

SOCIETY

Miss Mae C. Tillman
Society Editor.
Bell Phone 515-R.
Home 2156

The Ladies of the G. A. R. gave a very pleasant reception at their hall in the armory on Thursday afternoon, the occasion being in honor of the birthday occurring in August of eight members of the ladies and comrades of the post. Among the guests were: Comrade R. S. Carline and wife of Castle Rock, Washington, on their first visit to Albany. Mr. Carline is a brother of James Carline of this city. Also Mrs. W. D. Patricia of Woodland, Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stewart of near Albany. Each honored guest received a present, after partaking of a delicious spread, and listening to a short program in which Mrs. Brown-Carline read a poem entitled "The Banner that Betsy Made," some speeches and patriotic songs. The reception ended with the wish that every birthday among the members might be as pleasantly remembered.

On Monday evening a picnic supper was given in Bryant's Park by several Albany couples. Bathing in the river was very much enjoyed, after which a beautiful supper was served. The latter part of the evening was passed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward

I SAY
Do you take your watch to a blacksmith to have it repaired?
Do you consult a horse doctor when you are sick?
If you believe in that kind of logic then don't bring your films here to be developed.
We make a specialty of solving amateurs' camera problem

The Clifford Studio
ALBANY, OR.
"The Photographer in Your Town"

Get Your Breakfast at the Handy Shop
Before leaving for that long trip you can telephone your order in and we will have it ready for you the time you say.
HANDY SHOP
W. H. DuBeau 417 Lyon Street

Like the North Wind
Cool, refreshing and invigorating, an Electric Fan blows through your office, or home, like the wind from the mountains or lakes. There is absolutely no need of sweltering this summer even if you cannot get away to the mountains or seaside.
An Electric Fan Changes the Oppressive City Heat to Invigorating Mountain Breezes
It does it inexpensively—in fact so small is the consumption of current by the Electric Fan that you will hardly notice it on your bills. The first cost is not high and a fan will last you for years. There will still be a lot of hot weather this summer. Why not get your fan today and be assured of comfort this year for the future?
See your electrical dealer.
Oregon Power Co.
"Reliable Service"
Telephones 15 306 West Second St.

close, refreshments were served.
Mrs. Thomas Hopkins returned Wednesday, after a week's visit in Salem.
Complimenting her niece, Miss Priscilla Dobbs, of New York City, Mrs. E. M. Sharp will entertain a few of the young people tonight at her home on Walnut street.

Mrs. Fred B. Newton returned to Portland on Wednesday, after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sox.
Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Gilbert announce the engagement of their daughter Grace to Mr. Roderick McCauley, the marriage to take place in September.

Misses Vera and Frances Marsh entertained several of their friends this afternoon at a birthday party at their home on West Fifth street. Games was the diversion of the afternoon, after which refreshments were served.

Little Misses Evelyn and Helen Van Nuden celebrated their sixth and fourth birthdays with a party Wednesday afternoon of last week at their home on West Ninth street. Ten little girls were their guests and the small hostesses were the recipients of many pretty gifts. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in playing games and reading stories, followed by a dainty lunch. Pink and blue, the favorite colors of Evelyn and Helen, were used in decorating the rooms. Those invited were: Bertha Foley, Louis Wicks, Lena Fuller, Donna Giblin, Helen Ryder, Norman Blanche, Ruth Sexauer (Minneapolis), Doris Dowling, Elaine and Lenora Michel, and Mildred Moores.

In honor of Miss Margaret Jacks, a bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Down entertained her and Mr. Roland Soilder at dinner on Friday. After dinner, much to the surprise of the invited guests, the hosts had invited several friends to the Dowd home in Sunrise to pass the evening with the bride-elect, who was the inspiration of a miscellaneous shower. A great many dainty and useful articles were given Miss Jacks. At a late hour choice refreshments were served. The additional guests included Messrs and Mesdames Oscar Tinkle, Rollin Hackleman, O. V. White, Roy Dowd, W. H. Jacks, Miss Marion Stanford, Martha Sexauer, Carolita Jacks, Messrs. Lewis Jacks, Leslie Sharp, Elmer Williamson, Roy Kinsey and Hiram Torbet.

Mrs. C. B. Earl was a delightful hostess on Friday, when she entertained for the Jolly Twelve club members. Fancy-work was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by a "spelling bee," in which Mrs. G. W. Fiddaman was awarded the first prize and Mrs. W. W. Francis the consolation prize. In the late afternoon the hostess, assisted by Miss Blanche Earl, served choice refreshments. The complimented guests were Mesdames W. A. Long, A. Nettleton, A. Bowers, Francis and Miss Amy Cady.

