MEXICANS AND AMERICANS WORKING TOGETHER

Jingo and Yellow Journal Efforts to Create Dissension Have Utterly Failed.

(By United Press) El Paso, March 29.—Col. Dodd's cavalry is reported at Madera today developing a new phase in the hunt. It is understood he has shifted his headquarters from El Valle. Cooperating with Carranzistas, he will throw detachments and form a ring around the territory where Villa is supposed to be hiding.

SEN. CHAMBERLAIN PRESENTS HIS ARMY BILL SPEECH

Says Government is Trying to Organize an Army That Will Act Quickly.

Washington, March 29.—"We are trying to organize an army that won't have to delay four or five days before tackling a little trouble," declared Senator Chamberlain, opening the debate on his army bill. "We should not criticize the officers and men for not capturing Villa more quickly. The nation wasn't ready. Our army is historically inefficient. Even Washington had to spend hours writing to the continental congress complaining about conditions. The troops always had more spirit than skill. Sometimes their patriotism hasn't blazed too brightly. The present bill has the approval of every expert who has examined it. It contains the best parts of a number of plans. The Hay bill was inadequate," he said.

"THE WRONG DOOR" A BLUE BIRD FEATURE

Bluebird Photoplays have made important converts to moving picture acting in Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven, who have won fame and great popularity in seasons past upon the vaudeville stage and in musical comedies. Carter De Haven has been famed as a singer and dancer, author of his own songs and creator of artistic novelties in stage versions of his own writings. He has turned to moving pictures with enthusiasm and just to show his capabilities provided the scenario and directed the company in "The Wrong Door," a Bluebird Photoplay of rare interest. His wife, Flora Parker De Haven, is his leading lady and the clever pair do the same line work before the camera that they were celebrated for on the stage. Sensationalism is the dominant theme of "The Wrong Door," which will be the attraction at the Globe tonight and Thursday.

BLANCH SANDOON HIT BY AUTO DIED AT CORVALLIS

Was Crossing Street at Intersection When Fatal Accident Occurred.

Blanche Sandoon, a senior in the Corvallis high school, who was struck by an auto yesterday, died last night. The particulars show that she and Rosina Hanns were on their way to the high school, and were in the act of crossing the street at Ninth and Monroe, going diagonally across, when Mr. Paulson came along in his Overland, going east on Monroe, and had reached Ninth when the girls were near the middle of the intersection. Mr. Paulson, according to custom, swung out to cross the railroad tracks diagonally. He tooted his horn, when Miss Hanns ran forward; but Miss Sandoon stopped, hesitating, and Paulson attempted to drive around her, knocking her down, the wheels passing over her body from the waist line across the arm. She was picked up twenty-five feet from the place where she attempted to evade the machine. She was taken to Dr. Anderson's office, and operated on at noon, when it was found her liver was torn loose, causing hemorrhages, from which she died. There were four other high school students in the auto, which was not going fast, but Mr. Paulson says he became confused.

Mr. Pate has resigned as manager of the Creamery Association in order to establish the factory. Understanding the business thoroughly it is sure to be a success under his competent management.

WOOD WOULD KNOCK WOOD. Assisted By Captain Stellmacher and Tim Flood, Wood was Knocked to Pieces.

Captain Wood, of the mathematical department, A. H. S., and his coteries of cohorts nearly bested Captain Doug. Dohmert's "gassers" on the association alleys by exactly five pins in the first ten frames. After that Col. Stellmacher's Greek fire and gas bombs gradually lulled the professors into a state of erratic endeavor which made scoring for a them a mathematically easy proposition. The balls and pins seemed to understand the colonel's commands and would cavort, lie down or stand accordingly. It is just simply great to be able to command things that way! The game was lively and bright with repartee. The following are individual averages: Wood 124 1-3; Young 102 2-3; Hudson 133 1-3; Byers 94 2-3; Stevens 110. Team average 113. Dohmert, 111 1-3; Torbet 124 1-3; Stellmacher 132 1-3; Abraham 115 1-3; Flood 150 2-3. Team average 126 4-5.

