AIR WARFARE.

The new system of warfare, with Zeppelins, is being watched with great interest by Americans. Whether it can play any serious part in the fight between the Allies and Teutons is yet to be seen. It is very doubtful if it can have a greater effect than to annoy people. Fifty or sixty killed in one raid can have no material effect one way or the other. About all such a thing does is to frighten innocent people. Ten times as many killed would be a small thing in a big war. It is possible it may be thought such raids will have a moral effect in striking a balance. Otherwise no actual results can be figured out. If war is a matter of revenge another phase to the system is revealed, one that makes the word hell a tame one.

PRESIDENT WILSON.

A great deal has been said about President Wilson running for reelection, it being declared that he promised to run only once. It is not likely that he made any such definite promise; but if he did all the circumstances surrounding the matter call for his candidacy again, particularly as it is backed not only unanimously by his party, but as well by many in other parties. The situation calls for his continuation as president another term. In a marked manner he has shown himself equal to one of the most trying ordeals in the history of the United States, and it will not be over for several years. It would be a great mistake to change horses in the middle of the stream. This argument sounds familiar, one often used; but it is applicable now if it ever is. What this country owes the president cannot be figured in dollars and cents. It is beyond placing a price to it. The masses have confidence in Mr. Wilson's integrity, as they have in no other person today, and it will be shown by the result in November, according to the indications at the present time.

MILLS THRIVING.

The woolen and worsted mills in New England are thriving, according to the statistical review of the Textile World Journal. This condition is said to be representative of the entire country. Idle mills were started, partly owing to war orders and it is difficult to find a mill capable of manufacturing profitably without extensive rebuilding, that has not been leased or purchased and put in operation. The American Woolen company has acquired another mill in Maine, besides making many important improvements and increases in its various plants. The United States Worsted Company has largely re-equipped and started up the Iroquois Mills at Saugus, Mass., after an idleness of many years. The Bigelow-Hartford Carpet company is bringing about manufacturing economies by building new mills at Thompsonville, Conn., and at Clinton, Mass., and converting machinery from Lowell, Mass. Extensive rebuilding operations are under way at the Sanford Mills at Sanford, Me.

MISFITS

The following from the Chicago Heartstone has a jingle to it that makes one stand up and take notice:

There was an old geezer and he had a lot of sense; He started up a business on a dollar eighty cents.

The dollar for stock and the eight for an ad Brought him three lovely dollars in a day, by gad!

Well, he bought more goods and a little more space And he played that system with a smile on his face.

The customers flocked to his two-by-four And soon he had to hustle for a regular store.

Up on the square, where the people pass;

He gobbled up a corner that was all plate glass.

He fixed up the windows with the best that he had. And he told 'em all about it in a half page ad.

He soon had 'em coming and he never, never quit. And he wouldn't cut down his ads one bit.

Well, he's kept thing humming in the town ever since. And everybody calls him the Merchant Prince.

Some say it's luck, but that's all bunk. Why, he was doing business when the times were punk.

People have to purchase and the geezer was wise— For he knew the way to get 'em was to advertise. The end.

The fellow who keeps at a thing gets there in time.

Genius is work without any let-up, and that spells success.

February, the hardest month of the year to spell, ought to be a decent month this year compared with Jan.

Candidates are bobbing up, glad of whatever help will be given them.

Running for office is a one-sided affair until the other fellow asks for reciprocity, and he generally gets it with some asafetidae.

The time comes in the lives of men when it takes a whole artillery of things to enthuse them over the election of alleged friends.

One of the best things in the world is a good forgetter.
