Tremont hall was the scene of a pretty affair on Monday, when a reception was given at which time the engagement of Miss Ruth Eddy, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. B. L. Eddy of Roseburg to Mr. Clarence W. Tebault, Jr., of this city, was announced. A social evening was enjoyed and at a late hour refreshments were served. During the evening, Miss Brown, accompanied by Miss Waggoner, sang several solos. Miss Eddy and Mr. Tebault were united in marriage on Tuesday at high noon by Roseburg at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Mr. Paul J. Lux, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiated, in the presence of the family and a few friends. The bride has been a very popular member of Albany College for the past year and has made many friends in this city. The groom is a well-known newspaper man of Albany, being connected with the Albany Evening Herald and the Portland Journal.

In celebration of his birthday, Mr. Henry Vollstedt was host on Monday to a coterie of young people in his rooms on Sixth and Ferry streets. Games and music were very much enjoyed and a dainty repast rounded out the evening's pleasure. The privileged guests included Mr. and Mrs. Olliver, Misses Velma Davis, Mae and Claire Tillman, Kate Stewart, Helen Essex, Pauline Burch, Stella Dorgan, Volena Smith, Pera Wilkins, Christine Pipe, Messrs. Arthur Wilcox, Gus, Julius and Alfred Abraham, Elmer Williamson, Walter Woods, C. P. Stevens, Ora Baker, Hiram Torbet, and Prof. Hodge.

On Friday the Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Robert Veal. The following program was given, which was very much enjoyed: Song, reading of scripture by Mrs. R. A. Howard, reading of fourth chapter of the "King's Highway" by Mrs. Littler. Mrs. Glen Willard sang a solo, Miss Ora Harkness gave a reading, which was very much enjoyed. There was a large attendance and several visitors. The hostess, assisted by Mesdames C. V. Littler, Virgil Parker and H. C. Harkness, served a dainty luncheon.

Mrs. H. Lemke opened her beautiful home on Wednesday to the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church. An interesting program was given which consisted of paper on "Righteousness" by Mrs. Robert Veal; "Evangeline" by Mrs. Kendall; and "Training for Jesus," by Mrs. Veal. Mrs. Hockensmith took charge of the missionary program and Mrs. J. A. Howard read from the text book. Miss Inez Lemke accompanied by Miss Hazel Hockensmith, sang a solo and Miss Mary Parker gave a reading, after which a social time was enjoyed and a dainty repast served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Stanford and Mrs. N. D. Conn.

To be chosen by Miss Minnetta Major, of Salem, as a patroness at the De Gogorza concert, which was given in the Grand Theatre in Salem last Monday, was the honor which was bestowed upon Mrs. Anna Marshall Powell, of this city. A crowded house greeted de Gogorza and he was highly appreciated. Mrs. Powell said "I think he is the most wonderful singer I have ever heard."

Invitations were issued this week by the Albany Military club, for their annual dance to be given on Tuesday, February twenty-second, in the Armory. As this ball will be the only large dancing party of the season, no doubt a large crowd will attend.

Mrs. Frank Eyron was a delightful hostess on Thursday, when she entertained the members of the Harmony Bridge club. Cards were played until the late afternoon, when dainty refreshments were served.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church met in the church on Wednesday, for an afternoon of work.

Mesdames A. W. Bowersox and W. C. Tweedale were hostesses at a one o'clock luncheon served at four small tables on Thursday, when their guests included the members of the Royal Bridge club. The latter part of the afternoon was passed in playing cards. Mrs. Phillip Carroll (Hood River), Mrs. Charles Monson and Mrs. John French, J. K. Haight were honored guests.

The Pythian Sisters met on Tuesday in the lodge rooms. A pleasant evening was passed in needlework and a social hour, after which a choice collation was served by the hostesses Mrs. J. K. Haight, Mrs. A. Austin, Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Charles Burgoyne.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ralston returned last week from a two months' trip in California.

Misses Volena Smith and Sarah Jewel were charming hostesses on Tuesday, when they entertained the D. P. M. Girls of the Methodist Sunday School. A short business session was held after which the young ladies enjoyed a social hour together in needlework and music, followed by a dainty repast. Those present were Mesdames C. V. Littler, Earl Canfield, Glen Willard, Rollin Hackleman, Archie Metzgar, Misses Clara Molver, Clara Morgan, Ruby Winckley, Claire Tillman, Maud Miller, Edna Laubner, Sarah Jewel and Volena Smith.

Mrs. J. F. Morgan was hostess on Monday to the members of the Kosy Korner Klub. A program was given, which consisted of a solo by Mrs. Flood; readings by Mrs. Baltimore and Mrs. Turner, reading of a paper by Mrs. R. A. Marsh. Needlework made up the latter part of the afternoon's diversion, followed by choice refreshments. Mesdames Worrell, Wallace, Groshong Smith (Grants Pass), and Flood, were honored guests.

The A. M. A. Girls gave a "covered dish supper" last night at the home of Miss Hazel Hockensmith. Miss Ruth Livingood was taken into the club. The latter part of the evening was pleasantly passed in a social hour and music. The members present included Misses Inez Lemke, Lee Fortmiller, Carolyn Wright, Eulah Hand, Corintha Hart, Beatrice Sanders, Janet Dawson, Hazel Hockensmith, and Mae Ballack.

A pretty affair of the week was the informal dance given by the Elks' ladies on Tuesday in the Elks' Temple. Willard Davis' five piece orchestra furnished excellent music throughout the evening. About fifty couples danced until midnight and enjoyed a dainty lunch which was served at small tables in the dining room.

