The home of Captain and Mrs. L. A. Wood, a mile south of town, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, when their daughter Miss Mary Crossman Wood was united in marriage to Mr. Norman Hindes, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hindes. Rev. Mr. Allyn Eason performed the ceremony in the presence of fifty guests. The rooms were prettily decorated for the happy event with roses and greenery. An em-bankment of white roses and greenery with a background of the stars and stripes made a beautiful setting for the attractive bridal party to stand.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and was prettily gowned in white roses. Mrs. Wood, the bride's mother, was matron of honor and looked charming in champagne charmeuse and carried roses. Misses Christine Wood, a sister and Miss Emma Houson were bridesmaids and were becomingly gowned in pink and carried pink roses. Little Miss Virginia Wood, a five year old sister of the bride, dressed in a chic white frock, was ring-bearer. Little Miss Fanny Wood, another sister, eight years old, was flower girl. She wore a dainty white dress and scattered rose petals in the path of the bride.

Miss Lillian Dunn played the wedding march.

Mr. Charles Wood, a brother of the attractive bride, served the groom as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held where the happy couple received congratulations from their friends, followed by an elaborate collation.

The bride has been a resident of Linn county for four years, she and her family having come here from Maine. Her father, Captain Wood, is a former sea captain. The groom formerly lived in Illinois, but for the past few years has resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hindes, about four miles south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Hindes left for a short trip and upon their return will reside on a farm adjoining the groom's father.

A very pretty wedding ceremony took place Tuesday evening at eight thirty at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, eight miles east of Albany when their daughter, Miss Pearl Smith was united in marriage to Mr. Archie Metzgar of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Leech in the presence of relatives and a few friends of the couple. The bride was charming in a gown of white lace voile, daintily trimmed in lace. Her long tulle veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Frances Pettibone, as bridesmaid, was dressed in pink and carried pink carnations. Mr. Edmond G. Anderson, of Corvallis, served the groom as best man. Miss Elda Pettibone, of Corvallis played Mendelssohn's wedding march. After the ceremony a reception was held, followed by refreshments. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Metzgar left at a late hour amid rice and the good wishes of their friends for a week's trip, after which they will make their home in Albany.

On Thursday afternoon at two-thirty, Miss Margaret M. Porsal of Salem was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Ohling, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Ohling of Albany, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Porsal of Salem. Rev. Mr. James Elvin of the First Congregational church performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only a few friends and relatives.

Miss Isabelle McGilchrist was maid of honor and Mr. Merrill Ohling served his brother as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Ohling left for a short trip north and upon their return to this city, will reside on Walnut and Ninth streets.

The members of the Kill Kare club motored out in the Short, Long and Rodgers cars on Thursday, to the home of Mrs. Roy McFarlan, six miles in the country. A business meeting was held, in which Mrs. Ollie and Mrs. Nona Meisner were elected new members into the club. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in needlework, conversation and music. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Wood, served refreshments on the shady lawn. Mrs. J. McGuire and Miss Gladys Sharp were complimentary guests. An ideal day, good roads and one of the most beautiful homes in Linn county, made the afternoon very pleasant to the guests. The ladies returned to Albany about six o'clock.

On Wednesday, a merry crowd of young folks gave a picnic across the river. A bonfire was made, where supper was cooked, after which games and singing furnished the amusements of the evening. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Homer Moore, Misses Willetta Wright, Mae and Claire Tillman, Velma Davis, Pansy Colby, Pera Wilkins, Christine Pipe, Greta Fortmiller, Kate Stewart, Mabel Schultz, Stella Dorgan, Messrs. Henry Vollstedt, Clarence Stevens, Ora Barker, Fred Dohmert, Gus Abraham, Ray Kinsey, Hiram Torbet, Elmer Williamson, Victor Olliver, Ralph Cronise and Ralph Stewart.

Miss Fannie Fromm was a delightful hostess on Thursday, when she entertained a few of her friends at luncheon, in the dining room of the high school. Roses centered the prettily adorned table and the privileged guests were Misses Lulu Heist, Zelpha Galloway, Margaret Mann, Laura Anderson, Vesta Lamb, Minnie Heinrich, Freda Koch, Martha Sexauer and Dena Fromm. Misses Hamel, Anderson and Beatrice Hanke served. Miss Jessie Singleton and Miss Mary Jones were in charge of the kitchen.

The Albany Retail Merchants' gave a banquet on Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Hotel St. Francis. Hawthorne blossoms centered the table and covers were laid for about thirty men. After supper the men adjourned to the public library, where they held a short business session and were entertained with a lecture by Mr. E. M. Underwood of Portland.

The Rural Ladies' club met with Mrs. Charles Ashton on Thursday. The members brought their sewing and passed a few pleasant hours together in a social hour, followed by choice refreshments. Those present were Mesdames Shirley, Ralston, Will Looney, Virgil Looney, McFarland, Barber and Miss Florence Robinson (Tangent), Mrs. George Hindes and Miss Floyd Hanchett.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church met yesterday, in the church parlors. Miss Elizabeth Merrill gave a splendid talk on "Playgrounds and Pagodas," which was followed by a short program, social hour and refreshments.

Mrs. Frank Skipton was hostess for the Artcraft club members on Tuesday. Sewing was the pastime of a pleasant afternoon, after which a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room, the table being prettily decorated with roses. Covers were laid for twelve.

The "Epicurean Club" gave a "covered dish supper" on Thursday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Riggs. The latter part of the evening was passed in playing cards. The members of the club include Messrs and Mesdames L. H. Fish, Summers, S. E. Watson, G. M. Jenkins, A. J. Hodges and G. E. Riggs.

Mrs. A. G. Minton and Miss Blanche Hammel entertained the D. P. M. Girls of the Methodist Sunday school on Tuesday at the home of the former on Maple street. Sewing furnished the evening's diversion and at the close a dainty repast was served.

Mrs. Ralph Knotts was hostess for the Thursday Book club ladies this week. Mrs. A. G. Hockensmith gave a splendid talk on "Yellowstone Park." A social hour followed and dainty refreshments rounded out the afternoon's pleasure.

On Wednesday the Women's Missionary Society of the Christian church met in the church parlors. A short business session was held, which was followed by a short program and a social hour.

The Business Men's Bible Class gave a banquet and business meeting, in the dining room of the Methodist church on Wednesday. Mr. Joseph H. Ralston gave an interesting talk on "Municipal Ownership."

The Berean class of the Christian church, held a business meeting meeting and social in the church on Tuesday. A short program was given, after which choice refreshments were served. This class is composed of young married people.
