YOUTH'S POSSIBILITIES.

The possibilities of youth was well illustrated in the recent school exhibition at the armory. People marvelled at some of the things they saw. In manual training there was seen work not surpassed by skilled workmen among experienced men. In cookery splendid specimens of bread, cakes and pies were shown. In art work was seen of a character to make the observer take notice. And it was just the start in the lives of those doing the work. It meant if continued there will be much to show for the life's work of many of those who furnished the exhibits. It is a big thing to be skilled in anything. The person who is will never have to hunt for a job. There is a great deal to do for men and women who can do it the best, numberless jobs for those who are superior. Boys and girls should take note and work to be efficient. No trouble about the future if they do.

EDISON AND BURBANK.

Two American wizards recently met down in California, Edison and Burbank, men who have done marvellous things. Edison has harnessed the fiery darts of the air and brought into subjection a marvellous element, transforming the methods of the world. Through a long life he has labored persistently with no other thought than that of doing something for the world. Burbank entered the plant life and has changed the face of the garden, giving the world new plants and fruits and vegetables, to their delight and satisfaction. The world may well take off its hat to these two men who have done so much for humanity.

SHOULD BE GRIPPED.

Those who examine the process of R. Thomas cannot help being impressed with the fact that he has something of great value. The manner in which he transfers common fir wood into pulp, ready to be made into paper, commends itself to the observer, without any explanations. Albany has long pleaded for opportunities. Here is one that appeals to one, a big thing if carried through as contemplated. Numerous things have been allowed to slip through. This paper mill should be gripped.

MISFITS

The love affair of the president and Mrs. Galt may be a private affair; but, just the same it is not, and will not be. It will be public all the way through. Scads of articles will be written on what the bride will wear, not a detail missing.

Every time Mrs. Galt is seen with Woodrow Wilson the papers will report it. Reporters will be watching around the corner to catch them together.

Privacy, just about as much as that of a spic on a street corner.

By the way, we forgot to mention the engagement ring. Wonder what it will be, and of whom it was bought?

Slander travels cross lots by wireless.

No one yet ever admitted to being a gossip. It is always the other person.

Things ahead look like mountains. It is a good idea not to cross bridges until they are reached, and never to get tired over tomorrow's work until it is done.

Life is a strenuous old job with as much brain weariness as body fatigue.

Hallowe'en is almost here, with its horrible grimaces.

Fortunately, though, Albany has no gates. Many years ago this city put out airs and the gates went down.
