SEC. REDFIELD OPTIMISTIC.

An address by Secretary of Commerce, Wm. C. Redfield, at Indianapolis, this week, is a strong endorsement of the work of the present administration. He denounced the calamity howlers of the country and strongly defended the policies of President Wilson's administration.

He also defended the tariff, lauded the federal reserve act, declared that the Clayton anti-trust law and federal trade commission act have made plainer the way of the business man and asserted that in the condition of the country today "there is no happiness for those who would do evil to the administration."

The secretary quoted several newspaper articles to show that the country was on the way to prosperity and paid caustic respect to "purveyors of pessimism."

"Those preachers of poverty for personal purposes," he said, "will in due time go to their own places unwept, unhonored and unsung followed by the deserved curses of the deceived, falling into the limbo of the muckraker preceded them. These are they who in secret places speak evil of they who have brought the country through the most terrible commercial shock in its history and landed her safe and strong upon the peaceful shores of prosperity and influence."

The secretary and the country had evinced its faith in the democratic party by returning a democratic house of representatives. The foes of democracy, he said, could find small comfort in the reduced majority of the democrats in its next congress.

"Our party has kept its faith," he continued. "It has not been given orders by the people to revise the tariff downward only to answer by revising it upwards. One thing at least no one dares say about the tariff law, namely that it was prepared by anybody in his own interest. Never was there a measure of any kind more free from personal taint more purely intended for public as distinguished from private purposes." The secretary declared that the tariff was not a factor in "depressing business conditions," and that under the Underwood bill "we have gained something of industrial self respect."

The federal reserve law, he said, has released into the channels of trade vast sums formerly unnecessarily held back as revenues and has taken away the basis of fear that produces panics.

"Let us face the question of business legislation, boldly, for concerning it there is naught we have to fear. We have made plainer the way of the honest business man, or opponents themselves being witnesses, the Clayton law and the federal trade commission law are good."

"Let it be that criticism shall come," he concluded. "We shall be the better for it; but let it be that the criticism will fall of its own folly. If it is so the criticism will do us good. And when we shall approach in the coming year the decision of the future, let it be approached, not with a scowl or a whine, not with the partial statement of half truths, but let the facts be known in all their roundness to the American people, and then, in God's name, let the best man win."

MISFITS

The editor of Puck, of New York, quit joking long enough yesterday, to be married. He'll find marriage is no joke.

We have heard of town pumps Tulsa, Ok., has a town pipe organ.

Albany is good enough for anyone who is good enough for it.

An exchange says a man's oath is no better than his word. His word ought to be as good as his oath. Some men, though, fear the consequences of perjury.

A carpenter says the farmers are now the ones making the biggest improvements. See the point.

With more factories resuming work all over the country the signs are on the right kind of a grade.

Really Barnes was a foolish man to kick because T. R. talked about him. When a man says mean things about you send him a croma.

Name calling never amounts to peanut shucks, and slander is often back-biting.

We do well to live so as to give the public no grounds to talk, and yet if a person does anything in the world, he is bound to make enemies, and enemies have a way of using their tongues.

As a rule water seeks its level in human affairs as well as in nature.

May basket evening.

Look Out! Frost!

The weather forecast for the next 24 hours says fair tonight and Saturday. Light frost tonight. The state was hit by a heavy windstorm yesterday, but little damage is reported. It is not thought that any fruit or grain crops were injured. In some places snow and hail fell. The rainfall here yesterday was .01 inches. The temperature was between 55 and 34 degrees. The river dropped to 24 feet above low water.

Advertisement for Sewer Construction

Sealed bids will be received by the Council of the City of Albany, Oregon, until 7:30 o'clock p. m. May 12, 1915, for the construction of an eight inch lateral sewer beginning at the manhole in Oak street trunk sewer, midway between Seventh and Eighth Streets, and running thence easterly across Block 1, across Pine street, and 168 feet into Block 2, all in Hackleman's Woodland Addition to the City of Albany, Oregon.

Said sewer construction to be made in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the City of Albany and the plans, specifications and estimates of the City Engineer on file in the office of the Recorder, where plans may be seen and specifications and estimates obtained.

Bids will be opened at 7:30 o'clock p. m. May 12, 1915.
No proposal or bid will be considered unless accompanied by a certified check payable to the City of Albany in an amount equal to five per cent of the aggregate bid to be forfeited as fixed and liquidated damages in case the bidder neglects or refuses to enter into a contract and provide an approved bond in the sum of $175.00 for the faithful performance of the work within ten days after notification of awarding of contract to such bidder.

All bids must be made with a view of completing the construction of said sewer prior to the 1st day of July, 1915, under a liquidated penalty of $2.50 for each day of delay beyond that period.

All bids should be addressed to "Recorder of the City of Albany," marked "Proposal for the construction of lateral sewer commencing at manhole in Oak Street sewer between Seventh and Eighth Streets and running easterly into Blocks 1 and 2 of Hackleman's Woodland Addition to Albany."

By order of the council,
F. E. VAN TASSEL,
Recorder of the City of Albany.
