ROOSEVELT AGAIN.

There is pretty good authority for the statement being circulated that Col. Roosevelt will again be in the campaign for president, with adequate defense as his slogan. It is said that he will push this to the limit. This will be in keeping with Roosevelt's past record. His mind has run into channels of war, and this seems to be first in his mind. But why? For a long time Canada and the United States have lived on close terms of intimacy without the signs of a fort between them. The European style would have been to have had enormous forts along the line on each side. We have been better without them. Perhaps a reasonable defensive equipment is proper. But the United States will do well to keep within limits. We are already spending in waste an enormous amount in connection with war preparation and equipment, and have been for years, a colossal waste. Do not get frightened. If the U. S. ever has trouble with other nations it will be present with a defense that will be an eye-opener to the world. There is a golden mean in all things, and this is one of them. Forts and big equipment breed war. Peace demands the proper signs. It would be a great mistake to have Mr. Roosevelt president these times. It is a great blessing to have Woodrow Wilson president at this time.

EXCEEDING SPEED LIMIT.

Down in Portland there were three deaths from automobile accidents in three days. Now there is a campaign against speeding and Judge Stevenson is kept busy fining offenders. The campaign is a timely one. The automobile if it strikes a person is just as dangerous as a train of cars. It kills, and that is all the engine can do. Therefore, it takes no reasoning at all to appreciate the fact that an automobile inside the limits of a city should be made to go at a reasonable rate, under no circumstances over about fifteen miles an hour. At that rate a car is under good control. At thirty miles there is constant danger. Pedestrians have a right to be protected, and the authorities in Portland, Albany and everywhere else should see that they are. In this city most of the drivers respect the law, and care is generally observed. The fact that there has never been a serious accident speaks for this. Here is a place to touch wood, for these things occur before one is aware of it, and there are regrets for life. Even those who exceed the speed limit as a rule do not do so maliciously, but carelessly.

MISFITS

It looks very much as if the Gulf-light was torpedoed because in the company of a couple of British boats, following them, evidently being mistaken for a Briton.

Clean up, paint up, keep up, brush up, pay up.

The war is costing England $200 a minute, a billion and a half a year, figures that startle.

Cello and Or. C. locks have been thoroughly opened, and to stay.

Judge Stevenson is after reckless Portland auto speeders. Too many serious accidents to suit the judge.

River rates have dropped a cent a hundred.

The war is a neck and a neck affair, and all are getting it in the neck.

Last month of the school year, with a long vacation ahead. Prepare to make it a useful one, not a useless one.

Recreation is a good thing; but waste is worthless.

Too many never look ahead as far as the next rainy day, which is sure to come.

Albany continues to be a center for numerous things, including railroads.
