JAPS ARE FRIENDLY.

The relationship between the United States and Japan must be of a very friendly nature, if one is to judge of the feelings of the Japs who are in this country.

John Sagara, a Jap living at 132 Humboldt street, Denver, writing to his daily paper said, after paying his respects to the "bull dogs" of Europe.

"I'm earnestly over desired U. S. and Japan will understand each other. And I'm specially aimed to investigate of America and introduce the best quality to Japan. Hoping for your prosperity, your truly."

While this has a funny aspect to it, there is much in it that is suggestive of the feeling of the Japs generally. It reads some like the humorous articles in the magazines; but is given for an actual expression of a Denver Jap.

At this time there is no evidence of any other nation in the world having any other than friendly feelings for this country, on good terms with the whole world. It will be found that when sifted down Germany also wants to remain at peace with this country and will do everything possible to avoid trouble.

OREGON STONE.

(From Pacific Coast Manufacturer) Hundreds of thousand of dollars of Oregon capital have been invested in the stone industry of Eastern and Western Oregon.

But the stone quarries have been lying idle while public buildings are erected from stone imported from Alaska and Indiana.

The Portland First National Bank to be built of stone by an eastern architect will probably find no Oregon stone good enough.

A Portland architect has been selected to erect the Monmouth State Normal school building and he has not favored Oregon stone in the past.

In the old days a fine building was erected at the Corvallis Agricultural College of Oregon stone from Lincoln county, but all recent buildings used imported stone.

The Yaquina Bay sandstone has been used on some of the finest buildings in Portland and San Francisco, and is being considered for two federal buildings in Oregon.

The average architect on the state or federal buildings seems to imagine he has done his duty by the state then gives him employment when he turns down Oregon stone.

Most of them play into the hands of brokers and agents for imported building material and our federal and public officials are satisfied to let them.

With freak laws killing industries on one hand and indifferent officials letting them die on the other, Oregon is not developing anything but high taxes.

MISFITS

One hundred years ago Napoleon was in the eyes of the people. Now who?

King George is now just 50 years of age. There was a time in the history of the world when an English king ran things. Now the king of England has less to say about affairs than the president of the United States.

Never judge of a man by what is said of him. Wait and see him or his picture.

The Mexicans have about concluded to be good, on paper. Otherwise they will be just about what they are, and always have been.

You can't straighten an old tree bent to the ground.

Some people are better off than they ever were before.

If automobiles had been in use when John D. Rockefeller began biz., he would have been a rich man by this time.

The gasoline trade continues to be enormous.

We may have to change Albany to the Loganberry city. Why not a Loganberry fair?

Portland has her roses, Salem her cherries, Lebanon her strawberries, McMinnville her walnuts, Harrisburg her potatoes, Junction her pumpkins, Corvallis her prunes and Albany her Loganberries.

Anyway there's a big business in shells.

Advertisement for Street Improvement.

Sealed bids will be received by the Council of the City of Albany, Oregon, until 7:30 o'clock P. M. June 9, 1915, for the improvement of Main Street from the south line of Water Street to the south line of Fourth Street, in the City of Albany.

Said improvement to be made in the following manner, to-wit: First: By grading said street to the proper subgrade.

Second: By paving the roadway of said street full width with full intersections with asphaltic concrete pavement on an asphaltic concrete foundation.

Third: By laying and constructing asphaltic concrete headers.

Fourth: By constructing catch basins.

Fifth: By constructing inlets.

Sixth: By laying vitrified sewer pipe.

Seventh: By laying sub-drain tile. Said improvement to be made in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the said City of Albany, and the plans, specifications and estimates of the City Engineer on file in the office of the City Recorder, where plans may be seen and specified.
