Much of the social interest this week has been centered around Mrs. C. Clinton Page, of Eugene, formerly of this city, who is the house guest of Mrs. O. D. Austin.

A charming affair, in her honor, took place on Monday night, when Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Austin were hosts for the members of the Lefolot club. "500" was the game played at seven tables and at a late hour a dainty collation was served. The rooms were artistically decorated for the occasion with baskets of cosmos and chrysanthemums.

The honored guests on this occasion were Messrs. and Mesdames W. A. Barrett, A. Stark, F. C. Pate, G. E. Riggs, E. M. Reagan, E. C. Brandeberry, Mrs. Page and Mrs. Weber (Alaska), and Mrs. Kruschke (California). The new members of the club include Mr. and Mrs. Charles Monson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bowersox, Miss Katherine Barrett and Mr. Edward Barrett.

On Tuesday, Mrs. O. D. Austin entertained for her house guest, Mrs. C. Page (Eugene), and her guests included the members of the Entre Nous club and a few additional friends. "Bridge" was the game played, during the afternoon, followed by a dainty repast. The honored guests were Mesdames C. Clinton Page, Joseph Ralston, F. C. Pate, W. C. Tweedale, Stockstader, H. A. Nelson, A. Stark and Alice Cockerline.

The Shakespeare club met yesterday with Mrs. O. D. Austin on Montgomery street. Mrs. W. A. Barrett and Mrs. Austin were leaders and during the reading of Acts two and three of the "Midsummer's Night Dream," Mrs. Logan played softly several selections on the piano. Mrs. F. P. Nutting sang a solo and Mrs. Page, a former member of the club, gave a reading. The afternoon was closed by the hostess serving dainty refreshments.

Mrs. J. Otto Lee extended the hospitality of her home this week to the members of the Tuesday club. The ladies brought their fancy work and passed a few hours together in a social hour, and in the late afternoon the hostess, assisted by Misses Dorothy Lee and Violet Nutting served a dainty repast. The hostess honored Mesdames McCoy, Thomas Hopkins, F. P. Nutting, H. A. Nelson, Meister, John French, Hartsock, Howe, Misses Sue Breckenridge and Gordon.

The social in the Knights of Pythias lodge rooms on Thursday night was one of the most delightful events of the week. The Knights held open house and their wives and families and friends were their guests. Everything was thrown open for their visitors. A splendid program was given which consisted of an address of welcome by Mr. J. S. Van Winkle, solos by Miss Hollbrook, Mrs. C. B. Essex and Mrs. J. F. Watson, and reading by Mrs. Rahn. Mr. Terry entertained the guests with playing on the mandolin and juggling. After the program, dancing was very much enjoyed, the music being furnished by a four-piece orchestra, which was exceedingly good, while several people played cards and others enjoyed themselves in playing pool and billiards. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. About three hundred people were present, who all thought the Knights of Pythias were mighty fine hosts and who all wished for another "open house" meeting again in the near future.

In compliment to Miss Eunice Luper, a bride-elect, Mrs. Clarence Scott and Mrs. Enoch Jenks entertained several friends on Wednesday at the home of Miss Florence Jenks in Tangent. Music and games were enjoyed by the guests, and a unique feature of the evening was a "miscellaneous shower," given for Miss Luper. Centered on a table in the library was a basket filled with flowers, from which were stretched ribbons to different parts of the room. The bride-to-be was ushered into the room and told to find the end of each ribbon and upon doing so, she received many pretty and useful gifts. A dainty collation was served to about fourteen young ladies present.

Mesdames Charlie Stewart, Leroy Wood and Joseph Ralston entertained delightfully at a "tea" on Monday at the Stewart home, honoring Mrs. Harry Means Crooks. Little Miss Josephine Ralston received the guests at the door. The rooms were artistically decorated with quantities of French marigolds and ferns. Pouring at the attractively decorated dining table, centered with a basket of marigolds and yellow shaded candles, were Mesdames P. A. Young, E. D. Cusick, Rocky Mason and H. B. Cusick. About fifty ladies called during the afternoon to bid adieu to the charming guest of honor.