Mesdames J. M. Hawkins and C. C. Cathey entertained in honor of Miss Julia Crowell, a bride-to-be and Miss Elsie Bain, who will leave Albany soon, to reside in Montana, on Friday at the Hawkins home on Washington street. Bridge was the game played at nine tables, after which a dainty repast was served, several additional guests calling for tea.

Last Wednesday evening about 25 members of the class of young married folks of the M. E. Sunday school, which is taught by Mrs. W. T. Houts, and is known as "The Gleaners," went in autos to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kees, members of the class, and spent the evening. Supper was held, picnic music, on the lawn and afterwards music and conversation occupied the evening till they reluctantly returned to town about ten o'clock. Mr. Kees lives about three miles from town near Pirtle Station, on the Oregon Electric. A social gathering the third Wednesday in each month is one of the features which keep up the interest in the class, which is one of the largest in the school. Among other good works which the class is accomplishing, they have for several years been supporting a girl in India.

Mrs. Thomas Hopkins returned Wednesday, after a week's visit in Salem.
Complimenting her niece, Miss Priscilla Dobbs, of New York City, Mrs. E. M. Sharp will entertain a few of the young people tonight at her home on Walnut street.
Mrs. Fred B. Newton returned to Portland on Wednesday, after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sox.
Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Gilbert announce the engagement of their daughter Grace to Mr. Roderick McCauley, the marriage to take place in September.
Misses Vera and Frances Marsh entertained several of their friends this afternoon at a birthday party at their home on West Fifth street. Games was the diversion of the afternoon, after which refreshments were served.
Little Misses Evelyn and Helen Van Nuden celebrated their sixth and fourth birthdays with a party Wednesday afternoon of last week at their home on West Ninth street. Ten little girls were their guests and the small hostesses were the recipients of many pretty gifts. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in playing games and reading stories, followed by a dainty lunch. Pink and blue, the favorite colors of Evelyn and Helen, were used in decorating the rooms. Those invited were: Bertha Foley, Louis Wicks, Lena Fuller, Donna Giblin, Helen Ryder, Norman Blanche, Ruth Sexauer (Minneapolis), Doris Dowling, Elaine and Lenora Michel, and Mildred Moores.
In honor of Miss Margaret Jacks, a bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Down entertained her and Mr. Roland Soilder at dinner on Friday. After dinner, much to the surprise of the invited guests, the hosts had invited several friends to the Dowd home in Sunrise to pass the evening with the bride-elect, who was the inspiration of a miscellaneous shower. A great many dainty and useful articles were given Miss Jacks. At a late hour choice refreshments were served. The additional guests included Messrs and Mesdames Oscar Tinkle, Rollin Hackleman, O. V. White, Roy Dowd, W. H. Jacks, Miss Marion Stanford, Martha Sexauer, Carolita Jacks, Messrs. Lewis Jacks, Leslie Sharp, Elmer Williamson, Roy Kinsey and Hiram Torbet.
Mrs. C. B. Earl was a delightful hostess on Friday, when she entertained for the Jolly Twelve club members. Fancy-work was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by a "spelling bee," in which Mrs. G. W. Fiddaman was awarded the first prize and Mrs. W. W. Francis the consolation prize. In the late afternoon the hostess, assisted by Miss Blanche Earl, served choice refreshments. The complimented guests were Mesdames W. A. Long, A. Nettleton, A. Bowers, Francis and Miss Amy Cady.
Mesdames J. M. Hawkins and C. C. Cathey entertained in honor of Miss Julia Crowell, a bride-to-be and Miss Elsie Bain, who will leave Albany soon, to reside in Montana, on Friday at the Hawkins home on Washington street. Bridge was the game played at nine tables, after which a dainty repast was served, several additional guests calling for tea.
Last Wednesday evening about 25 members of the class of young married folks of the M. E. Sunday school, which is taught by Mrs. W. T. Houts, and is known as "The Gleaners," went in autos to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kees, members of the class, and spent the evening. Supper was held, picnic music, on the lawn and afterwards music and conversation occupied the evening till they reluctantly returned to town about ten o'clock. Mr. Kees lives about three miles from town near Pirtle Station, on the Oregon Electric. A social gathering the third Wednesday in each month is one of the features which keep up the interest in the class, which is one of the largest in the school. Among other good works which the class is accomplishing, they have for several years been supporting a girl in India.

