GETTING READY FOR JAN. 1

The mails are flooded these days with circular letters from liquor deal ers, particularly from San Francisco After the first of the year it will be illegal to advertise liquor in any shape, hence the mails will be resorted to, requiring names, which are now being sought. A San Francisco solicitation for business is sugges tive. It reads:

To you, Friend-You have probably used our goods for years but the direct relation of buyer and seller has been absent. You know our goods but you do not know us, so we hasten to mention that w are "Delighted to meet you." This changed method of handling the busi ness of the northwest is unnatural to us and will probably be more so t you; we therefore want to get right up close to you and say "Friend, w want to make your ordering as eas; for you as possible, and will handle your every order 'Within the Law.'

MAKING FILMS.

The development of the manufac turing of films for the show houses is one of the wonders of the age. The business is so lucrative that every where there have sprung up large in stitutions for the setting of the playfor the films. Southern California because, of its climate, is perhaps the greatest in the world. Another one i Jamaica, where, it is said the William Fox Corporation is producing a mildollar production, already $375. 000 having been spent. One thous and tons of properties have been sent there and $175,000 spent for cos-

The government regulation of the Island of Jamaica forbids the landing of any animal, not even a dog is permitted to enter, but owing to the large expenditure of money and the employment of native help, hotel ex pense, etc., the government of Jamai ca gave Wm. Fox special permission permitting the entry of the wild animals necessary for the production o this wonder photoplay. By arrange ment with a South African firm o wild animal importers there has been landed in Jamaica 75 camels, an assortment of lions, and panthers.

In the staging of a battle scene no less than 25,000 people took part, and fortunately for the producers, 10,000 Hindoos who worked on the Panama Canal were interned at Jamaica at the outbreak of the big war and through permission of the British government they are also being used in the pic ture. A large detachment of the na tive born whites are being used for army purposes and are also used in the picture in costumes supplied from the United States. There was also drafted from the service 5,000 horses used by the cavalry on the island.

Newspapers of Oregon Helped Mate rially to Make Oregon Exhibits Great Success.

San Francisco, Dec. 20, 1915. Albany Democrat: Nothing has een more instrumental in the ackowledged success of Oregon's undertaking at the Panama-Pacific Incernational Exposition than the hearty friendly interest of the newspaper men of Oregon. In the preliminary work incident to arousing interest and gathering exhibits the Oregon press performed an invaluable servce. In sending to the Oregon Build ng for filing purpose and public perusal, and in finding it possible and desirable to use any portion of the news matter sent out from this building, the Oregon newspapers have performed another splendidly helpful service At this time, as the Exposition period is about to close, the Commission desires to express its sincere appreciaon of this generous cooperation and to acknowledge its deep sense of obligation. I would urge you to accept this expression as anything but the stereotyped "card of thanks," but rather as a sincere grateful acknowledgement of a truly helpful service that has been noted and frequently commented on by the Commission when in formal session and privately as well.

As you know, the Commission has served the state two years and wholly without compensation. It's whole effort has been an entirely unselfish service in behalf of the state we all love and which we hope will be made more populous and prosperous as a result of the endeavor here whatever success there has been the Oregon press also has certainly contributed its full share, and it is our onfidence that the results will show nightily during the coming years.

It may be of interest to you to know that the Oregon appropriation for use at the Exposition has been so carefully conserved that there still ample within the fund to finish the work here in accordance with ontracts and the State act.

Yours truly, OREGON COMMISSION, Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

GEO. M. HYLAND, Managing Secretary.

Difference In Woods. Timber is classed as hard or soft, and the main point of difference between the trees that produce these chases is that the soft wooded tree has "needle traves." slim, narrow and dmest uniform in breadth, while the hard wood trees have broad leaves of various shapes. Again, some soft wood frees carry comes, such trees be increased conifers. Resin, too, is more characteristic of soft than of hard wood. To the class of soft woods clong the pines, spinces and firs, and the most common examples of these are yellow pine, white fir. pitch pine and sprace or red fir. In the common r hard woods are onk, beech, mahog any, ash, wainut, plane, elm, birch and

By the Railroads and Public Utilities Companies During a Period of Depression.

