

If there ever was a time when good warm serviceable shoes were needed, it is now. The tail end of the blizzard that we have been getting gives enough snow and sleet to make it decidedly unpleasant under foot. Don't take chances on a cold. Dry feet are the best preventions.

MANY IN ALBANY TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many Albany people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, some stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ika is astonishing. The Woodworth Drug Co.

PORTLAND WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

Portland, Jan. 12.—Cattle:—In the face of a large run of 1350 head, the market began on an upward trend and choice grain fed steers sold at $7.90. Hay feds sold a dime over last week, making the top $7.60. One feature of the market was that the bulk of the stuff was the best seen for some time. Cows are going at good strong prices with all other lines in proportion.

Hogs:—A good feeling with excellent quality and the market a nickle higher than the closing of last week's market bringing the top to the $6.90 mark is a very good way to express the situation at the North Portland Yards. Bulk of swine went at $6.85. North Portland is but a nickle under the Chicago market today.

Sheep:—A good run of sheep came forward over Sunday and lambs sold at $8.25. Ewes sold at $6.30 with all lines steady to stronger.

DIDN'T GET MONEYS WORTH.

Commercial Club of Corvallis Refuses flying about cheerily. Not much like to pay $100 Bill for Advertising Auto Route.

The Corvallis Commercial club was certainly busy at its meeting this week. It took until 11:30 to attend to all the business of the meeting, which the G. T. says was harmonious. One item is interesting. The club had a contract with the Portland Auto club, which published a guide book, under which it was to pay $100 for a two page writeup, but about the only thing was a statement that instead of following the Pacific Highway from Junction north the tourist could go via Monroe, Corvallis and Independence, and very little more information. In other words, the game was to get autoists passing through the valley to go by way of Corvallis instead of along the Pacific highway by way of Albany. The club evidently didn't think it was spread on quite thick enough in the guide book, and so ordered the bill disallowed.

Southern Pacific Co. orders 50,000 feet of lumber from Spaulding Logging Co., Salem, to shipped to Sacramento.

Japan has had a great shipbuilding boom and on account of its superior quality Douglas fir is being used extensively, though it costs 70 per cent more than native pine.

Life Struggle of the Trees.

An interesting light is thrown on the longevity of the trees that grow along the timber line of the Rocky mountains by Mr. Enos A. Mills in his "Rocky Mountain Wonderland" He says:

A few stunted live trees five a thousand years, but half this time is a ripe old age for most of the timber line veterans. The age of these trees can not be judged by their size or by their general appearance. There may be centuries of difference in the ages of two arm in arm trees of similar size. A examined two trees that were growing within a few yards of each other in the shelter of a crag. One was fourteen feet high and sixteen inches in diameter and had 337 annual rings. The other was seven feet high and five inches in diameter and had lived 492 years.

One day by the sunny and sheltered side of a boulder I found a tiny seed bearer at an altitude of 11,800 feet. How splendidly inconspicuous it was of its size and its utterly wild surrounding. This brave pine bore a dainty cone, yet a drinking glass would have completely housed both the tree and its fruit.

Conversing With "Ghosts."

Some scientists of recent prominence have accepted the postulate of the individuality and self-consciousness of the soul after the death of the body and have attempted to demonstrate their belief by asserting communication with these disembodied spirits. Sir William Crookes, a profound physicist in chemistry pertaining to radioactivity, asserted years ago that he had communication with souls of dead friends, but for several years he has been silent about this matter. A millicent Flammarion, a rather speculative and sensational astronomer, declares that he has seen and conversed with the "ghosts" of dead friends. Professor William James, brother of Henry James, the novelist, promised before he died that if possible he would communicate with his friend Professor Hyslop, both eminent psychologists, but at last accounts the soul of Professor James had not spoken.—Exchange

Mrs. N. E. Olin, who has been confined to her room the past six weeks with an attack of rheumatism is just able to sit up a little, but is reported to be getting along nicely.

NEW YORK COMPANY IN CONCERT THIS EVENING

The following article is part of what one of the Joliet, Ill., papers had to say about the New York Metropolitan Opera Company, which appears at the Globe theatre tonight, on their concert in that city a short time ago. Albany people were fortunate in being able to see this company of internationally famous artists at such low prices, a schedule of $1 to $3 per seat being their usual prices.

"Alex Skovgaard, the violinist, who played on his $13,000 instrument, won instant praise from the audience with his first number. He is an artist and his playing was splendid. His tones are pure and round; his technique was shown to splendid advantage in the many difficult passages in the Yankee Doodle selection by Viex-tempis. His command of the bow was free and easy in the phrasing of Schubert's "Serenade," which was given in masterly style. The Witches Dance, his own composition, was one of the best numbers given. He exhibited technique and harmony in this selection.

"Miss Byerly Wilson sang an excellent group of songs. The explanation of the solos preceding the singing by her, made them more interesting. She possesses a beautiful contralto voice of unusual range and brilliancy. One of her best numbers was Colby's "Destiny," written by Frank Colby of Los Angeles, Cal. Francis W. Cowles, baritone, sang Scena and Cavatina from "Faust," by Gounod, in costume. He has a rich, full voice of great dramatic power. He responded with "Denny D."

"Miss Alice McClung, the pianist, played Toccata D Minor, by Back-Busoni, a composition which is rarely attempted by young artists. Her accompaniments for the entire program were most satisfactory.

Miss Florence Hawking, a lyric soprano, charmed by her splendid rendition of "One Fine Day" from Madam Butterfly. She has a clear soprano voice and sang this number well. She was encored.

"The group of Swiss folk songs, sung in costume by Clara Freuler, mezzo soprano, were well delivered. Her interpretation of folk music was good.

"Barcarolle, from "The Tales of Hoffman," by Offenbach, by the entire company, closed the afternoon."

Dr. W. H. Davis received the unanimous vote for city health officer.
