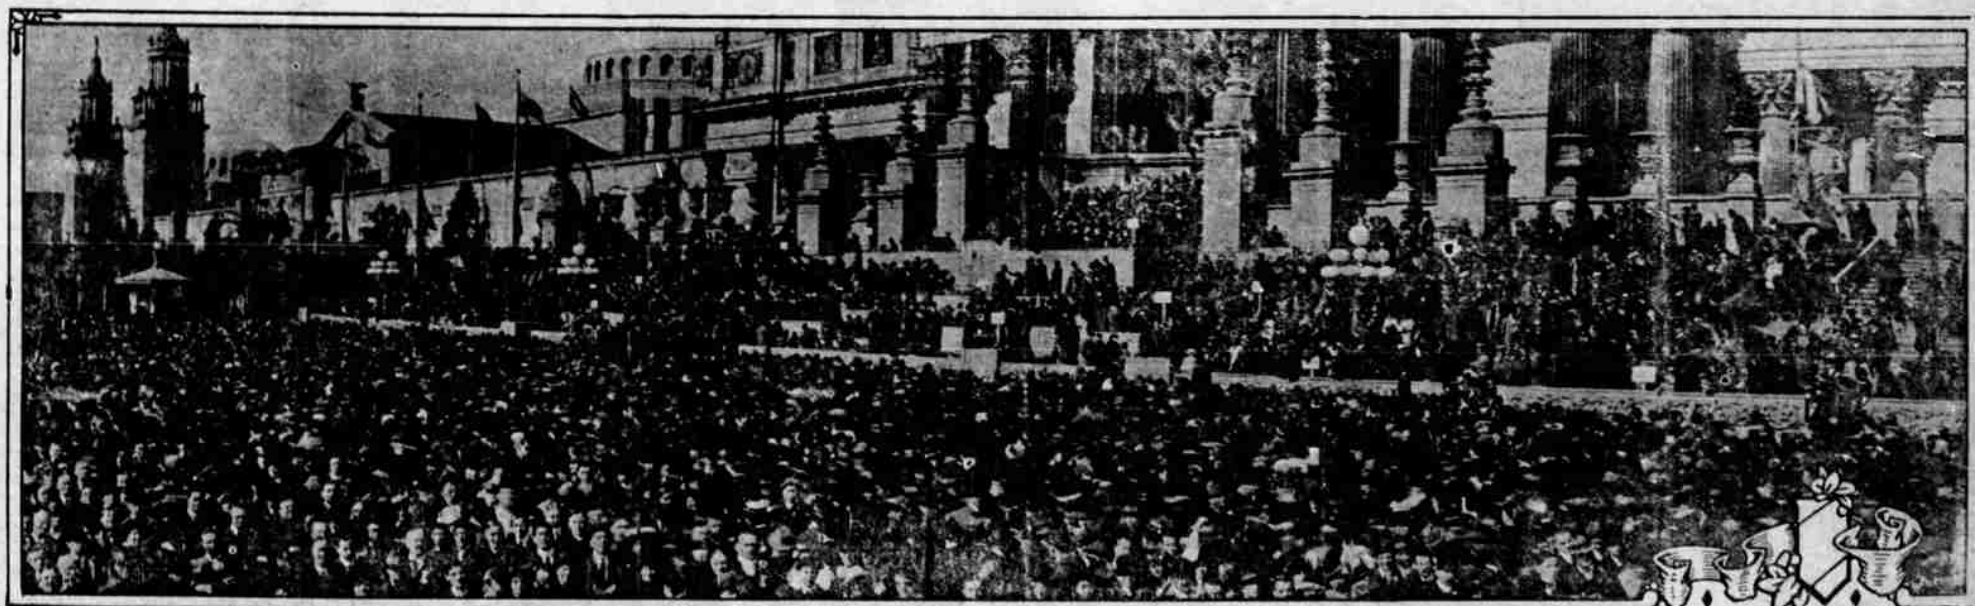

No line of socks sold under the maker's own name is as extensively bought as "Interwoven." It's an honest, full value article—the best wearing sock made—bar none.

Millions Visit World's Great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco

ALL RECORDS FOR ATTENDANCE BROKEN BY MARVEL EXPOSITION CITY AT THE GOLDEN GATE.

VAST CROWD GATHERED BEFORE THE HUGE TOWER OF JEWELS. ARE YOU GOING TO VISIT THE HUGE EXPOSITION?

THIS remarkable panoramic photograph shows part of the vast crowd that gathered on the opening day of the Exposition, Saturday, Feb. 20. The crowd was not only the greatest ever brought together in the west, but in vastness it broke all previous exposition attendance records. The grounds were thronged with visitors from every part of the globe, and the big attendance still continues. The opening day crowd was remarkably peaceful, and no arrests were made by the Exposition guards or military during the day, and but one child was lost, and it was returned to its mother within fifteen minutes. There were no accidents. The photograph above shows, on the left, the Italian towers guarding the entrance to the Court of Palms, next the Palace of Varied Industries and in the center and on the right the huge grand stand built before the Tower of Jewels. Here Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, acting in behalf of President Wilson; President Charles C. Moore of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Dr. Frederick J. V. Skiff, director in chief, accompanied by the thirty Exposition directors, welcomed the vast throng that assembled in Van Ness avenue and its lateral streets and, headed by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., walked on foot through the streets of the city and into the Exposition grounds through the Scott street entrance to the grand stand. At the time this photograph was taken Lincoln Beachey, aviator, had just appeared above the horizon in his flying machine, and the throng was awaiting Mr. Beachey's approach to circle the huge Tower of Jewels. Since the opening day the Exposition has been crowded with visitors from all parts of the world. Low railroad rates, the sunny skies of California and the opportunity to see the wonderful displays of the forty-two nations that are participating in the Exposition are drawing thousands to the Exposition city at the Golden Gate.
