The Albany Art Craft

Gaston guarding occasionally the game was full of interest and the girls had to hustle to make baskets.

Elwood Rhodes Improving—
Elwood Rhodes, son of W. H. Rhodes, who has been ill for the past few days, is reported much better today and is expected to be around again in a short time. Last night he sat up and was very much improved.

Here from Chehalis—
Mrs. D. P. Thompson arrived in the city Saturday from Chehalis and with Mr. Thompson, assistant manager of the Worth Department Store, is temporarily living at the St. Francis hotel. Next week Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will be at home at Seventh and Calapooia streets.

The Military Ball—
A feature of the big ball of the Coast Artillery Corps at the armory tomorrow night, will be the presence of the Pheasants in uniform, "prepared" for the festivities of the occasion. George Washington's birthday will be remembered on this occasion. A first-class local orchestra will furnish the music. Ricca, the accordionist, will be present and play during the evening.

Former Albany Man—
Henry Kirsch, of Mill City, has been in the city today.

Bought a Dodge—
The Ralston Motor Co. Saturday sold a Dodge to H. G. Sprenger, of Shedd, and it will be easy covering the country now.

Holiday Tomorrow—
Tomorrow being Washington's birthday there will be only one delivery of mail, in the morning. The R. F. D. men will not go out. The general delivery will be open from 1:30 to 2:30.

Wall Paper—
The big United Wall Paper Co., of Illinois, who have recently opened the finest wall paper store in Portland, have sent to Fred Dawson, their local agent here, their fine new sample books, showing the finest lot of samples ever seen. When you are down town go in and see them, at Fred

Dawson's Rexall Store.

Sales Day Saturday—
Saturday will be public sales day, since the 26th is the last Saturday in the month. It is not known what has been entered as yet but it is presumed that even a better list will be brought out than has been offered for sale for some time. Last sales day found snow on the ground, but a good crowd was attracted and much business done. Entries should be sent to Manager Eastburn at the Commercial club at the earliest possible time that the articles may be properly listed.

Found Roads Good—
George Sanders, local manager of the Bell Telephone company, with C. H. Button, of the Lebanon exchange, made a 35 mile drive Saturday, going from Albany to Lebanon, to Scio and back to this city. Over this route Mr. Sanders reports the roads in very good condition. In fact, he stated, that had the road supervisors of each district used the California drag at the proper season, there would hardly be a half mile of road in the whole territory that would not be in fine shape at the present time.

Returned to Hood River—
Mrs. Phillip Carroll, nee Frances Nelson, returned to her home in Hood River yesterday after several weeks visit in this city at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Nelson.

Weather Report—
More fair weather predicted. The temperature Sunday ranged between 33 and 60. The river fell to 9.1 feet.

Knights to Initiate—
Large delegations of Knights of Pythias lodge members are expected from Brownsville, Lebanon and Scio tonight to attend the session of the local lodge, Laurel No. 7. Work will be put on in the first and second rank.

Went to Washington—
Chief of Police John Catlin and wife left Saturday for Payallup, Washington, where Mrs. Catlin's mother is seriously ill at the age of over 90 years. During the chief's absence the day work is being taken care of by Assistant Chief J. Q. Rodgers. Special Officer Howard is assisting Sam Worrell with the night work.

Commercial Club Tonight—
The regular weekly meeting of the Commercial club will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Several matters of importance will be discussed.

Appointed Administratrix—
Edwin F. Fortmiller has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Henry Schwohland, who died here last week after being taken from the S. P. train in a dying condition. No relatives have been located.

BABY CONTEST Starts at the HUB Theatre

Baby contest started at the Hub Theatre Saturday night with 10 bouncing brilliant entrants. By tonight at least five more entries will be recorded and the entry list will close Wednesday. There will be between 15 and 20 in the contest when it once gets started in full swing.

Those who were on the screen the opening night will have a slight advantage over the later contestants. The early starts are generally the winners, and the babies who gets the $10 cash prize will receive something worth working for. The other prizes are worth going after, too, the second being a $10 baby carriage and the third a baby's dress, easily worth $10. There are 10 prizes in all, so most of the contestants will receive something, besides the wide popularity that the contest will bring them. A crowded house saw the first pictures Saturday and this promises to continue during the contest.

THEY NEVER CAME BACK.

260 English Soldiers Charged Into a Forest and Have Never Been Heard from Since

(By Wilbur S. Forrest, United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Feb. 2.—(By mail)—Nothing more was ever heard from them. They charged into the forest and were lost to sight and sound. No one of them ever came back.—Sir Ian Hamilton's report.

It is the talk of England, the greatest mystery of the war, the charge of the Fifth Norfolk, the King's own servants, at Anafarta. The story of how these 260 "ardent souls" charged on through the village of Anafarta and completely vanished into the "forest of death" beyond, is history that some day may take its place beside that of the immortal tale of Balklava.

The "Lost Legion," it is called today, but until the war is over the fate of the men who went to battle from the King's Sandringham estates cannot be told. The king personally had instituted every possible inquiry. The American embassy in Constantinople has asked the Turkish government. The forest through which the "Lost Legion" swept on in Gallipoli has been searched time and time again.

There have been found no bodies, no graves, no sign, except two small pocketbooks, the property of Captain William Beck, who commanded the Legion. Captain Beck is missing with all of his command.

Meantime scores of cottage homes in the royal Sandringham estates of West Norfolk are in mourning. Wives, sweethearts and mothers are wearing crepe, but despite all this there is ever the hope that some day the boys will come marching home.
