One of the prettiest parties of the week was the one given Friday, when Mrs. E. C. Brandberry and Mrs. E. M. Pugh entertained the ladies of the Thursday Study club and their husbands at dinner at the Brandberry home of Sixth and Broadalbin streets. A very unique and effective idea was carried out in the decorations, suggestive of the season of the year. Pumpkins cut in half and filled with nasturtiums and yellow shaded candles, and yellow napkin rings with black cats on them, made a very attractive looking table. The guests wore yellow caps with black cats on them, the men being seated on one side of the long dining table and the ladies on the other side. An elaborate dinner was served, after which a concert and music were enjoyed by the guests, until a late hour. Mrs. Kruschke of California and Mrs. Webber of Alaska, who are visiting Mrs. Monson, were honored guests.

Misses LaVerne Hofflich and Elda Pettibone were charming hostesses on Friday, when they entertained the Beta Gamma girls and their gentlemen friends at the Hofflich home, 404 W. Fourth street. Halloween decorations were effectively used in the rooms, where the guests enjoyed the evening in games and music. A dainty repast rounded out the evening's pleasure. Additional guests were Misses Faye King, Ruth Rawlings, Ruth Lochner, Kamilla Kroschell, Letha Cummings, Hazel Hill, Messrs. Waldo Ball (Corvallis), Clinton Griffin, Davis Leininger, John Hollingsworth, Alvie Miller, Elton Gil-dow, Carlton Dudley and Harold Mickelson.

The members of the Eastern Star of Jefferson were guests of the local lodge on Tuesday evening. After the regular business session and initiation, an elaborate banquet was served, covers being laid for one hundred and seventy-five guests. The lodge rooms were attractively decorated for the occasion with pumpkins, filled with flowers, autumn leaves and jack-lanterns. The long banquet tables were decked with yellow and black shaded candles in black candlesticks, cards with witches on them and pumpkins. The affair was very unique and all reported a good time.

The young ladies' class and young men's class of the First Presbyterian church will enjoy a "halloween party" tonight in the social hall of the church. Games and stunts, appropriate to the occasion will be the diversions of the evening. A unique feature of the evening will be the guessing of each guest present, the boys guessing the girls and the girls the boys, who will be dressed in masquerade costume. The Pacific University football team will be guests. Miss Flora Mason is the teacher of the young ladies and Mrs. Geselbrach is the teacher of the young men's class.

Last night the members of the younger classes of the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church gave a social in the church. Games and music were enjoyed by those present, after which refreshments were served.

The Priscilla club ladies met with Mrs. Sheldon on Elm street on Thursday. Fancy-work was the diversion of the afternoon, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Marion Anderson. The honored guests were Mesdames R. C. Hunter (Salem), Morris Senders, Adolph Senders, M. Summerfield, Edward Anderson, Charles Prochnow and Miss Jane Davies.

The "Covered Dish" club will meet with Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Riggs tonight at their home on East Fourth street. Halloween decorations will be used in the rooms and on the tables. The latter part of the evening will be passed in playing "500". The members of the club included Messrs.

and Mesdames A. Austin, Reed Walworth, O. D. Austin, G. E. Riggs, Walton Worrell, F. C. Pate, R. A. B. Veal, Glen Jenkins, F. M. French, D. Bussard, Grant Pirtle and Mrs. Clara Hand.

In compliment to Miss Eunice Luper, a bride-to-be, Miss Edna Gentry entertained at a "miscellaneous show-er" on Friday. The evening was pleasantly passed in fancy-work and music, followed by choice refreshments. The invited guests were Mrs. Ralph Morris, Karlene Warner, Eva and Mae Hughes, Bessie Morris, Eunice Luper, Beulah Hinkle, Mary Lee and Hallie Jenks, Marguerite Hayes, Mable and Zoe Traak and Leona Zeh.

Tonight the home of Miss Smith, in Sunrise, will be the scene of a "halloween party," when the members of the By-Thursday club will be hostesses to their husbands and gentlemen friends. Games and stunts suggestive of the season, will be played, followed by refreshments.

The Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church met on Wednesday in the church parlors. Miss McBride read an interesting paper on "The American Bible Society." Mr. G. W. Rolubough gave a splendid talk on "The Union Sunday School Work." This meeting was the annual thank offering. In the late afternoon choice refreshments were served by the hostess, Mesdames Ellison, Hyde, Nanney and Skipton.

Miss Nellie Pate was hostess for the young ladies of the Twilight club on Tuesday. Supper was served at seven and the latter part of the evening was passed in fancy work and music. The honored guests were Misses Edna Metcalf, Ross, Elizabeth Ryan, Zella Burkhardt, Vera Tracey, Nathaniel Donaca, Mrs. Balantyne and Mrs. F. C. Pate.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Monson entertained the Esclutent club on Thursday at a "covered dish supper." The table was effectively decorated in halloween colors and covers were laid for twenty-four guests. "500" made up the latter part of the evening's fun.

Mrs. Grant Pirtle entertained for the members of the Monday bridge club this week. "Bridge" was the game played at four tables and in the late afternoon the hostess served a dainty repast. The honored guests were Mesdames Kruschke (California), Webber (Alaska), L. L. Swan, Charles Monson, F. C. Pate, L. H. Fish, O. D. Austin and S. E. Watson.

Miss Vernita Froman was hostess at a dinner party on Thursday. Decorations, suggestive of the season, were prettily arranged on the table and covers were laid for Misses Velma Davis, Edna Laubner, Pauline Burch, Clara Morgan, Lila McCoy, Helen Essex and Vernita Froman.

