HAVE EQUAL CHANCE.

A recent editorial in Puck is attracting wide attention. Here it is: Dr. Bernard Dernberg, special envoy to this country recently said:

"There will never be any universal peace until the German people have the same chance and the same right to branch out as have the people of other nations."

Since William II threw his hat in the ring last August, we have heard this statement repeated time and again by the Kaiser's spokesmen. What does it mean, if it means anything at all?

What Tantams has dangled a dream of empire before Germany's eyes and cried:

"See, here is something you cannot have."

The two greatest steamship lines in point of tonnage in the world fly the German flag. They were, previous to the war, welcomed without let or hindrance at every port in Christendom with their cargoes of German-made merchandise.

No anti-German straddles any harbor entrance within our knowledge. Denying Germany a realization of her commercial ambitions.

The German drummer covers every trade route in six continents, and his offerings are eagerly taken by the shopkeepers of all lands. No one has heretofore shown him the door because he was German; in fact, his goods were preferred above all others in many rich markets where American-made goods are unknown.

Is this depriving Germany of a place in the world's commerce?

And in every country subject to the tide of immigration, you will find the German colonist, quiet, industrious, and honored in his community. Nowhere is this more pronounced than in America, where the heaven of German efficiency serves to increase the productivity of some of our most important spheres of industry.

Assuredly, this is not denying to the German "the same right to branch out as have the people of other nations."

Dr. Dernberg's statement does not ring true. It smacks of an endeavor to create the impression that the people of the earth are in league to crush Germany's commercial expansion. Nothing could be more preposterous. As a matter of fact, the war itself has done more in ten months to shatter Germany's foreign expansion than Great Britain could have accomplished in a lifetime.

Is it not just possible that the Prussian war party in repeating this piece of fiction to the sturdy German manufacturer in the hope that he will dig deeper into his chest for more gold with which to feed the dogs of war?

If Washington is growing restive under Dr. Dernberg's propaganda, he has only himself to thank. America asks only to hear the truth.

MISFITS

The following is sent in by a First street merchant who appreciates a good thing: "With a jitney bus for the motor car and the movies for the theatre, why should any man take on riches and responsibility?"

An Albany woman living out in the suburbs, some distance beyond the city limits, sends for a jit and gets to town for only 10 cents, and reaches home the same way.

Newspapers do well to always show their neutrality; but universal loyalty to their own country that's unmistakable.

These big dirigibles are certainly annoying. They do not do very much damage; but they cause a good deal of trouble and nervousness.

There is a golden mean between Roosevelt and Baron Dernberg.

The strawberry is certainly entitled to admiration this year. Rained on, sprinkled with mud, often under a cloud, the berry has come out day after day smiling, and as bright as a dollar after being placed under the hydrant.

This column is yours. If you hear a good, clean joke, or anything else worth while, send it in by phone, note or jit.

Misfits is going to stick to the ext: Keep out.

Pared These Tires

Suppose this All-Weather tread—now double-thick—was pared to the thinness of the usual anti-skid. Would it endure like this one? Or so resist puncture?

Suppose we used—as some do—one less fabric ply. Or made the whole tire lighter. Suppose we omitted our exclusive features:

Our No-Rim-Cut feature—
Our "On-Air" cure—
Our rubber rivets—
Our 126-piano-wire base.

All rivals do omit them. All of them are costly. Our "On-Air" cure alone costs us $450,000 yearly to save needless blowouts. But could Goodyear Fortified Tires retain top place if we did not give those extras?

It is due to yourself that you this year join this army of contented tire users. It is by far the largest army in Tiredom. Any dealer will supply you. (231)
