MAN FOUND DEAD IN CABIN AT BREITENBUSH SPRINGS

William Daly, About Whom Little Is Known, One of Several Men at Springs.

According to a report from Detroit, sent out by John Osterhouse, William Daly was found dead in a cabin at the Breitenbush hot springs. The particulars were not known, but it is thought he died from natural causes, and it is possible the severe weather had something to do with it. There are said to be several men at the springs, but how many is not known. Nor is much known about Daly, though it was thought at Detroit that he has relatives in Texas. The snow is very deep between Detroit and Breitenbush, being over four feet at Detroit on the level, and it is hardly possible Daly's body could be brought out, and it would be difficult to get in to the Springs; so the probability is his body will be buried there. Coroner Clough, of Salem, was notified, and left this morning for Detroit to look after the matter. It is said the news was gotten out over the forest rangers' telephone line.

CHICAGO YOUNG LADY INTRODUCES NEW PLAYER

Concert Given of Unique Character, Artapello, Violin and Vocal.

Introducing the Artapello, a new piano player, to the people of Albany, Miss Ursula Dietrich, of Chicago, gave an enjoyable concert at the Presbyterian church last night, assisted by Miss Mary Schultz, of Salem, violinist, and Miss Blanche Hammel, of Corvallis, vocalist. Showing the characteristics of the Artapello Miss Dietrich presented several striking numbers, using two instruments, an accomplished pianist herself, at one time alternating from the Artapello to her own playing in such a way as to make it impossible to distinguish between the two; at another time playing a duet with the Artapello, a rare thing in music.

Miss Mary Schultz, one of the state's best violinists, was heard in several selections, a charming young lady, who plays with fine expression. Miss Hammel pleased the large audience with several selections, warmly applauded, presenting "At Dawning" and "The Song of the Soul" in the regular numbers.

PETE MILLER ELECTED CAPTAIN OF BASKET BALL

At a meeting of the high school basketball squad Wednesday evening Pete Miller was elected to captain the team for the rest of the season. Miller has made a great record as a football player and is a good basketball man and should prove a good leader for the team.

BAND MEXICANS TO BE EXECUTED

Said to Be Participants in the Massacre at Santasaybel Two Weeks Ago.

CARRANZA IS MAKING IT HOT FOR BANDITS

Reported Capture of Villa Probably Not True; Is Up in Mountains.

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 21.—Eighteen Mexican prisoners, alleged participants in the Santa Ysabel massacre, will be publicly executed at Chihuahua tomorrow. El Paso telegraphed this information to the state department. The evidence against them is not known.

There is no confirmation of the report that Villa has been captured. Officials have disbelieved it because such reports have been circulated a score of times recently.

El Paso, Jan. 21.—Eighteen bandits were executed in Chihuahua this afternoon, paying the penalty for the Santa Ysabel massacre. Official reports lack details, but it is believed they were lined before a firing squad in a public place. It is reported most of them participated in the murder of the Americans.

El Paso, Jan. 21.—General Herrera, commander of the Carranzistas in Chihuahua wired that there is no confirmation of the story that Villa had been captured. This followed the announcement of Consul that Villa is being brought to Juarez for execution. Officials admitted Villa is probably not captured. Meanwhile a new revolution at Torreon is progressing, with many killed. Four thousand Villistas and Zapatistas are reported to have declared the lives of Carranzistas and Americans forfeit, and seek the name of Felix Diaz for president. Arguendo is leading the revolt.

HENRY WALTHALL FEATURED AT GLOBE THEATRE TONIGHT

A new bill will be featured at the Globe Theatre today, headed by the three act drama, "The Outer Edge." The leads in this screen drama are played by Henry Walthall, leading man in Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation," and who will be seen here Monday in the big feature, "Avenging Conscience." He is assisted by Warda Howard in the feminine role.

"The Parson's Button Macher," is a funny Edison comedy and one of the best yet. Another comedy is "Fits and Chills," a Vitagraph featuring Harry Fisher and a whole strong cast. It is a good bill all the way through.

CHISWELL GIRL RETURNS HOME LAST EVENING

Had Spent Night With Another Girl and Three Men in a House Down River.

Myrtle Chiswell, who left the home of her grandmother Wednesday evening saying that she was going sleigh riding, returned about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She had been several miles down the river with a girl named Lola (Bobby) Adkins and three men, and spent the night in an old house in their company. The girl was brought before Deputy District Attorney W. L. Marks this morning but would make no admissions that would implicate others in the escapade.

Wednesday evening the Adkins girl and a man called for Myrtle Chiswell, posing as a Mr. and Mrs. Williams, and took her sleigh riding, saying that they would return in about an hour. After riding around for a short time they went to the river where two men were about to leave down the river, one to attend to some logging and the other to hunt coons. Permission was given the girls and their accomplices to go along, and all went down in the launch to a house about 11 miles north of the city.

In the house with the girls were three men. It is said a very hilarious night was spent, but the Chiswell girl will make no admissions that will implicate any of the others on a state charge.

STRONG STATEMENTS MADE AT THE SECURITY CONGRESS

One Man Says Navy Department Needs More Brains in Affairs.

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 21.—The absence of brain is the principal fault of the administration's naval program, Von Meyer told the National Security Congress. "With rare exception American warships have a full complement. They are now 35,000 men short. The fundamental defect is that there is no competent military organization charged with the preparation of fleets for war."

