Cash Buying Is the Straight
Route to the Lowest Cost

Since we have put this new cash selling and cash buying policy into effect we have found out the merchant that pays cash for his goods commands the lowest prices from his manufacturer and mill. He is ready to grasp many of the unusual opportunities of buying special lots of merchandise, "way under the market." When the manufacturer makes a concession he wants to find the merchant who has ready cash. Selling for cash in turn offers the same advantages for the customer. The unusual low prices we have made on standard merchandise since we have been in our new store, demonstrates more forcible than words, that cash buying is the short route to "Lowest known cost."

A Message of Real Economy
IN WOMEN'S SUITS

More new suits, with their stamp of individuality—that quality of material and finish, that is making Hamilton's ready to wear garments so popular in Albany.

New suits, mostly one and two of a kind. Suits from New York's cleverest designers, beautifully tailored and lined. Also plain tailored, straight line suits in plain and hair line effect. You will say that cash buying is the best thing yet when you see these suits. Priced $19.50—$21.50—$25, and as high as $37.50