Mrs. Thomas Hopkins returned Wednesday, after a week's visit in Salem.
Complimenting her niece, Miss Priscilla Dobbs, of New York City, Mrs. E. M. Sharp will entertain a few of the young people tonight at her home on Walnut street.
Mrs. Fred B. Newton returned to Portland on Wednesday, after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sox.
Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Gilbert announce the engagement of their daughter Grace to Mr. Roderick McCauley, the marriage to take place in September.
Misses Vera and Frances Marsh entertained several of their friends this afternoon at a birthday party at their home on West Fifth street. Games was the diversion of the afternoon, after which refreshments were served.
Little Misses Evelyn and Helen Van Nuden celebrated their sixth and fourth birthdays with a party Wednesday afternoon of last week at their home on West Ninth street. Ten little girls were their guests and the small hostesses were the recipients of many pretty gifts. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in playing games and reading stories, followed by a dainty lunch. Pink and blue, the favorite colors of Evelyn and Helen, were used in decorating the rooms. Those invited were: Bertha Foley, Louis Wicks, Lena Fuller, Donna Giblin, Helen Ryder, Norman Blanche, Ruth Sexauer (Minneapolis), Doris Dowling, Elaine and Lenora Michel, and Mildred Moores.
In honor of Miss Margaret Jacks, a bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Down entertained her and Mr. Roland Soilder at dinner on Friday. After dinner, much to the surprise of the invited guests, the hosts had invited several friends to the Dowd home in Sunrise to pass the evening with the bride-elect, who was the inspiration of a miscellaneous shower. A great many dainty and useful articles were given Miss Jacks. At a late hour choice refreshments were served. The additional guests included Messrs and Mesdames Oscar Tinkle, Rollin Hackleman, O. V. White, Roy Dowd, W. H. Jacks, Miss Marion Stanford, Martha Sexauer, Carolita Jacks, Messrs. Lewis Jacks, Leslie Sharp, Elmer Williamson, Roy Kinsey and Hiram Torbet.
Mrs. C. B. Earl was a delightful hostess on Friday, when she entertained for the Jolly Twelve club members. Fancy-work was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by a "spelling bee," in which Mrs. G. W. Fiddaman was awarded the first prize and Mrs. W. W. Francis the consolation prize. In the late afternoon the hostess, assisted by Miss Blanche Earl, served choice refreshments. The complimented guests were Mesdames W. A. Long, A. Nettleton, A. Bowers, Francis and Miss Amy Cady.
Mesdames J. M. Hawkins and C. C. Cathey entertained in honor of Miss Julia Crowell, a bride-to-be and Miss Elsie Bain, who will leave Albany soon, to reside in Montana, on Friday at the Hawkins home on Washington street. Bridge was the game played at nine tables, after which a dainty repast was served, several additional guests calling for tea.
Last Wednesday evening about 25 members of the class of young married folks of the M. E. Sunday school, which is taught by Mrs. W. T. Houts, and is known as "The Gleaners," went in autos to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kees, members of the class, and spent the evening. Supper was held, picnic music, on the lawn and afterwards music and conversation occupied the evening till they reluctantly returned to town about ten o'clock. Mr. Kees lives about three miles from town near Pirtle Station, on the Oregon Electric. A social gathering the third Wednesday in each month is one of the features which keep up the interest in the class, which is one of the largest in the school. Among other good works which the class is accomplishing, they have for several years been supporting a girl in India.

