STEADILY EXPANDING.

Dun continues to be optimistic as to the general trend of commercial improvement in the U. S. Here is the weekly report:
Steadily expanding industrial operations—due mainly, but not wholly, to the big war demands—have a stimulating effect generally, although many uncertainties of the foreign situation make for caution everywhere. Hesitancy in new enterprise, however, does not imply any lack of confidence in the future, but rather a disposition to await further developments in regard to this country's diplomatic relations with Germany. Fundamentally, domestic conditions gain in strength; gold is again flowing this way and the banking position is unusually sound, with ample funds available for all requirements; collections are somewhat less difficult, on the whole, and, while credits are still closely scanned, commercial failures during May made much the best exhibit of the year. Moreover, the purchasing power of the people is enhanced as the number of unemployed diminishes—more men finding work as activity at the mills and factories revives—while another prosperous season for the agricultural community is indicated by the favorable progress of the crops. Prospects for large traffic movements in grain and other staples prompt the transporting companies to enter the market more freely for needed equipment, and buying on the part of these interests, together with the urgent war demands, results in continued improvement in iron and steel. Production is not only maintained at the recently increased rate, but in some instances still further expands, and while quotations lack uniformity, the general tendency is upward. Offering of price concessions has accompanied the return to dullness in copper and tin is easier because of heavy arrivals, but the other minor metals are notably strong, with spelter ruling much higher than ever before. Elsewhere industrial conditions reflect irregularity, whereas woolen and worsted manufacturers are in need of new domestic orders to keep machinery occupied. The shortage in dyestuffs remains a handicap at the textile centers and is leading to sharp advances in values, particularly on black prints and indigo blue goods. Although wool rules at a high position, there is trend toward even greater firmness, with a renewal of speculation and active trading in the new clip in the West.

At few footwear shops are in receipt of a larger volume of contracts, and shipments are increasing, while leather, though quiet for the present, gives promise of an early resumption of activity. Trading in hides has diminished somewhat, but former strength is maintained, full quotations being obtained on fair-sized transactions. In strictly mercantile lines weather conditions have had a deterrent effect on the distribution of reasonable merchandise at retail, particularly in the East, yet this is a temporary influence and demands should broaden when temperatures become more normal.

MISFITS

The following actual story is told on an Albany physician. The Dr. upon returning home after visiting a patient sat down to his piano and played a funeral march.

Sometimes we think it is cloudy recently in this garden spot of the world. Recently in Minneapolis a six year old boy saw a spot in the sky and cried: "What's that bright thing in the sky, pa?" "That, why, it's the sun."

The man who sleeps at his post vests left

Beyond the clouds is a splendid silver lining.

An Eastern paper has just discovered that the law prohibiting murder doesn't prohibit

In Or. is spreading out with popular favor. A Salem paper gives it conspicuously.

Never be ashamed of your age. You are what you are.

It is just as much business for Dr. Parker, of Portland, to advertise big as Meier & Frank. It's simply biz.

About ten thousand dollars paid out in Albany every month for eggs. The hen has a right to cackle.

But nearly $30,000 monthly for the product of the cow in the shape of cream, to say nothing of meat, is going some more.

Uncle Sam doesn't like anarchy, hence the call for Mexico to take notice and be good.

Suppose We Pared These Tires

Suppose this All-Weather tread—now double-thick—was pared to the thinness of the usual anti-skid. Would it endure like this one? Or so resist puncture?
Suppose we used—as some do—one less fabric ply. Or made the whole tire lighter. Suppose we omitted our exclusive features:
Our No-Rim-Cut feature—Our "On-Air" cure—Our rubber rivets—Our 126-piano-wire base.

All rivals do omit them. All of them are costly. Our "On-Air" cure alone costs us $450,000 yearly to save needless blowouts. But could Goodyear Fortified Tires retain top place if we did not give those extras?
Our fabric has been strengthened. Yet on February 1st we made our third big price reduction in two years, bringing the total to 45 per cent. Now you are getting in Goodyear Fortified Tires the best value ever known in tire making.

It is due to yourself that you this year join this army of contented tire users. It is by far the largest army in Tiredom. Any dealer will supply you. (2211)
