CARRANZISTAS AFTER VILLISTAS

500 Soldiers Sent After the Desperadoes, and Ordered to Show No Mercy.

MASSACRE ONE OF MOST BRUTAL ON RECORD

Report That Twelve More Amer- icans Have Been Shot, In- cluding Two Women.

(By United Press)
Chihuahua, Jan. 13.—General Trevino sent 500 Carranzistas to pursue the marauders who killed the Americans. He ordered them to show no mercy.

El Paso, Jan. 13.—The funeral train bearing the bodies of the eighteen Americans, the massacre victims, arrived this morning. A silent crowd of several hundred gathered at the station, and watched the removal of the tarpaulin covered corpses into auto trucks.

Jose Sanchez, a Mexican mining employe, said American friends of the murdered men risked their lives, boldly rushing into view of the marauders to recover the bodies.

Pablo Lopez, in charge of the looting out car, said "If you want to see fun, just watch us kill these Gringos," and ran through the coach crying "Viva Villa." They heard volley shots. Manager Watson and four other Americans were running in different directions. The Villistas were shooting. The bandits dropped on their knees and picked them off. The other Americans were rounded up. The bandits nearly fought for the privilege of shooting the Americans. They shot one at a time. Some gasped and writhed. Lopez ordered no mercy to those shot. The bodies were then completely stripped of their clothing. Fourteen of the bodies were piled together in a heap near the track.

General Banda, and twelve other former Villistas were thrown into jail to guard against violence from Americans, following the discovery of a plot to lynch Salazar.

Washington, Jan. 13.—It is officially reported that the Mexican firing squad killed Burt Kramer, an American rancher, in the Guerrero district Friday.

Senator Lewis asked congress to clothe the president with authority to intervene forcibly in Mexico. While Lewis defended the administration policy of watchful waiting, Representative Slayden, on the other side of the capitol, declared patience is exhausted, and fiercely denounced the policy. Ambassador Arredondo pledged action to revenge the assassinations, and protect Americans in the future. It is believed Arredondo's message presents the possibility of the solution of the Mexican trouble. Senator Slayden's speech was greeted with uproarious applause.

El Paso, Jan. 13.—Chihuahua reports 12 Americans, including two women, massacred at Madera, near the scene of Monday's murders. This has aroused indignation afresh. El Pasoans are in a fighting mood. Extra police have been ordered ready for riot duty.

SOUTH DAKOTA EDITOR A VISITOR IN ALBANY

Former President Nat'l Editor- ial Assn., and Member of Legislature Likes Oregon.

South Dakota people living in the neighborhood of Albany may recognize the name of one of their old fellow-staters in Hon. R. E. Dowdell, of Artesian, S. D., who was in the city today enroute from Brownsville, where he and Mrs. Dowdell have been visiting at the home of F. M. Trindle, to Corvallis, where they will visit other former residents of Dakota. Mr. and Mrs. Dowdell are making a tour of the west and are on their way to Los Angeles, the San Diego exposition and other places of interest in the south where they will spend the winter.

Mr. Dowdell is a newspaper man, having been in the business for 31 years before he sold out his interests a year ago and retired to the real estate business. For 27 years he has been a member of the national Editorial association, and is a past president of that body, as well as the state association of his home state. He spoke familiarly and kindly of such Oregon writers of his acquaintance as Edith Tozier Weathered, Albert Tozier, Will Steel, and others. At the time of his retirement, Mr. Dowdell was proprietor of three papers, the Artesian Advocate, the Woonsocket News and the Letcher Blade.

That he has made a success of his business is shown by the fact for three sessions he represented his county in the house and senate of the state legislature, being elected on the Democratic ticket in a district that was from 3 to 1 to 5 to 1 Republican majority against him. His son is now serving as county treasurer.

Mr. Dowdell is the owner of a 2000 acre farm on which he has built a summer resort. Last year he erected 43 cottages, and campers come to an amusement auditorium with hardwood floor, 200 by 48 feet in dimensions, was erected, the walls of which are of glass from the doors of the government building of the St. Louis exposition. There is also an opera house, pavilion, baseball park and an auto speedway, which was built last year and where the best auto meets of the state are now held.

Mr. Dowdell is charitable enough to accept the statement that the present weather is very unusual for the Willamete valley, but compares the thermometer, which registered a minimum temperature of 19 degrees above zero here with a temperature of 32 below zero at his home town last night, also admitting that this is not had as 58 degrees in Montana. He said that the valley looks good to him and sees no reason for a great development here in the next few years.

Geo. E. Campbell, of Eugene, is in the city on business.

WELLSDALE HAS GUN CLUB OF 25 MEMBERS

A new gun club, the Wellsdale Trap Shooting Club, has been organized in the vicinity of Albany, which promises to make the best trap shooters hurry to uphold their laurels. Wells Station is on the West Side branch of the S. P. line about seven miles west of this city.

The new club comprises a membership of 25, with S. E. Beal, president; C. G. Doedel, sec-treas., and P. B. Doedel, field captain.

Trap shooting has taken this rural community by storm, and while new at the game, several members are breaking 85 per cent of their birds at present. Gordon Ryals knocked 22 out of 25 last Sunday and finished today with a percentage of 92 out of 100.

Match shoots will be arranged with other gun clubs in the valley, and some of the members are contemplating entering the tournament at Portland.

ENTERED MEXICO AT THEIR RISK

President Says Americans Were Warned Specifically Against Going Into Country.

ADMINISTRATION WILL WATCH AND WAIT

Mexican Miners Enraged Be- cause Consul at Juarez Gave Men Passports.