Mrs. Thomas Hopkins returned Wednesday, after a week's visit in Salem.
Complimenting her niece, Miss Priscilla Dobbs, of New York City, Mrs. E. M. Sharp will entertain a few of the young people tonight at her home on Walnut street.
Mrs. Fred B. Newton returned to Portland on Wednesday, after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sox.
Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Gilbert announce the engagement of their daughter Grace to Mr. Roderick McCauley, the marriage to take place in September.
Misses Vera and Frances Marsh entertained several of their friends this afternoon at a birthday party at their home on West Fifth street. Games was the diversion of the afternoon, after which refreshments were served.
Little Misses Evelyn and Helen Van Nuden celebrated their sixth and fourth birthdays with a party Wednesday afternoon of last week at their home on West Ninth street. Ten little girls were their guests and the small hostesses were the recipients of many pretty gifts. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in playing games and reading stories, followed by a dainty lunch. Pink and blue, the favorite colors of Evelyn and Helen, were used in decorating the rooms. Those invited were: Bertha Foley, Louis Wicks, Lena Fuller, Donna Giblin, Helen Ryder, Norman Blanche, Ruth Sexauer (Minneapolis), Doris Dowling, Elaine and Lenora Michel, and Mildred Moores.
In honor of Miss Margaret Jacks, a bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Down entertained her and Mr. Roland Soilder at dinner on Friday. After dinner, much to the surprise of the invited guests, the hosts had invited several friends to the Dowd home in Sunrise to pass the evening with the bride-elect, who was the inspiration of a miscellaneous shower. A great many dainty and useful articles were given Miss Jacks. At a late hour choice refreshments were served. The additional guests included Messrs and Mesdames Oscar Tinkle, Rollin Hackleman, O. V. White, Roy Dowd, W. H. Jacks, Miss Marion Stanford, Martha Sexauer, Carolita Jacks, Messrs. Lewis Jacks, Leslie Sharp, Elmer Williamson, Roy Kinsey and Hiram Torbet.
Mrs. C. B. Earl was a delightful hostess on Friday, when she entertained for the Jolly Twelve club members. Fancy-work was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by a "spelling bee," in which Mrs. G. W. Fiddaman was awarded the first prize and Mrs. W. W. Francis the consolation prize. In the late afternoon the hostess, assisted by Miss Blanche Earl, served choice refreshments. The complimented guests were Mesdames W. A. Long, A. Nettleton, A. Bowers, Francis and Miss Amy Cady.
Mesdames J. M. Hawkins and C. C. Cathey entertained in honor of Miss Julia Crowell, a bride-to-be and Miss Elsie Bain, who will leave Albany soon, to reside in Montana, on Friday at the Hawkins home on Washington street. Bridge was the game played at nine tables, after which a dainty repast was served, several additional guests calling for tea.
Last Wednesday evening about 25 members of the class of young married folks of the M. E. Sunday school, which is taught by Mrs. W. T. Houts, and is known as "The Gleaners," went in autos to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kees, members of the class, and spent the evening. Supper was held, picnic music, on the lawn and afterwards music and conversation occupied the evening till they reluctantly returned to town about ten o'clock. Mr. Kees lives about three miles from town near Pirtle Station, on the Oregon Electric. A social gathering the third Wednesday in each month is one of the features which keep up the interest in the class, which is one of the largest in the school. Among other good works which the class is accomplishing, they have for several years been supporting a girl in India.

Good Sunday Chicken Dinner
at the
COTTAGE
25c

AT THE CHURCHES
United Presbyterian.—Preaching in the morning by Rev. C. R. Stevenson. Other services as usual, except in the evening the congregation will unite in the union services.
Evangelical Church.—Corner of E. First and Pine street. E. Radebaugh, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. Subject, "The River from the Sanctuary." Young People's alliance at 7 p. m. At 8 p. m. union service at the Grace Presbyterian.
Christian Science.—Corner 4th and Ferry streets. Sunday service at 11 a. m. Subject of lesson sermon, "Mind." Sunday school at 10 and 11 a. m. Wednesday evening meeting at 8. All are welcome.
First Presbyterian Church.—Rev. F. H. Geselbracht, minister. 10:30 morning service. Theme: Songs in the Night. The minister will preach. 11:45 Sabbath school. Classes for all. 8:00 Union services in the Christian church. Theme: Christian Faith. "A day in thy courts is better than a thousand."
Oak Creek Church.—Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, M. Howard Fagan, Christian minister, will conduct services at the Oak Creek Christian church.
Church of Christ (Christian church)—M. Howard Fagan, pastor. Services on Sunday as follows: 10:30 a. m. Lord's Supper and sermon, "Judah Iscariot." 7:30 p. m. Christian Endeavor, "A Basis of Sound Belief." 8:00 p. m. Union service. Sermon by Dr. Geselbracht. Special music at each service.
M. E. Church.—At 10:30 a. m. Rev. A. C. Brackenbury of Brownsville will preach the sermon Sunday school at 11:45 a. m. Epworth League 7:00 p. m. There will be no evening service, the congregation uniting in the evening union service. Prayer meeting Thursday evening.
Grace Presbyterian Church.—F. L. Fraser, pastor. 10 a. m. Bible school. 11 a. m. Morning worship. Subject "Lay Hold on Eternal Life." 7 p. m. V. P. service; 8 p. m. Preaching service, sermon by Rev. H. Smith. Union service at 8 o'clock of the church in the East End.
Union Sunday Service.—At 8 o'clock the union service in the East End will be held in Grace Presbyterian church, sermon by Rev. H. Smith. In the West End the service will be in the Christian church, sermon by Rev. F.

