JUST POLITICS.

Eugene Guard: The Oregonian has had much criticism of President Wilson over his Mexican policy or what it perhaps considers, his lack of it. Our big contemporary insists we should go to war with Mexico if necessary to bring the murderers of Americans in Mexico to justice. It does not say so in words, but by every implication it does. In three years 72 Americans have been killed by Mexican bandits. In the preceding three years 47 were killed, and at that time, or during most of it there was a recognized government to deal with. Yet Taft did nothing more than Wilson has done towards "bringing murderers of Americans in Mexico to justice." During President Wilson's term there has been no government in that unhappy country with which this country could deal, or which it could hold responsible. The country was in a state of anarchy, and such Americans as went there or remained there under the circumstances did so at their peril. True they are and were entitled to the protection of this government, so far as it could be given them, but there are circumstances where the protection of government becomes impossible and cannot be expected.

Suppose the United States should be held responsible by every foreign country whose citizens are murdered in this country and should tell us we must put a stop to it or they would make war on us, would we or could we comply with the demand? Yet there are more foreigners murdered in the United States ten times over yearly than there are Americans killed in Mexico.

Carranza is apparently making an honest effort to put a stop to these killings, and to punish the murderers. What more can be done?

PAPER MONEY INCREASE.

From the Financial World:— Taking the present position of the world at large, there is no doubt whatever as to the fact of paper-money inflation. Between July, 1914, and the beginning of 1916, Germany's paper currency increased $1,500,000,000, or something like 320 per cent. France added $1,519,000,000 to its note circulation within that period, or 113 per cent. In Russia, the Imperial Bank's note issues alone rose $1,783,000,000, or 217 per cent, and there was probably other currency put out, Austria has not ventured to publish the figures of her war-time paper money issues, but they are certainly very large. The Bank of England's note circulation at the end of 1915, together with the special currency—authorized when the war began, put out by the treasury for account of the English joint-stock bonds and commercial paper—showed a total increase of $692,000,000, an expansion of 367 per cent. What might be thought to bear more immediately on the present discussion, the National Banks of the United States, under the law passed shortly after the panic of 1907, issued $380,000,000 of "emergency currency" in the first three months of the European war, as against a previously outstanding national bank-note circulation of $750,000,000.

MISFITS

MISFITS—If gasoline should go up to 40 cents, as some predict, where would the joy riders come in?

How long would it take Mr. R. to own the earth.

A good many things going up in the east were made in the U. S. The robbers are taking advantage of the times to graft the people.

A Mo. editor has been offered whiskey in exchange for advertising, and also a Keeley cure, and he calls that a real endless chain if followed up.

Just strikes us that some of those millionaires so easily blackmailed must have at least had some guilty consciences.

If the blackmailers really want to get some fine pictures, an easy way to secure them would have been to attend a dance and keep the kodak going.

These Wonderful Kids.

Dallas Observer: Little Margaret Clare Collins, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Collins of Portland seems to well justify the pride that her parents take in her.

Do you want a man like Root, who openly advocates war, for president? He said: "We need a president who will appeal to something else than words," meaning of course, arms."

If Root ever runs for president the people will put him deeper in the ground of unpopularity than he is now.

The Progressive party is now pretty well shattered; but the word will always live, and the party that wishes to be on top must appreciate its significance.

Brilliant Solution.

What kind of a thief is it who will steal things from autos left standing outside a revival meeting? The meeting should be held outside, and the autos kept inside.—Medford Sun.

MANY IN ALBANY TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many Albany people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buck-thorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka.
