OAKVILLE NOTES AND PERSONAL OF INTEREST

Tater harvest is in full blast and the crop is fair for a dry season.

Some of our people went to the funeral of Jas. N. McNeil at Pine Grove cemetery last Monday.

Five new dwellings have been put up between here and Corvallis this summer; also four new barns.

Mrs. Smith and daughter of Elgin, Washington, were visiting relatives here last week.

Oregonians voted dry, but will it be dry after Jan. 1st?

We often hear the expression, "Did you ever see as dry a season?" Yes, the summer of '83 was one we remember on account of it being the summer the woods were on fire and the sun's rays couldn't penetrate the smoke. Men got lost on their farms, but the grain crop was good.

The ancient custom of doing funny stunts on the last night of October was not observed this year. The boys of 20 years ago are all men now and don't want their boys to do as they did.

Mr. Abrams and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Carlon, all of Portland, were visiting friends here last week and they brought their shot guns and dog and took some of our game birds home with them. Mrs. Carlon, has her own gun and is a good shot. She is well acquainted with all of the farms and farmers here, where she spent her youthful days.

CHURCH BELL RANG.

Corvallis Women Shocked Because Bell Rang for O. A. C. Victory.

Corvallis Gazette-Times: The public is hereby informed that the sacrifice of ringing the bell of the Episcopal church in celebration of a football victory was committed by two hoodlums who in the excitement of the moment lost their sense of reverence for the house of God as well as respect for property which is not under their authority.

MRS. C. B. RUNNALS.

Note: In the fall of 1898 or 1899 Drake University defeated Nebraska University by a score of 6 to 5. It was the biggest victory Drake had ever made and the city of Des Moines Iowa went wild over the victory. A celebration similar to the one held here yesterday was arranged and carried out. It exceeded the Corvallis celebration in that the bell ringer at St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral played the then popular "Hot Hime In the Old Town" as the parade passed the church house. The bell ringer received praise from all the newspapers.

TANGENT NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

L. F. Smith and wife recently returned from a trip to Spokane, where they visited with their son and also with J. H. Simpson and James Calloway and their families. They report a fine trip and a pleasant visit.

Prof. M. F. Wood, wife and children, visited in Tangent last Sunday. They seemed proud to see their many friends after an absence of a couple of months.

Mrs. Lola Owenby of Albany spent the weeks end in Tangent visiting her mother, Mrs. C. J. Luper.

James Jenks and wife of Salem were visiting relatives and friends here a few days ago.

Misses Eva and Edith Burns spent Sunday with Miss LeVelle Wood of West Corvallis.

Mrs. Ida Hayes of California, was in Tangent last week, called here by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. W. W. Powell, who has since died.

The four rooms in the Tangent school house are well filled with the children in and near this place. They have a good corps of teachers and everything is nicely arranged: The pupils expect to have a basket social in a short time, the proceeds of which will be used for a payment on the piano.

There is not a vacant house in Tangent at this time, and there are quite a few who would like to live here during the winter so they could patronize the school here.

Farmers are busy in the fields, but they have made rather slow progress on account of the dryness of the soil; but it is likely there will be plenty of rain soon.

The hunting season is now over and what few birds there are left will have a rest. It seems that many hunters use very little judgment while hunting. Several head of stock were found which were supposed to have been shot by some careless hunter, who saw nothing but the bird when they shot.

The roads have been fine for the last month, but there will likely be plenty of mud before any great length of time.

Art Classes to Start—

Prof. Davis' first art class starts tomorrow morning, and the second one Wednesday.