WAR SERIES
OF THE
New York Times
MID-WEEK
PICTORIAL
Ten earliest available numbers, Nos. 3 to 12, (1 and 2 being out of print) bound in book form.
Interesting rotogravure reproductions of the European war scenes from actual photographs make this book a valuable acquisition at the moderate price of
ONE DOLLAR
Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price.
THE NEW YORK TIMES
Times Square New York

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

WAR SERIES
OF THE
New York Times
MID-WEEK
PICTORIAL
Ten earliest available numbers, Nos. 3 to 12, (1 and 2 being out of print) bound in book form.
Interesting rotogravure reproductions of the European war scenes from actual photographs make this book a valuable acquisition at the moderate price of
ONE DOLLAR
Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price.
THE NEW YORK TIMES
Times Square New York

WAR SERIES
OF THE
New York Times
MID-WEEK
PICTORIAL
Ten earliest available numbers, Nos. 3 to 12, (1 and 2 being out of print) bound in book form.
Interesting rotogravure reproductions of the European war scenes from actual photographs make this book a valuable acquisition at the moderate price of
ONE DOLLAR
Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price.
THE NEW YORK TIMES
Times Square New York

WAR SERIES
OF THE
New York Times
MID-WEEK
PICTORIAL
Ten earliest available numbers, Nos. 3 to 12, (1 and 2 being out of print) bound in book form.
Interesting rotogravure reproductions of the European war scenes from actual photographs make this book a valuable acquisition at the moderate price of
ONE DOLLAR
Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price.
THE NEW YORK TIMES
Times Square New York

WAR SERIES
OF THE
New York Times
MID-WEEK
PICTORIAL
Ten earliest available numbers, Nos. 3 to 12, (1 and 2 being out of print) bound in book form.
Interesting rotogravure reproductions of the European war scenes from actual photographs make this book a valuable acquisition at the moderate price of
ONE DOLLAR
Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price.
THE NEW YORK TIMES
Times Square New York

WAR SERIES
OF THE
New York Times
MID-WEEK
PICTORIAL
Ten earliest available numbers, Nos. 3 to 12, (1 and 2 being out of print) bound in book form.
Interesting rotogravure reproductions of the European war scenes from actual photographs make this book a valuable acquisition at the moderate price of
ONE DOLLAR
Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price.
THE NEW YORK TIMES
Times Square New York

Don't Waste Another Vacation without an EASTMAN KODAK You Can't Afford It
A collection of good pictures will carry the joys of your vacation thru the entire year. We can supply you with any kodak you want at prices ranging from $1.25 to $65, and we will teach you how to use it; how to develop your films and make prints FREE OF CHARGE TO YOU.
BUY NOW AND LEARN BEFORE YOU START ON YOUR VACATION
Woodworth Drug Co.
Albany, Oregon
Expert Developing and Printing

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the average."
"How much can an Albany boy or girl get along on in Albany College?"
"About $150 or less, most of them less."
"Do the Albany merchants get any chance at the $400 a year he spends away from town on his children?"
"I can't see how."
"How much of a payroll has Albany College?"
"It costs about $500 a week to operate Albany College, not counting living bills at the girls' dormitory and the boys' club. About $3500 was spent for food by these organizations. The faculty families patronize local stores, bank here, buy milk and fuel, drugs and groceries. Families move to town to educate their children. Chambers of commerce raise business for institutions that bring in less money."
"Do you send to Portland for your groceries?"
"No."
"Or your furniture?"
"Did Mr. So and So ever patronize the College at Albany?"
"No."
"Well, that's all. One thing more—where do you invest your endowment funds?"
"In real estate mortgages in Linn county. We have over $100,000 invested in Linn county today."
"That's all. I'm laying now for some Albany merchants. Never another one who sends his children away will abuse me for patronizing Sears Roebuck, when I know he could save money, get as good results, and build up his town, and keep an eye on his kids by having them at home. You've given me the best case I know against some of the big boosters."

ALBANY COLLEGE A HOME INSTITUTION TO BE SUPPORTED
President Crooks Had Interview With Farmer, Who Had Some Striking Ideas.
A prominent farmer called up the president of Albany college the other day and a telephone conversation like this was the result:
"Is this Albany College?"
"Yes."
"Are you President Crooks?"
"Yes."
"What do you think of merchants who jaw at us farmers for patronizing mail order houses when they send their boys and girls away from town for college courses?"
"I think some of them have made a big mistake."
"Well, I'm mad. A merchant has just been talking mail order houses—and say! but he's eloquent in his talk about 'em—but he has sent all his children away from Albany for college courses. How much does it cost at—University?"
"About $400 on the