Miss Sarah Jewell entertained the teachers of the Maple street school on Thursday night. The evening was passed in music and a social hour followed by refreshments.

The ladies of the United Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar next Wednesday, November 2nd, in the Palm Cafeteria on First and Ferry streets. Many dainty and useful articles for Christmas gifts will be on sale at that time. Don't forget the day—next Wednesday. The place, Palm Cafeteria.

This afternoon the boys of Miss Main's Sabbath school class of the United Presbyterian church enjoyed a "Halloween party" in the church basement. Games were played, followed by refreshments.

The sewing club girls will entertain their gentlemen friends tonight at the home of Miss Stella Dorgan.

The ladies of the Maccabees enjoyed a covered dish luncheon and a social hour, after the lodge session on Thursday night.

Mrs. B. R. Wallace and Mrs. William Pollak were charming hostesses at a Halloween party given last Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Wallace. The weird and mysterious effect of the Halloween festival was maintained throughout the entire house. The guests, to reach the door, walked across a dimly lighted porch, past two ghostly sentinels, and were admitted into the subdued light of many jack o'lanterns. The wide stairway was an Autumn path, being set with bright colored vines and small trees from some real forest. The spacious parlors were decorated profusely with witches, black cats and owls, while all lights shone through grinning orange and black paper faces.

An advertising contest occupied much of the evening and furnished great amusement. A prize of a beautiful water color was given to the lady whose list of advertisements was most complete, and a small paper skull rewarded the lady guessing the least number.

Later in the evening, elaborate refreshments were served on candle-lighted tables and at the ghostly hour of midnight more than fifty ladies said good night to their hostesses, each with the conviction that not often does one spend such a thoroughly happy evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Peters were the inspiration of a surprise party, and covered dish supper last night, by the members of the Needlecraft club and their husbands. After supper the guests enjoyed a social hour together and a drawing contest, in which Mrs. M. L. Peters won the prize. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames John Neeley, Harry Nebergall, Clinton Straney, E. L. Ramsey, E. Burnett, Roy Harder, A. B. Wilson, C. B. Essex, Ralph McKechnie, Walter Stewart, M. L. Peters, Frances Arnold, Mrs. Harris, and Miss Eda Patterson.

The Christian church was the scene of a jolly party last night. Halloween decorations were in evidence throughout the basement of the church and the guests enjoyed the evening, in playing games and music. Refreshments, served at a late hour, rounded out the evening's pleasure.

A very pleasant evening was passed on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Winn, when they were hosts for the members of the Monday club. Mr. Crooks read a splendid paper on "Literature." This being the last meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Crooks would attend, as they leave shortly for Alma, Michigan, it was an especially interesting one. Short speeches were made by the different members of the club and at a late hour, a dainty repast was served.

A few of Miss Allie Murphy's friends surprised her on Thursday, at her home on Fourth and Baker streets. Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Margary Firchau, Gertrude Bilyeu, Violet Painter, Maud Woods, Louise Dannels and Allie Murphy.

Rev. and Mrs. Young of the Baptist church gave a reception in the church last night for the members of the church and congregation. Several musical numbers were rendered by the high school orchestra during the evening. Refreshments rounded out the evening's pleasure.

The ladies of the Jolly Twelve club were pleasantly entertained yesterday by Mrs. Claude Vunk. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion in halloween colors. The afternoon was passed in fancy-work and a social hour, followed by choice refreshments.

Mrs. Walter Stewart entertained the Needlecraft club members on Thursday. The ladies motored out to her home and passed the afternoon in fancy work, music and games, after which a dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. Leroy Wood extended the hospitality of her home on Friday to the members of the Leisure Hour Club. A contest was very much enjoyed, followed by a social hour and choice refreshments.

Master Jack Cathey celebrated his fifth birthday yesterday. The youngsters enjoyed a few hours together in games and music, followed by refreshments. The invited guests were Maxine Monteith, Elizabeth Beam, Murine Ballack, Mildred Stickley, Bob Barker, Bill Cusick, Eugene Cusick and Bill Gardner.

Clothcraft Clothes Never Fail

The harder the test you put them to the better you'll appreciate them. Facts are stubborn things. But it is a fact, and a proven one, that Clothcraft Clothes are bigger values for the money.

People come in, ask for Clothcraft and insist on having it. Why? For the simple reason that Clothcraft Clothes have served them with the same consistency, season after season.

Just for example let's consider No. 4130, the Clothcraft Blue Serge Special at $18.50 (or "5130" at $15.00). We aren't afraid of contradiction when we say that a better suit of clothes at the price is an impossibility.

"4130" or "5130" leaves absolutely nothing to be desired. Pick up any Clothcraft garment, it doesn't matter whether it cost $15 to $20, you'll agree with us that a better value cannot be procured at the price.

What's more, the Clothcraft Guarantee protects you against all mistakes.

The variety right now is most complete—we would like to have you come in and make us prove our claims. Will you come in—today?

The Lambs—

Stewart F. Lamb, of Corvallis, is spending the week-end with his mother, Mrs. C. R. Lamb, on his way to Salem, where he will take up his new position as private stenographer to Governor Withycombe.

Not a Candidate—

Street Superintendent F. N. Wood wants it distinctly understood that he is not a candidate for chief of police. J. A. Wood, of the third ward is. Some have gotten their names mixed, and continue to report F. N. as a candidate, but he is not.

Albany's Showing—

Jefferson, Portland's best high school team yesterday defeated

Franklin high only 46 to 0. Albany defeated Franklin 61 to 0. This means that the Albany high is right at the top among the high school teams of the state.
