CITY NEWS

Two Legs Broken—

Two O. A. C. students had their legs broken while coasting at Corvallis. Arlo D. Wright, of Haratine Island, Wash., and Herman Moore, of Bend. They were coasting on a hill near the Catholic cemetery, on a toboggan, with three others, the young men being in the middle, when a stone was struck.

In Corvallis—

Miss Ruby Winkley, of Albany, has come to Corvallis to spend several days here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. B. C. Irvine, her brother, H. L. Winkley, and their families.—G. T.

Modern Travelers Meet—

The Modern Travelers' will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Lee on Eleventh and Ferry streets at 2:45.

Met With an Accident—

Eston Dockstader, formerly of this city, but now of Eugene, while coasting down the golf links there, collided with another sled, with the result that Eston received a severely sprained knee, laying him up for several days.

Fixing Car Line—

A gang of men today have been busy fixing the street car line, injured by the recent snow and cold snap. At the crossing particularly the bricks were raised and distorted, requiring considerable adjustment to get things on level. The damages altogether is several hundred dollars.

Next Library Lecture—

The next lecture of the library course will be by Dean Alden, of Willamette University, on Mexico, an up-to-the-minute subject, and will be given at the library auditorium on Thursday evening of next week. Hereafter the course will consist almost entirely in lectures, of an instructive as well as entertaining character.

Final Account Filed—

The final account of the estate of the late Mabel C. Simpson was filed today by Mrs. Merle Cathey, executrix of the estate.

Old Residents Register—

County registrar Mrs. G. W. Cruson, of Lebanon, in calling on different homes in that city for the purpose of registering women under the permanent registration act, has registered two who are over 91 years old. These are Mrs. Susannah Peterson and Mrs. Sarah Davidson, Grandma Millsap, says the Lebanon Express, has also been registered, and is over 83 years of age. All intend to vote at the next election. So far Lebanon is the best district in the county for registration, having forwarded more cards to the county clerk than any other place outside of Albany.

Have Taken Charge—

Mrs. Hammel & McInnis have taken charge of the Albany Garage, and will refer to be on their job. In fact are already starting out with a good business. They expect to branch out along many lines, making their garage one automobile people will seek. They also intend to have the agency later of automobiles.

Hill in Lebanon—

Gale S. Hill, district attorney, went to Lebanon this morning to attend to matters connected with his office.

Inspected Watches—

F. M. French returned to the city last evening after a four days' trip inspecting watches for the S. P. Co. His work took him over the West Side lines and on the main line from Portland to Albany. He will make another trip next week. One day this week when near Suver he was on a train that was held up five hours in a snow drift.

Weather Report—

Yesterday's temperature ranged between 34 and 40 degrees. The rainfall was 21 inches and the river rose to 4.0 feet.

Three Cougars Killed—

Forest Supervisor F. H. Brundage reports news coming from the ranger station at Cascadia stating that John Short, a prominent rancher of Cascadia has killed three cougars this winter and C. T. Springer, a forest ranger, has killed a wolf recently. This makes six cougars killed near Cascadia this winter, the most killed in that section for several years.

Manager Ira Hutchings, of the Growers' association, passed through the city this morning on his way from Brownsville to Portland.

Miss Mary Schultz, who assisted in the concert in the Presbyterian church last evening, returned to her home in Salem this morning.

Miss Blanche Hammel left on the morning train for Portland. She assisted in the concert last evening at the Presbyterian church.

FLEW AMERICAN FLAG.

British Steamer's Masquerade Saved a Cargo of $5,000,000.

According to members of the crew of the British steamship City of Lincoln, which arrived in Boston from the far east, the captain of the vessel adopted all possible devices for eluding submarines in the Mediterranean, even to displaying the American flag and painting out of the name all except the word "Lincoln." Nothing was seen, however, of submarines, and barring tempestuous weather in the Atlantic, the voyage was not unusual.

Big shipments of rubber and slab tin formed important items of the cargo. The vessel brought in 4,000 tons of rubber, valued at approximately $1,300,000, and 2,400 tons of tin, estimated to be worth upward of a million dollars. The total value of the cargo was $5,000,000. Sixty-six thousand cases of bean oil, loaded at Dalny, Japanese Manchuria, comprised one of the largest shipments of the kind ever brought here. The City of Lincoln also had large consignments of spices, tapioca, sago flour, rattans and curios.

WAR HITS FRENCH THEATERS.

Receipts Cut Nearly in Two, but Movies Suffer Little.

Official returns show that the receipts at theaters and other entertainment houses in Paris in 1915 amounted to only 41,500,000 francs ($8,300,000) as compared with 68,500,000 francs ($13,700,000) in 1913.

The theaters took in 11,000,000 francs ($2,200,000) during the past year as compared with 20,000,000 francs ($4,000,000) during 1913; the concert receipts were 5,000,000 francs ($1,000,000) against 8,000,000 francs ($1,600,000); the decrease in the receipts from musicals was 8,000,000 francs, while the receipts from balls decreased from 1,250,000 francs ($250,000) in 1913 to 700,000 francs ($140,000) during the past year.

A feature of the returns is the fact that the moving pictures were affected little by the war. The receipts of the movies decreased from 81,500,000 francs ($16,300,000) in 1913 to 81,250,000 francs ($16,250,000).

Guy Lewelling returned to the city this morning after spending the night at the home of his father near Tangent.