The T. E. D. E. Girls were entertained on Monday at the home of Miss Clare Morgan. The evening was passed in sewing and a social hour, followed by dainty refreshments.

Mrs. D. W. Merrill and Miss Lora Taylor were dinner hostesses on Friday for the Alpha Omega Girls, at the Merrill home. Covers were laid for Mrs. L. Reade Dowlin, Merrill, E. F. Fortmiller, Misses Zona Haight, Marion Anderson, Janet Dawson, Mae Ballack, Kate Stewart, Stella Dorgan, Helen Hulbert and Lora Taylor.

Miss Pera Wilkins, Velma Davis, Zona Haight, Lora Taylor, Marion Anderson and Mr. C. P. Stevens, attended the Easterners dance in Corvallis on Wednesday night. Misses Wilkins and Davis were house guests at the home of Miss Melissa Martin and Misses Haight, Taylor and Anderson were the guests at the Gamma Phi house.

Mrs. E. C. Brandeberry entertained for the Twentieth Century Club on Friday. Fancy-work was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by dainty refreshments.

The Alpha Omega Girls held a short business session on Tuesday evening, at the home of Miss Lora Taylor.

On Wednesday evening at 6:30, twenty-five of the Sunday School officers and teachers of the Baptist church met in the church dining room and enjoyed a luncheon, toast, short business session, and social hour. Several plans for future work were launched and much interest and enthusiasm was displayed. The meeting adjourned at 8 o'clock to attend the basketball game between the Baptist Young Men and Christian Church young men. After the game Mrs. Burkhardt's class of young ladies entertained all the players at a luncheon and social time in the Baptist church basement.

The members of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. of the Albany College gave a valentine leap year party last night to the students and faculty in Tremont Hall. The girls took the initiative in everything. The evening was a very enjoyable one and games, suggestive of the season, "Cupid's Express" and "securing one's fortune by using a bow and arrow and hitting a large heart, from which were given fortunes on small hearts," were very interesting. A unique feature of the evening were the proposals, written by the young ladies to their gentlemen friends, which caused a great deal of laughter and merriment. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. Margaret Monteith was the inspiration for a delightful "surprise party" on Friday, February the eleventh, the occasion being her eighty-seventh birthday. Two of the members present were eighty-five years old. The ladies passed a few hours together in sewing and conversation, after which a dainty repast was served in the dining room, covers being laid for twelve. Mrs. Monteith was the recipient of many dainty gifts. The guests included Mesdames George, Ohling, E. P. Sox, S. E. Young, M. Gibson, C. H. Stewart, H. Brown, L. E. Blain, Ross, Allen, McBride, Simpson and Cathey.

Mrs. I. A. McDowell was a charming hostess of the week, when she entertained for the Wednesday Bridge club members. The guests made up three tables at "bridge" and in the late afternoon, dainty refreshments were served. Mesdames Cathey, Simpson, Hawkins and Flood were complimented guests.

Mrs. Cecil Cathey was a delightful hostess this week, when she entertained for the Tuesday club members. Needlework made up the afternoon's pleasure, followed by a dainty collation. Mesdames Phillip Carroll (Hood River), Homer Nelson, Hawtin

The Killcare club was entertained by Mrs. H. O. McFerran on Thursday. Needlework was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by a dainty repast. Mrs. G. E. Goltz was taken into the club, as a new member. The honored guests included Mesdames Givin Stewart, Carrie McGuire, Wayne Long and Miss Bernice Wallace. The Misses Lena McFerran, Beale Wallace and Mrs. W. Long, assisted the hostess. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. J. Q. Rodgers.

On Wednesday Mrs. E. M. Reagan entertained for the members of the coterie club at the Jones residence on South Ferry street. The afternoon was passed in fancy-work and making paper hearts for the valentine party, to be given on Monday, at the home of Mrs. I. M. Doughton. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. W. A. Lane (Harrisburg), and Mrs. Jones were complimented guests.

On Monday, Mrs. Charles Ohling delightfully entertained the Neous Nymphs club. The young ladies passed a few hours in fancy-work, after which a dainty repast was served, in which the Valentine idea was carried out. The members present included Mesdames John Bryant, Earl Canfield, Alvin Carnegie, C. B. Essex, Frank Eyron, Rollin Hackleman, Edward Viereck, Joe Warner, Glen Willard, Archie Metzgar, Earl Boyle, John Neeley and Charles Ohling.

The B. P. C. Girls gave an informal dancing party at Buzzard's hall last evening. A good time was had by a large crowd.

The young ladies of Miss Flora Mason's Sunday school class will give a "Valentine Party" this evening at her home on Sixth and Ferry streets.

The Loyal Daughters of the Christian church entertained the Loyal Sons and additional guests last night at a "leap year valentine party" in the church. About sixty young people were present and enjoyed the evening in games and music, followed by a dainty lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neeley were hosts on Friday for the Neous Nymphs club members, husbands and several friends at an elaborate valentine party. On entering the guests were presented with red tags, by which each found a large heart valentine, containing a verse and number. Partners were found by matching the verses, the guests making up seven tables at "progressive 'rook'." Red hearts score cards, with tiny pencils attached were given each guest. Prizes, for the highest score were awarded to Mrs. Joe Warner, and Mr. Edward Viereck. The rooms were prettily decorated in red hearts, in each end a