ALLY SQUADRON SILENCED FORTS

Landed on Bulgarian Territory But Saw Too Many and Turned Back.

THE TURKS ALSO SHELLED IN SAROS

Campaign Has Not Yet Assumed Proportions to Count Seriously.

(By United Press)
Athens, Jan. 21.—After two days of bombardment, the Anglo French squadron silenced the forts at Portolagos, in Bulgaria, and landed their troops. The landing party returned to the ships after a reconnaissance which showed superior forces of Bulgarians near by.

Sofia officially reported the bombardment of Portolagos and Dedeaghat, but did not mention the landing of the troops. Constantinople reported another squadron had shelled the Turks in the Gulf or Saros. Though Salonika reported heavy damage at Dedeaghat, Sofia announced there were no casualties. Aviators directed the Saros bombardment. Constantinople reported a cruiser struck thrice and withdrew burning.

AVENGING CONSCIENCE IS AN UNUSUAL PLAY

"Avenging Conscience," which ran at the Heilig Theatre, Portland, recently, to capacity audiences for a week, is a mystery story, but not in the ordinary sense of the word. The extraordinary imaginative genius of Poe has been transplanted to the screen by Griffith, and "Avenging Conscience" is really a picturization of some of Edgar Allen Poe's books and poems, particularly, "The Tell-tale Heart," and "Anabel Lea."

The entire cast of stars of "The Birth of a Nation," with the addition of Blanche Sweet, appears in "Avenging Conscience." The production of this picture in Albany next Monday is unusually notable, says Manager Ayres, of the Globe Theatre.

Silly Canard.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ARE MAKING UP TIME

Sixty-seven Who Cut Classes to Go Coasting Are Paying For Their Fun.

As a result of their playing hooky and going sledding early this week, 67 high school students are now doing penance and serving time to make up for what they missed.

Principal Young imposed a fine of four times the amount of time they lost on the afternoon they were out. It is figured that the amount of time to be made up is nine hours. By doing half an hour a day after school these 67 are sentenced to 18 days of remaining after school to make up lessons. In lieu of complying with this penalty the other alternative is taking all of the final examinations. There is considerable "honoring" in progress these days in different parts of the high school. But considering that snow only comes to Oregon once in several years those receiving the punishment say that the fun was worth the trouble.

BENTON COUNTY DEPUTY SENTS IMPLICATION OF LAXITY

Deputy Sheriff Clem States That There Were No Traces of Chiswell Girl at House.

E. E. Clem, deputy sheriff of Benton county, takes exception to the statement given out by an interviewer to the Democrat last evening in which it is inferred that he was lax in his duties in pursuing the Chiswell case yesterday afternoon. Mr. Clem admits having gone to the old farm house down the Spring Hill road, and to having come back and made his report to Chief of Police Catlin, and also to having gone back to the place. But he denies that there were any tracks in the snow and slush that would warrant making the statement that they were the foot prints of the girls sought. Mr. Clem says that most of the tracks seen were made by the officers themselves, and that there was but one woman's track, which was made by a relative of the girl and admitted to have been made by her.

The fact that Myrtle Chiswell and her escorts were never at this place, but 11 miles down the river exonerates Clem from any blame in not capturing the parties wanted and relieves him from any ridicule at the hands of his associates.

As a result of the meeting of the members of the court with the railroad officials, a rate for the transportation of gravel and road building materials was obtained that will enable the county to assist the various road districts to a greater extent than ever in the building of good highways.

73 HYPHENATED ARRESTS MADE

Also Four Corporations in Connection With American Union Plots.

GOVERNMENT ALSO BUSY WITH OREGON GRANTS

Titles of Those Who Bought in Good Faith Will Probably Be Validated.

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 21. — Attorney General Gregory advised the house judiciary committee that the government had indicted 73 persons, and four corporations in connection with investigations of hyphenated American plots.

Attorney General Gregory and Senator Lane asked advice of congress about legislation for the relief of homesteaders in the Oregon Grant Lands. Representative Norris believed it necessary to validate the titles of many who bought in good faith. It is said this is one of the most important problems before congress. The supreme court has set six months limit on congressional action.

GABORIAN DRAMA TONIGHT "THE WIDOW LE RANGE"

No more strange and thrilling story was ever written than "The Family Spin," adapted from "The Widow LeRogue," and produced by William Fox. It is a mystery story of far more than usual interest. In this story, Emile Gaborian gives greater play to his fantastic mind than any other story that he ever wrote.

The Widow LeRogue, a strange woman who lived in a small community, one morning is found murdered in her home. The local police find the situation too big for them to cope with, whereupon an amateur detective, an old old man of wealth named Talbert, is sent for and he begins to unravel the mystery. Such a tangle of complications as ensue are rarely, if ever, found in any detective story. The trail leads from the humble widow's cottage to the home of a powerful man, who stands high in the government. It appears that many years before this, the high official, Commarin, was in love with a beautiful girl. He is forced, however, by his haughty family, to marry a girl in his own station of life. A child is born to the woman he wanted to marry and to his own wife at almost the same time.

From here on the play works out to a sure, swift climax, and the situations that ensue are full of mystery and deepest interest to the end. Those who saw the play as it will appear at the Rolfe Theatre tonight, at San Francisco during the fair say it is one of the best they have yet seen.
