The largest event of the season took place Tuesday night in the armory, when the Albany Military club gave their sixth annual ball. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion with fir trees, artistically arranged about the walls and suspended from the ceiling were about a dozen large American flags. In the center of the hall was a picture of George Washington, the dance being given in honor of his birthday. In each corner of the hall were small militia tents and rifles. At the west end of the hall were seated the patrons and patronesses who included Major and Mrs. C. B. Winn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Logan and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Haight.

The Albany Pheasant nine piece orchestra furnished excellent music during the evening. The grand march took place at nine o'clock and was led by Captain and Mrs. R. R. Knox, followed by about eighty couples. The members of the club appeared in their full dress uniforms and the Pheasants wore their uniforms, which added much to the attractiveness of the party. Much credit is due to the committees, who all worked hard to make the affair a success.

Complimenting their niece, Mrs. James N. Hart of Portland, Mrs. A. J. Hodges and Mrs. B. F. Kirk delightfully entertained at cards today. The guests included members of the younger married set and five hundred was the game played at six tables. A dainty repast rounded out the afternoon's pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hogan were hosts on Thursday at a card party at their home on Lyon street. Five hundred was the game played at nine tables and at a late hour, choice refreshments were served. The guests included Messrs. and Mesdames O. D. Austin, A. Austin, D. Bossard, Grant Pirtle, F. C. Pate, Reed Walworth, J. L. Swan, R. A. B. Veal, Walton Worrell, F. M. French, Glen Jenkins, W. A. Cox, A. Stark, J. K. Weatherford, Charles Neeley, Dowling, Chas. Burgraf, Mesdames Brown (Grants Pass), Gus Neeley and Hand.

Mrs. A. C. Van Nuys was a charming hostess on Friday when she entertained for the members of the Paxtang club at her home on East Third street. "Five hundred" was the game played at four tables and in the late afternoon, a dainty repast was served. Mrs. J. J. Walker, Mrs. Charles Medina and Miss Hammond were complimented guests on this occasion.

Mrs. D. E. Nebergall was hostess yesterday for the members of her Sunday school class of the Methodist church. The ladies brought their fancy-work and enjoyed a social hour together, followed by choice refreshments.

At the home of Mrs. Mark Weatherford on Tuesday was installed Chapter "O" of the P. E. O. Sisterhood. Mrs. Seymour (Forest Grove) initiated twelve charter members. The election of officers took place, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. H. S. Logan; vice president, Mrs. J. K. Weatherford; recording secretary, Mrs. A. S. Hart; corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. H. Bodine; treasurer, Mrs. L. A. McDowell; chaplain, Mrs. John Pentland; journalist, Mrs. L. E. Tracey, and guard, Mrs. Mark Weatherford.

On Wednesday the members of the Methodist church were entertained at the Y. M. C. A. A basketball game between the Methodists and Baptists was very much enjoyed by a large crowd present. The guests had access to the bowling alley, checker boards and all the different games. A series of evening receptions are being given by members of the different churches in the city. The high school orchestra furnished the music during the evening.

The Rural Ladies Club were pleasantly entertained on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Altermatt. Fancy-work was the pastime of the afternoon, after which a dainty collation was served. The members present included Mesdames Virgil Looney, School, Shirley, Ralston, Ashton, Enrich, Vincent and Miss Lucy Ashton. Mrs. Nick Rush was an honored guest.

In compliment to Mrs. Sam Chambers, who is a guest at the Chambers home on East Seventh street, Mrs. Fred Ward entertained a coterie of ladies yesterday, the guests making up four tables at "bridge." A few additional guests called for tea. The hostess was assisted in serving a dainty repast, by Mrs. W. V. Merrill and Mrs. Walton Worrell.

Mrs. Richard Thom entertained for the H. D. W. club members on Thursday. The ladies enjoyed a few hours together, in sewing and a social hour, followed by a dainty repast. Mrs. Delia (Texas), and Mrs. Gray (Lebanon), were honored guests on this occasion.

The Entre Nous club ladies were delightfully entertained on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Parker. "Bridge" was the game played and a dainty repast rounded out the afternoon's pleasure. Mesdames J. C. Chambers, Montgomery, Fred Ward, Charles Burgraf, and J. K. Haight were honored guests on this occasion.

The Industrial Society of the United Presbyterian church gave a "ten cent tea" yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. A. Stearns on West Ninth street. A short program was given, followed by a social hour and refreshments.

Mrs. W. B. Chance was hostess for the Kumtux club ladies on Friday. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in fancy-work, and a social hour, followed by dainty refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. B. Veal delightfully entertained the members of the "covered dish club" at dinner on Monday. The table was attractively decorated with flags and favors, suggestive of George Washington's birthday. After dinner the guests played five hundred. Messrs. and Mesdames W. H. Hogan, P. R. Kelly, D. W. Merrill, and L. G. Lewelling were complimented guests.

Mrs. A. Stark was hostess this week for the members of the Wednesday Bridge club. The guests made up three tables at cards and in the late afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

Dr. and Mrs. I. E. Tracey celebrated their birthdays on Wednesday at their home on Washington street, with a family reunion. Mrs. H. C. Kentner of Medford, and daughter, Ralph Tracey and family and Frank Tracey of Albany, being present.

Misses Eunice Craig and Margaret Putman (Salem), attended the military ball on Tuesday and were guests at the W. B. Stevens home.

