

The much wanted new shirt is now here. The most comfortable, coolest garment that a man can get into.

NEW SPORT SHIRTS (Convertible Collars)

These shirts have been the most popular fad for a number of years. Men have been clamoring for something different from the ordinary shape. One that would look neat, get away from laundered stiff collars, and at the same time be cool and comfortable.

This Shirt Is Just the Thing

The convertible collar is fine. It can be worn low at the neck, with collar on the outside of the coat, or buttoned up at the throat making a military collar. In other words you get two collars in one. During the heat of the day the collar can be worn low, so that it will be the coolest imaginable, then toward evening when the sun gets low and it starts to get cool, the collar can be changed in a few seconds to a high military shape, without changing the shirt or detaching the collar. Can you imagine anything better?

You can afford several at this price.

PHEASANTS WILL PARTICIPATE IN CHERRY FAIR PARADE

With Band Will Visit Salem July 2nd. with Other Marching Clubs.

The Albany Pheasants will go to Salem Friday, July 2nd, accompanied by the Pheasant band, to participate in the Cherry fair celebration. President Fred Dawson, of the Pheasants, is in receipt of a letter from the Cherry Fair committee of the Salem Commercial club extending a special invitation to the Pheasants. An effort will be made to run special trains from Albany on that day and no doubt many people will go to the Capital City for this year's 4th of July celebration.

In the parade on the 2nd will be seen the Portland Rosarians, Oregon City Fallarians, Albany Pheasants, Eugene Radiators and the Salem Cherrians. This will be the first time that all of these booster organizations have been together in one celebration, and the Cherrians are preparing a big welcome for their guests.

One of the features of the Cherry Fair has always been the baby parade, and it is said that this event will be even better this year. Salem mothers take great pride in this event, and visitors to the fair have always expressed great admiration for the wonderful showings made.

An exhibit of cherries and flowers, a big carnival, daily parades, fireworks, bands, and fun galore will make this one of Salem's best celebrations.

The Pheasants are taking active interest in going to the Capital and will present their best. With a fair representation Albany will derive excellent advertising and will straightway be known among the live towns of the state.

NEW GOVERNOR OF GEORGIA WAS INAUGURATED SATURDAY

Trouble Feared on Account of Frank Commutation Sentence Big Police Force on Duty.

(By United Press Association)
Atlanta (Ga.), June 26.—Thousands are pouring into Atlanta for the inauguration of Governor Harris. Warned that there will be huge demonstrations against the commutation of the death sentence of Leo Frank, the authorities are alert for possible trouble. It is admitted should an outbreak occur the regular police will have the greatest difficulty in controlling the throngs. A small detail of the militia is still guarding the country home of Governor Slaton. This may be increased before night. Near beer saloons have been ordered closed. Extra police are held subject to call.

Atlanta, June 26.—Governor Slaton retired as governor with the city packed with people still angered by Slaton commuting Frank's sentence. He turned the office over to Nat E. Harris. There are threats of outbreaks against Slaton, but a number

SHRINERS TO HAVE GREAT TIME AT SEATTLE

Seattle, Wa., June 25.—Entertainment plans for the thousands of Shriners who next week will begin their pilgrimage to this state to hold their annual council for the first time in the Pacific Northwest were completed yesterday by Nile Temple of Seattle. The program will cover an entire week, beginning Sunday, July 11, when the vanguard will arrive, and continuing until midnight Saturday, July 17.

Trips to different parts of the state by water and land, huge balls, barbecues, lawn fetes, automobile rides and banquets will comprise the big features of the entertainment. Dances and songs by 1,000 school children in the shrine stadium; the western roundup and stampede and other similar productions will provide additional diversion.

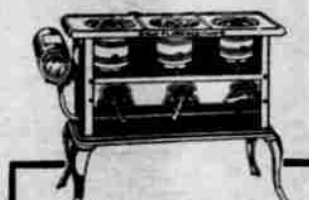

In one celebration all of the eastern half of King county, including Redmond, Tolt, Duvall, Kirkland and other points will greet the visitors at a big Kirkland gathering; at another of hisses from the gallery of the house of representatives where the ceremonies were held, represented by only demonstration.

other the Shriners will be guests of Kitsap county, visiting the navy yard and meeting the leading men of that district; in another of Snohomish county, centering at Everett; in another of Whatcom county, centering at Bellingham; in another of Pierce county, centering at Tacoma; in still another of Spokane; and in others of the various cities lining the route which the Shriners will travel.

"The Story Beautiful," Presented By Father Patrick J. MacCorry

ONE of the masterpieces on the present day American platform is that presented by Father Patrick J. MacCorry, entitled "The Story Beautiful." He is one of the great popular Lyceum orators of the present generation and has a number of lectures, but his "Story Beautiful" is the finest of them all. This is an art education in itself, being illustrated by dissolving slides of world famous pictures. A musical setting accompanies this program. "The Story Beautiful" comes with Chautauqua week, and four people are required to present it.

DR. MONTESSORI TO GIVE TEST AT THE FAIR

San Francisco, Cal., June 25—Under the patronage of Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Woodrow Wilson, Dr. Maria Montessori, the noted Italian educator, will conduct an international Montessori training course at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition during August and September, October and November.

With Miss Wilson on the committee in charge of the course are David Starr Jordan, president of the National Education association, which meets in Oakland in August, and P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education.

The special course will be for the benefit of teachers, parents and others interested in child welfare, and in connection with it will be held a number of demonstration schools in which teachers will do practice work. Noted educators from all parts of the United States and from abroad have been asked to conduct a thorough study and test of Dr. Montessori's method of child training during this course.

The exposition authorities asked Dr. Montessori to conduct her international training course on the exposition grounds because of the opportunity it will afford to give an international test of this newest and unique method of developing individual initiative in very young children.