Complimenting Mrs. Weber (Alaska) and Mrs. Kruschke (California), the house guests of Mrs. Charles Monson, Mrs. J. A. W. Gardener entertained on Wednesday at her home, 827 Ferry street. "Bridge" was the game played during the evening and Mrs. Weber scored high and Mrs. Brandeberry was awarded the consolation prize. A dainty collation rounded out the evening's pleasure. The privileged guests included Mesdames Weber, Kruschke, Charles Monson, D. H. Brattin, E. C. Brandeberry, J. J. Barrett, F. M. Pugh, W. L. Marks, J. G. Bigham, Francis Arnold, Allan Cogates and the hostess.

Miss Edna Coles and Mrs. Glen Willard entertained for the members of the Queen Esther Circle of the Methodist church on Monday at the home of Miss Coles, on West Sixth Street. Games, music and fancy work made up the evening's pleasure, followed by a dainty collation.

Miss Messner of Medford, who is attending the University of Oregon, was the guest this week of Mrs. John Kirkland and Miss Rebecca Veal.

The By-Friday club of Sunrise met with Mrs. Carl Armpriest yesterday. Fancy-work followed by a social hour, was very much enjoyed, after which choice refreshments were served. The members of the club include Mesdames John Warner, Homer Dowd, Roy Dowd, Robert Torbet, Albert Risley, Carl Armpriest and Miss Elizabeth Smith.

For the pleasure of Mrs. C. C. Page, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Swan presided over a pretty dinner party on Wednesday. The latter part of the evening was devoted to playing cards.

Additional covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Austin and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Reagan.

The T. E. D. E. girls gave a "pot luck supper" on Thursday at the home of Misses Edna Laubner, Pauline Burch and Lila McCoy.

The Catholic Ladies Social Circle entertained Wednesday evening in the church parlors in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mickel. "500" was played at five tables. The evening closed with a delightful lunch. Mr. and Mrs. Mickel soon move to Salem and they will be greatly missed in church, social and business circles.

Mrs. J. J. Lindgren entertained at a one o'clock luncheon Thursday afternoon, complimenting Mrs. A. A. Mickel. After luncheon the afternoon was enjoyably passed playing "500." The guests were Mesdames A. A. Mickel, C. Meyer, Sr., Frank Eyrond, J. F. Dooley, W. R. Blyeu, R. C. Waller, Wm. Pfeiffer, L. Goff, Grant Pirtle, Peter Paulus, and Miss Anna Schultz.

The Nineteen Hundred and Eleven "500" club entertained Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. L. Goff and Miss Anna Schultz in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mickel, who leave soon for their new home in Salem. After cards dainty refreshments were served. As a token of remembrance, Mr. and Mrs. Mickel were presented with a gift. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mickel, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dorgan, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lindgren, Mrs. L. Goff, Mrs. Peter Paulus, Mrs. Wm. Pfeiffer, Misses Stella Dorgan, and Anna Schultz; Messrs. J. F. Dooley, Frank Pirtle and Ora D. Baker.

Mrs. B. W. Taylor and Mrs. D. D. Hackleman entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the Grace Presbyterian church on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Taylor on Ninth and Sherman streets.

Tuesday, November thirtieth is the date set for the bazaar in the First Presbyterian church. Many dainty and useful articles will be on sale at that time.

A very pleasant social event occurred on Sunday, November seven, at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ekstrand, about two and one-half miles above Albany, near the Corvallis road, when that worthy couple, formerly and for seven years residents of Portland but for three years past residents of this locality, celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage by having a wedding with due ceremonies. The pleasant bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Ekstrand, a home residence resembling more a modern city building than a farm abode, surrounded by well kept, and flowered grounds, elegantly furnished throughout, was very artistically and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Mrs. Ekstrand wore her wedding dress of ten years ago and standing by her stalwart and genial husband appeared young and winsome as a new bride. An elaborate dinner was served, the tables being loaded with the best of farm and market products, prepared by Mrs. Ekstrand in a manner to do credit to a first class chef. Many appropriate gifts soon loaded the sideboard, of suitable character, consisting chiefly of fine aluminum wares. Ceremonials and dining completed, the company spent a pleasant afternoon and evening with toasts, character sketches, vocal and instrumental music, congratulations, speech-making and the like, and all in all there was had a most enjoyable time, to be long and favorably remembered by all present. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Edholm, Mr. Thonkrud Edholm, Mr. Chester Edholm, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Edholm, Harold Edholm, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kitchen, Lynn Kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Tapper, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hawley, Miss Hazel Hawley, Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Miss Hannah Anderson, Miss Agnes Anderson, Miss Irene Tapper, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nitzel (Shedd, Or.), Mr. Fred Plant, Mr. Oliver Fritch, Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Childstrom, Miss Amy Parsons, Mr. George Anderson.