Methodist Young Men Organize the Y. M. B. G.

Last night at 6:15 the young men of Dr. C. V. Littler's Sunday School class of the Methodist church met in the basement of the church around a plenteous spread, and after doing justice to the meal, which was entirely cared for by the fellows of the class under the direction of the social committee, the matter of perfecting the organization was taken up. After much discussion it was decided that the class should be known as the Young Men's Bible Class. At a previous meeting election of officers had been attended to with the following results: Pres., John R. Fenland; vice pres., Chas. Lamb; secretary, Clark Canfield; treasurer, Roy Ningsy. The organization will have cards printed and placed in the hands of each member, the cards to be in the form of invitation, and it is proposed that every young man in the city who is not now a member of some Sunday school will be prevailed upon to join this class. The constitution has been fully prepared and the purpose of the organization shall be to promote the spiritual, social, moral, and physical life of the young men of Albany. A baseball team will be organized in the near future.

27 KILLED IN AN OHIO TRAIN WRECK

In a Dense Fog Two Trains Came Together Ditching Both.

ANOTHER TRAIN IMMEDIATELY CRASHED INTO DEBRIS

Noise Was Heard Two Miles; Relief Ambulances Were Stuck in Mud.

(By United Press) Cleveland, March 29.—Twenty-seven were killed and more than thirty injured early today when the east bound Lakeshore train No. 86 was struck by its second section in a dense fog. Both trains were ditched. A moment later the Twentieth Century plunged through the wreckage near Amherst Ohio. The noise was heard two miles away. So dark was it that the engineer of the second section did not see the brakeman's lantern as he rushed past. Ambulances from Lorain, Amherst and Elyria stuck in the mud. The injured lay on the ground for two hours. They were taken to Amherst, Elyria and Lorain at 6:30 on a special train. The engineer of the second section said the train was going fifty miles an hour at the time of the collision. He declared that two block signals which flashed past just before the smash indicated a clear track. Late today 27 are known to be dead and there may be several more. The superintendent said the sleeping car towerman was responsible.

NEW FILING SAFE FOR RECORDERS OFFICE

A new fire proof filing vault has just arrived and has been installed in City Recorder Lewelling's office. The metal case stands about six feet six inches high and is large enough to accommodate the principal books and papers of the city and protect them in case of fire. This makes the third safe in this office, the other two being Mosler steel safes, and are kept for filing other city records, etc. One of them is used exclusively by the city engineer and contains the maps of all the sewers and underground works of the city. The new vault is a much needed addition to the equipment of the recorder's office. Now every letter, every ordinance, bill or other paper, every book and record of every description may be quickly filed and quickly found when wanted and kept safely from robbery or destruction.

DR. GAEBELEIN SPOKE ON THE BOOK OF REVELATIONS

Thought to Be Mysterious He Declares to Be Plain to Those Who Will Study.

The Revelations is the most slandered of the books of the Bible, was the statement of Dr. Gaebelein, in his seventh lecture of his series on the Bible, at the U. P. church last night. Many declare it to be mysterious and sealed; but he said it is not, but, by application, its teachings become plain. It is the capstone of the entire revelations of the Bible, the only prophetic book of the new testament, and the Bible would be incomplete without it. Last night he considered its scope and character; tonight he will deal with what has to say about Christ, Thursday night about the things that are coming as revealed, and Friday night the great consummation, the New Jerusalem. Prophecy is history written in advance. Revelation begins with the church at Pentecost and deals with it down to the present time. This is found in the second and third chapters. The fourth and fifth chapters deal with the church passed into glory, the destiny of the church. From the sixth to the end of the 18th is a series of visions covering the future of the earth. Seven is the divine number, being used fifty or sixty times in the book. The 19th chapter is the history of Jesus in his glory, with the redeemed in the New Jerusalem, the coming of Christ and the setting up of his kingdom. The blessings of the book are the greatest vision of Christ; the looking at the things on earth with the eyes of a Holy God. With the mud rush after soap bubbles the world needs a message of separation. Assurance of victory for God and his people is another. He declared that one cannot be pessimistic and believe the bible. This afternoon he gave his last lecture on the Acts. Tomorrow he will consider Romans, also on Friday afternoon. People declare that never have they heard the Bible presented more clearly and understandingly.