Salem, Or., Dec. 21.—Oregon rail-roads expended $2,822,068 in exten-sions and improvements to their lines in this state during the 12 months cuding June 30 last, while utilities ex-pended $2.729.972 in betterments and extensions, according to figures com-piled from the ninth annual report of the Public Service Commission. The report is now in the hands of the state printer.

The Oregon-Washington Railway & Navigation company led others line in Oregon in the amount of its im-provements, expending $1,569,000. Starting operations January 30, 1915 the Willamette Valley Southern Rail way company built its road from Ores gon City to Mount Angel at a cost of $635,000. By obtaining trackage rights from the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, the new road now operates its trains withou t change from Portland to Mount Angel. The Southern Pacific during the L aonths ending June 30 last expended total of $252,420 in additions and bet erments.

With the exception of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, whose expenditures amounted to $116,500 other lines in the state made improvements of less than $100,000.

the report shows.

Utility reports indicate considerable rebuilding of lines and replacement of equipment during the year, in addition extensions made into new territor The total expenditures of $2,729,972, segregated, show electric utility betterments equaled $935,472; gas, $455,414; telegraph, $19,800; telephone, $1,216,724; water, $84,562.

OUR NAVEL ORANGES.

Got Them From Brazil, When They Were First Cultivated.

The navel orange first appeared at Bahia, Brazil, as a bud sport of the Portuguese variety of orange, Laranja selecta, and was first propagated by a Portuguese gardener at Bahia in 1822 These statements and those that fol low are made on the nutbority of A. D. Shamel, physiologist of the United States department of agriculture, Riverside, Cal., who tells in the Journa of Heredity the results of an expedition to Brazil made by himself, P. H Dorsett and Wilson Popence.

There are about 50,000 trees growing navel oranges at Bahia. The navel orange was introduced into the United States in 1873 by Wil tiam Saunders, horticulturist and land scape gardener of the patent office He got the American consul to send him some of the trees, which he bud ded on seedlings grown in the government greenbouses. He sent two to Mrs. L. C. Tibbetts of Riverside, Cal. and the others to Florida. The latter never amounted to much, but the for mer thrived and are still living and bearing fruit. All the navel orange trees in California are their progeny There are about 100,000 acres of thi variety in that state, and about 10,000. 000 boxes are produced every year.

The navel orange cannot be grown from seed, as it contains no seed. It is in California generally budded upon stocks from the Mission sweet seed

THE SEVEN DAYS' KING.

and Tumultuous Career of Neapolitan Fisherman. In 1647, when the kingdom of Na ples was under the grinding rule of Spain, a fisherman of Sorrento was stung to madness by the indignities offered his wife by Spanish officials be ause she had attempted to smuggle ew handfuls of flour. So furlous wa he that he tore down an edict that had just been posted by the authorities.

The whole population, including women and children, railled around him Forty years of Spanish oppression had made them frantic. They terrified the viceroy, resisted the soldiers success fully and killed many of the Spanis residents. They secured a revocation of oppressive edicts, the abolishment of oppressive taxes and full pardon for o engaged in the insurrection all who engaged in the insurrection.

The fisherman, whose name was Massanielo, was the leader in all this and became the idol of the people. He ruled Naples for seven days, but his success seems to have turned his bead He became dictatorial and oppressive and was put to death by the populace Hence he is called the "seven days king."-Argonaut.

"We" and "They." In the smaller towns and country dis tricts people say "we" when they speak of governmental activity. "We" built the courthouse and got it done at low cost. "We" organized the high school 'We" pay the expenses of keeping pris oners in the fail.

In the big cities people say "they,"
"Why don't 'they' do thus and so?"
People wonder when the city government falls down. It isn't a personal matter with them. The government isn't their government. It belongs to somebody else.
There is a world of difference in the two attitudes. When the people of the cities get to saying "we" about their cities and counties, then they are going to clean house and take possession. Kansas City Star.