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 13.—President Wilson stands squarely behind Secretary Lansing's statement that the Americans who entered Mexico, did so at their own risk. The White House made plain President Wilson's undeviated, watchful waiting policy, without intervention. It is stated that the Santa Ysabel victims were specifically warned against entering Mexico.

El Paso, Jan. 13.—Mexican miners, enraged because Consul Edwards, of Juarez, sided in getting the Santa Ysabel victims passports, forcibly ejected him from the lobby of the hotel Edwards fled and escaped. They followed, loudly denouncing him. Mining companies are considering raising a company of American volunteers to exterminate the Villa bandits, with permission of Gen. Carranza.

TODAY'S ODDDEST STORY.

- Oatman, Ariz., Jan. 13.—How would you like to walk 40 miles every time you took a bath?
- That's what the citizens of this place have to do. Either that or pay 20 cents a gallon for water.
- The mining boom is making the town grow at the rate of about 100 persons a day. The local water supply has to be teamed ed from Needles, Cal., 40 miles away. One enterprising citizen has a tent that brings him in $25 a month. He has installed eight cots which he rents at $1 each a night.

WHEAT IS FOUND

SHEEP UNCOVER 29 SACKS OF STOLEN GRAIN.

Mystery of Abraham Bros. Farm Solved Yesterday When Sheep Expose Sack to View.

The discovery of 29 sacks of wheat under last fall's straw pile solved the mystery of the disappearance of the grain at harvest time last September on the ranch of Abraham Brothers four miles west of the city.

One morning when the threshing crew went to work on the Abraham ranch an entire tier of wheat was missing. It was suspected that it was carried off, and deposited, but a search of the woods and other likely places revealed no trace of it.

Yesterday wide working on the place J. Biegle discovered some sacks under the straw pile and a closer investigation revealed all of the 29 sacks of wheat that had been stolen at harvest time. At that time there was considerable wheat stealing going on and it is thought that the perpetrators were afraid to remove the goods after having cached it. Sheep eating around the edge of the stack had uncovered the sacks. Most of the wheat is good for chicken feed, very little being entirely spoiled.

SEATTLE HAS A WATER FAMINE

Laundries and Elevators Have to Stop; Only Water For 24 Hours.

PORTLAND COVERED WITH TEN INCHES OF SNOW

Middle East in Grip of Storm; 23 Degrees Below Zero at Omaha.

Seattle, Jan. 13.—Because of continued shortage of water, the laundries and hydraulic elevators in all the buildings have been ordered closed in an effort to conserve the water supply. The pipe line was repaired today. When the gates were open the reservoirs contained only enough water to last 24 hours. Water users have been asked to refrain from scrubbing for a few days. Within a week there have been three breaks in the pipeline.

Portland, Jan. 13.—The city hired all the unemployed this afternoon to shovel snow from the streets and dump it into the river. Ten inches fell inside of 24 hours, making the worst storm of 23 years. The temperature is moderating this morning. The forecaster predicted occasional flurries of snow. It is slightly warmer throughout the Northwest, which has been in the grip of the storm for two days.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—At Omaha it is reported below zero. Traffic is demoralized in Kansas. The railroads refused to accept perishable freight.

Snow and Cold.

- Portland 8 inches, 2 above zero.
- Around Wenatchee, Wash., 18 below zero.
- Yamhill, 12 inches snow, 20 above zero.
- Pendleton, 7 degrees below zero.
- LaGrande, snow from a foot to six feet.

Dr. W. A. Cox went to Salem on the morning train.

TWO CHICAGO MEN ARE MOTORING THROUGH VALLEY

Have Come Up From San Fran- cisco Over the Siskiyou in Deep Snow.

Passing through the valley in a King Eight, A. H. Joseph and Glen Steele, of Chicago, have been having an experience, on account of the winter weather struck. They have made the trip, though, all the way from San Francisco, over the Siskiyou, where they encountered snow three or four feet deep. In one place it took two days to travel five miles, and at another place it required six horses to get them through; but they kept at it and got through, reaching Eugene yesterday evening. The men represent a house handling the mileometer, a machine geared to the front wheel, used to guide the driver as to direction and distance. Along the way service stations are being established, those from California through Oregon being Grants Pass, Roseburg, Eugene and Portland. At each station is a mileometer to guide the driver to the next station. With fourteen or fifteen inches of snow this side of Portland the prospect for reaching that city, the next station is somewhat uncertain, until the snow melts. Through this part of the valley, though, with only a couple of inches driving is not difficult.

HYDE LAND CASE IS UP AGAIN IN COURTS

State Files Suit to Require Accounting and Recover 47,000 Acres of Land.

A complaint was filed today by the State of Oregon vs. F. A. Hyde, et al, to recover 47,000 acres of land said to be fraudulently obtained by Hyde. This case was instituted before, but never reached the court docket, having been withdrawn to file amended complaints.

On February 17, 1904, an indictment was returned by the U. S. federal grand jury at Washington, D. C., against F. A. Hyde, John Benson, et al, charging them with conspiring to defraud the government of certain lands in Oregon, California and Washington.

The complaint filed by Attorney General Geo. M. Brown, states that 47,000 acres of land were wrongfully secured, that over 10,000 acres have been patented, that the land is worth more than $40,000, but Hyde is bankrupt and unable to pay on a judgment. Therefore the state asks that these lands be restored to the public domain, that Hyde be compelled to make an accounting of all moneys received from the sale of lands wrongfully received.