Mr. Tom Ordman of Salem attended the dance given by the military club this week, being a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stewart.

Miss Kate Stewart and Mrs. L. Reade Dowlin entertained the Alpha Omega girls at dinner on Friday night at the Stewart home. The latter part of the evening was passed in sewing and a social hour.

The Kings Herald of the Methodist church met with Mrs. A. M. Hammer, this afternoon for a business session and a social hour.

On Monday evening, Mrs. Rufus Thompson and Mrs. Alan Banks entertained at dinner in honor of Rev. Moody, the missionary from Africa. Around the table were Rev. Moody, Rev. Young, Dr. Hill, Miss Cassie Thompson, Mrs. Rufus Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Banks. This was a happy renewing of old acquaintances, as Rev. Moody was the nearest neighbor of Mr. Banks' mother and father on the Congo, where they were missionaries for many years. Mr. Banks himself was born there and Mr. Moody reminded him of their early friendship which he, however, was too young to appreciate at the time.

Rev. and Mrs. Young entertained the B. Y. P. U. Friday evening at their home. A most interesting program was given, consisting of solos, duets, instrumental selections, readings and a dialogue. At a late hour, dainty refreshments were served. A very large number of the young people of the church were in attendance and spent a very delightful evening.

Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Kennedy, the Baptist Ladies' Aid were entertained very delightfully. The hours were spent in fancy work and conversation. Miss Scatrice Hackleman sang a solo and Mrs. Alan Banks gave a reading during the afternoon. At four thirty o'clock a ten cent tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Egbert Allers, Mrs. Carmen and Mrs. Shupp. There were about forty ladies present to enjoy this social hour.

Mrs. Joshep Warner of Sunrise was a delightful hostess on Friday for the members of the Neous Nymphs club. The guests brought their fancy-work and enjoyed a pleasant time together. A business meeting was held and each member told a humorous story, in response to the roll call. A dainty luncheon, suggestive of Washington's birthday was served at the close of the afternoon. The complimented guests on this occasion included Mrs. Robert Torbet, Mrs. Chapler and Mrs. Darwin Carnegie.

The Beta Gamma girls gave a party last night to their friends at the home of Miss Ruth Rawlings. Decorations, suggestive of George Washington's birthday, were seen in evidence in the rooms. Games and music were the diversions of the evening and at a late hour dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Velma Anthony, Letha Stewart, Nina Bending, Hazel Gilbert, Faye King, Ruth Lochner, Kamilla Kroschell, Hazel Hall, Letha Cummings, Leverage Heflich, Elda Pettibone, Eunice Nixon (Portland), Constance Nicholas (Portland), Ruth Rawlings, Messrs. Verne Hockett (Newport), Vance Trout (Portland), John Hughes (Eugene), Ralph Wilber, Russell Gibbons, Pete Miller, Lewis Schultz, John Cleland, Roy Reed, Roy Eastburn, George Wilson, Ernest Dohnert, John Tate, Kenneth McCune and Charles King.

The Killcare club met with Mrs. J. Q. Rodgers yesterday, at her home on the Salem Road. A short business session was held, after which the ladies enjoyed a social hour together in sewing. Mrs. Wayne Long was elected a new member. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. O. McFerron, served choice refreshments. The honored guests included Mrs. Marguerite Whinnery and Mrs. Emma Wire. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Roy McFerron, in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sox were hosts on Wednesday for the members of the Monday club at their home on West Fifth street. Mrs. C. B. Winn presided and Dr. Ellis read a splendid paper on "The genius of the Jew," followed by a discussion led by Mr. A. C. Schmitt and Mrs. Franklin. At the close of the evening a dainty repast was served.

Miss Dorothy Walker entertained the girls of her club at a "covered dish supper" last night.

The Epicurean club gave a "covered dish supper" last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fish. The latter part of the evening was passed in playing five hundred. Mrs. Hart (Portland) was an honored guest.

The Thursday Tatting club met with Mrs. Melvin Baltimore this week. Fancy-work and music were the diversions of the afternoon, followed by dainty refreshments.

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church met in the church parlors on Wednesday.

The members of the Senior class of Albany high school were delightfully entertained on Wednesday, at the home of Mr. Francyl Howard. Games and music made up the evening's pleasure and at a late hour, choice refreshments were served. Professor and Mrs. Young and Mr. H. C. Clifford were chaperones.

Misses Nellie Pate, Zella Burkhardt, Lottie Morgan and Letha McCullough entertained the Twilight club members at a "Colonial party" at the home of Miss Pate on Tuesday. Each guest was attired in a colonial costume. Games and contests were the evening's diversion, followed by a choice collation. Misses Marcel Austin and Nathiel Donata assisted the hostess. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion with pussy-willows, daffodils, flags and hatchets, suggestive of the season.

In honor of their seventh wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. W. Gardiner will entertain at a dancing party tonight at their home on Ferry street. The basement will be artistically decorated for the occasion in green and yellow. The invitation list includes Messrs. and Mesdames J. J. Barrett, Charles Monson, E. C. Brandeberry, Francis Arnold, W. L. Marke, E. M. Pugh, Bert Stevens, Mrs. Bigham, Miss Ruby Gore (Portland), Miss Kate Barrett, Miss McKinnon (Portland), Mr. Glen Cusick (Portland), Mr. Edward Barrett, Mr. Geo. Young and Dr. Bilyeu.