Don't forget the parcel post bazaar at the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday, November the thirtieth. The ladies have been working hard to make it a success, so come out and help them. There will be a candy booth, where many good things to eat, may be purchased. Many dainty and useful articles for Christmas gifts will also be on sale. Last but not least, dinner will be served by the ladies.

Mrs. A. Bowers was a delightful hostess on Friday when she entertained for the members of the Paxtang club at her home on East Seventh street. "500" was the game played at three tables and in the late afternoon, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

The Priscilla club members were royally entertained on Thursday by Mrs. Fred Ward on East First street. The ladies enjoyed a social hour together in sewing and music, after which a dainty repast was served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames W. V. Merrill, Walton Worrell and little Miss Marelyn Ward. Mesdames Grant Pirtle, D. Biddle, Earl Fisher, Charles Monson, Webber (Alaska), Kruschke (California), and W. V. Merrill.

Miss Elda Pettibone entertained the Beta Gamma girls on Thursday at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Myer on West Seventh street. Supper was served "cafeteria style," and the latter part of the evening was passed in games and fancy-work. The personnel of the club include Misses Ruth Rawlings, Ruth Lockner, Letha Cummings, Hazel Hall, Faye King, Laverne Hollich and Elda Pettibone.

Mrs. Rollin Hackleman and Miss Marion Stanford were hostesses for the D. P. M. Girls on Tuesday at the home of the former. The election of officers took place, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Archie Metzgar; first vice president, Miss Velma Davis; secretary, Miss Sarah Jewell, and treasurer, Miss Claire Tillman. Music and fancy work made up the latter part of the evening's pleasure, followed by a choice collation. Mrs. Burton of Eugene was an honored guest. Additional members present, included Mrs. C. V. Little, Mrs. John Penland, Misses Pera Wilkins, Volena Smith, Lucy Ashton, Clare Morgan, Mae Tillman, Maude Miller, Edith Smith and Edna Laubner.

Mrs. Orrin Anderson entertained for the members of the Kensington club on Thursday at her home, 319 W. Third street. The ladies passed the afternoon in fancy work and a social hour, after which choice refreshments were served. The members present were Mesdames Lau, Byers, Clifford, Parker, Jones, Beauchamp, Wilson, and Anderson. The hostess complimented on this occasion Mesdames Roy Chapler, J. C. Creamer, Whitney, Harder and Waldo Anderson.

On Tuesday night the members of the W. C. T. U. and their husbands were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. L. E. Blain. A splendid program was given, which consisted of a duet by the Misses Inman, a report of the national convention in Seattle, by Miss Henrietta Brown, a solo by Miss Brown and several speeches by Messrs. F. M. French, A. L. Ryder, C. E. Clifford, Bray, Smith, Nutting, Palmer, Bodine, Blain and Geselbracht. Dainty refreshments closed a very enjoyable evening.

Complimenting Miss Margaret Stewart, a bride-to-be, Miss Myrtle Worley entertained the young ladies of the Twilight club on Wednesday at a "miscellaneous shower." Supper was served "cafeteria style" and the latter part of the evening was passed in sewing for the bride elect. Miss Stewart was the recipient of many

Young Fellows' Overcoats

The style in overcoats for young fellows has a decided ring to it, a something that makes him look different, and more dressed up.

A velvet collar, unlined or lightly lined body, coat about knee length, back not as full as last year but loose, one model with tight fitting back, Raglan or set in sleeve, lapel rather wide and short. Cloth is rough and heavy, and colors are brown with tan or green variations, or gray shades.

These chilly days with their downpour of rain makes an overcoat or raincoat a necessity. We can supply you with anything in the raincoat or overcoat line and assure you of quality.
