COMMERCIAL CLUB PROMOTER HERE

H. B. Chase Will Meet With Union Banquet of Two Clubs Tonight.

MEETING WILL BE A LIVE BOOSTER FEED

Members of Merchants Association and Commercial Club Should Attend.

Coming up from Astoria down by the sea, last night, H. B. Chase, the commercial club specialist and promoter, has been at the Hotel Albany today, waiting for the union meeting tonight of the commercial club and Albany Merchants' association, when he will talk business and give some vital pointers along the line of business progress.

He reports Astoria in fine shape financially, because she has something the world wants, salmon, and plenty of them. If a town has a good thing and stays by it it is bound to prosper.

Mr. Chase has had wonderful success in building up commercial clubs. A built up commercial club means business for a town, if it is properly organized and goes to work, declares Mr. Chase.

Two cases are prominent now, Portland, where Mr. Chase assisted in getting 5000 new members, and Salem, where the record has been about a thousand.

A Portland man who worked with him says he never knew a more indefatigable worker, a bunch of energy. The club desires a large attendance at the banquet at the Hotel Albany, beginning promptly at 6:30 tonight. Nothing less than one hundred will satisfy the committees in charge of the affair.