SPRING IS HERE WITH MARCH RETIRING LIKE LAMB

Albany Basks in Warm Sunshine While Loggers Work in 30 Inches of Snow.

With the sun bright and smiling on this part of the Willamette valley it is hard to conceive of the fact that less than 75 miles from here there is still over two feet of snow on the ground. Engineer Casteel, on the C. & E. line running to Hoover, reports that in various places in the mountains snow can be seen where the sun or wind doesn't strike it. And farther up in the logging district the loggers are working in 30 inches of snow. The weather report holds out hopes for continued warm and fair weather. Frosty and cool nights are predicted, which is generally an indication of beautiful, warm days. Spring flowers have been in bloom for some time and it will soon be in order for picnics, motor, and boating parties. The trout season opens Saturday, but as the streams are muddy at present and the water so high it is hardly thought that anyone will attempt to do anything this week. Ten days or two weeks' of this kind of weather will start the fish to jumping.

FRANK S. INGRAM DIED AT SAN JOSE

Former Albany Man Finished Eventful Career Several Days Ago.

WAS IN PENITENTIARY FOR MURDER OF BROTHER

Lost Leg in Famous Tracey-Merrill Escape and Was Then Pardoned.

Franklin S. Ingram, a native of county, who many years ago, figured in one of the most sensational murder trials in the history of Oregon, died a few days ago at San Jose, Calif., at the age of about 55 years. On October 8, 1891, Henry Ingram was shot at his place in the country, being killed while in the yard near his place. All the evidence indicated that the deed was done by his brother Frank, who was at the house at the time, and he was arrested at once, and the first part of November, was tried before Judge R. P. Boise and convicted of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. The prosecution was by District Attorney Geo. H. Bingham, H. H. Hewitt and J. R. Wyatt, and Hon. J. K. Weatherford and Hon. W. R. Bilyeu appeared for the defendant.

After serving a number of years, Ingram was pardoned, due to good behavior, and heroic conduct during the escape of the notorious bandits, Tracy and Merrill, on June 9, 1902. In their flight they killed three men. They first shot Frank Farrell, with a Winchester they had secured, hitting him in the heart. The men appeared at the entrance of the shop where Ingram was working. He rushed forward and grappled with Merrill, when he was shot in one of his legs, which had to be amputated. The desperadoes fled and were tracked with bloodhounds up into Washington, among others Albany's present chief of police helping in the hunt. Tracy finally shot his partner, and rather than be taken alive, killed himself in a wheat field. Ingram left a will, in which he requested that his left leg, which was amputated, and buried at Salem near the penitentiary, be buried with him. An effort is now being made to get it; but it is very doubtful if his request can be complied with.

BEAUTIFUL MARGARET SNOW FEATURED IN METRO PLAY

Marguerite Snow, or "Pretty Peggy," as she is known to thousands of her admirers is the star of the Metro feature, "The Upstart," which will be shown at the Rolfe theatre tonight and Thursday. This popular screen star will be seen as Beatrice Mitchell, a minister's wife, a role admirably suited to Miss Snow's talent. George Le Guere, whose work in "Destiny" or "The Soul of a Woman," the Metro masterpiece, ranks as one of his best characterizations, will have the role of Coventry Petmore, the "upstart," who has become a fanatic upon the divorce question. "The Upstart" is a satirical comedy-drama by Thomas Barry, which enjoyed a successful run as a play at the Maxine Elliott theatre in New York City and on tour. With Miss Snow and Le Guere will be seen James Lachy, the well known character comedian, Frederick Sumner and Frederick Sittenham.
