This week will mark the passing of the Christmas shopping. We don't sometimes realize it, but nevertheless, about half of the pleasure of gifts is in the selecting. Our wide aisles, splendid light, display of merchandise and cheerful, proficient salespeople, will all aid, in making your last days of shopping successful and a real pleasure.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, the store will be open until eight-thirty.

This is the storehouse for many of Santa Claus's presents. The confidence that most children have in Santa Claus is well placed. He is just as real as parents. The representatives that we see are only impersonators. They act the part the same as characters on the stage. But Santa is real. He is good. He is big-hearted and generous. You ask where is the genuine and who is he?

He is everywhere in happy homes, in stores, in churches, because Santa Claus is love.
