STRONG GATHERING OF MEN.

Onion Raisers Hold Convention at Toledo, O. In Onion There is Strength.

(By United Press)

Toledo, O., March 3.—Delegates to the 1916 convention of the National Onion association—50 strong, arrived here today with the announcement that there are four thousand, three hundred and two carloads of onions in the spring crop; and admiring friends stood around eating samples of the crop and weeping for joy at the thought. The association's slogan, "In Onion there is Strength" was prominently displayed in the convention hall. Hotels, cafes and one-armed lunches are serving onion soup, onioned fish, onioned entrees, onioned meats, onion salads, onion ice cream, onion tea and other onion dishes. In short the restaurateurs and meinhosts are making it hot for the onion men while they're here.

After a Paper.

(By United Press)
Providence, March 3.—Investigation of a fire and explosion in the Providence Journal buildings last night convinced the authorities today that anti-ally agents are visiting retribution upon the paper for recent exposures of Austrian and German activities. The damage is comparatively small.

PORTLAND WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

Portland, Feb. 29.—Cattle: A light run of cattle came forward for Monday's market with the bulk of trade remaining steady. Pulp fed went up to 20 cents, making the top $7.70 for this class of steers. Hay and grain fed steers are going from $7.25 to $7.50; cows and heifers not much in evidence. Quotations steady.

Hogs: Hogs are not coming in as numerous numbers as could be handled, the aggregate being about 2700 head for Monday. Hogs sprung the market 15 cents and tops are quoted at $8.15, bulk went at 8 cents.

Sheep: A limited supply of sheep found a steady market with lambs going at $9.05; ewes at $7.00; yearlings and wethers at 8 cents. Market strong.

A Zeppelin Fell.

(By United Press)
London, March 3.—A Zeppelin, evidently hit by artillery, fell at Elixeeze February 21, damaging a house and injuring 18 children, an Amsterdam report today said. Another fell at Mainsault.

Will Go to Annapolis—

Albany may see have its second young man at the naval academy at Annapolis, Maryland, Carleton Logan, alternate, having received the appointment because the regular appointee had failed to qualify. He is a young man of splendid attainments. Albany's other appointee was Lieutenant Butler, now along the Mexican border in the regular service.

Shelton Was Here—

Riley Shelton, one of Scio's most useful citizens was in Albany yesterday looking after matters at the court house.

The Lion Here—

March has certainly come in like a lion, which people generally will be glad to see followed by a lamb.

At the Christian church in Corvallis a series of sermons is to be preached on different ideals, following the plan of Rev. Fagan, of this city. Letters will be received, beginning with Ideal Girls.

Charles Burggraf, an architect of Albany, who spent a few days here looking after business matters in connection with the construction of a new building, will return to his home tonight.—Roseburg Review.

Mrs. A. J. Carmen, of Albany, arrived here last evening and will look after business matters for a few days. She formerly resided in this city.—Roseburg Review.

SATURDAY MARKET—Of ladies of the U. P. church, at Hamilton's store Saturday afternoon. Home cooking. m2-3

A LEAP YEAR BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. R. S. Acheson, of Shedd, Celebrated Seventh Event Tuesday, Feb. 29.

A leap year surprise party was given February 29 at the home of R. S. Acheson, at Shedd, it being Mrs. Acheson's seventh birthday.

Neighbors and friends gathered in at 12 o'clock noon, with baskets well filled and a fine dinner was served in cafeteria style. She also received many fine and handsome presents and a very enjoyable time was had. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Acheson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McConnell, Mrs. A. D. Elder, Mrs. O. M. Thompson, Mrs. Mary D. Acheson, Mrs. Katie Croft, Mrs. Hawthorns, Mrs. Ed. Farewell, Mrs. J. B. Cornett, Mrs. Josie Carlson, Mrs. Carrie Heck, and Mrs. Iva McClain, Misses Mina McClain, Vina McClain, Marguerite Acheson, Sylvia Thompson, Elizabeth Hawthorne, and Willa McConnell; Messrs. Morrow Acheson, Arthur M. Acheson, Lyle Hawthorne, Karl Thompson, and Vernon H. Acheson.

A Chesnut.

The following chestnut is from the Corvallis-Gazette Times: They are going to abolish the curfew in Albany this year, not to cut down expenses but because it wakes the inhabitants.

Burglars Around

Salem, March 1.—G. W. Johnson's clothing store, Compton's second-hand store and Paul Marnack's pool hall were entered and robbed by two unidentified men. At Johnson's clothing store the robbers divested themselves of their clothes and attired themselves in new suits and shoes. At the pool hall they obtained $5 in cash and at the second-hand store $1 in pennies.

We're Not Appreciated—

The Willamette much advertised quartette gave an entertainment at the high school auditorium on Thursday evening of last week to quite a good audience. Most people who attended were somewhat disappointed. They expected a high class entertainment but heard an ordinary one. The Willamette boys showed both a lack of training and confidence.—Scio Tribune.

FAMOUS OLD PLAY COMING HERE FRIDAY

Ask anyone to mention the most famous American plays and he will give without hesitation the names of three or four, two of which will inevitably be "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Hazel Kirk." It is significant that all the plays mentioned will be found to be based upon American rural life—that they preach a uniform lesson of the beauty of parental love, the importance of living a clean life and the unhappiness and ruin that result from doing evil. "Hazel Kirk" has shown a phenomenal vitality which has endured for over thirty years. It was written by the late Steele MacKaye, the well known actor and playwright. In the original production were featured Charles W. Coudock and Effie Eller, who, as the old miller and his daughter, took the country by storm and played their parts for years.

PSYCHIC PHENOMINA PICTURED IN PULSATING PLAY

No matter how much we may scorn spiritualism or any other psychic phenomena, we are all fascinated with them.

It is upon this very curiosity about the vast unknown that the Mutual Masterpicture, which appears at the Rolfe tonight, De Luxe Edition, The Dead Alive, featuring Marguerite Courtot, is based.

According to the story, "Doc" Ardini, an international crook, who poses as the friend of William H. Stuyvesant, a young millionaire, tiers to work on the young man's interest in spiritualism, to accomplish a daring robbery in the young man's sumptuous home. The story centers about twin sisters, the daughters of a weak-willed, vacillating drunkard, who comes under the influence of "Doc" Ardini through his propensities for gambling. "Old Jim," the father of the girls, loses his money in "Doc's" gambling house. Out of pity for the old man the gambler gives him a small job in his employ. The two girls come to the city, not knowing in what degrading business their father is occupied, and decide to keep house for him and to work at the same time.

CONDENSERY TO START UP.

High Price of Condensed Milk Causes Scio Plant to Begin Operations Again.

Scio Tribune: After an idleness of more than six months, our condensery is to be placed in operation on March 15.

The cause of the shutdown was the extreme low price of condensed milk which made the manufacture of the same a losing game. Now with the demand created by the European war and the starting up of the logging camps, milk can be manufactured at a profit and pay farmers a fair price for raw milk.
