The Most Remarkable Musical Combination of this Century, the New York Symphony Orchestra, the wonderful symphonic organization maintained at a state of supreme efficiency, by an endowment of a hundred thousand dollars a year, and Walter Damrosch, the greatest of American conductors and beloved by the musical public of America for thirty-one years of magnificent pioneer work for the highest in music and Josef Hofmann, the remarkable pianist of today will be heard in the Eugene armory on Tuesday evening, April eleventh.

The program for the concert in the University City will include one of the standard symphonies and several shorter selections by the great masters which will demonstrate the great qualities of the New York Symphony orchestra and the interpretative genius of its conductor and a Piano Concert played by Josef Hofmann, accompanied by the orchestra.

Albany music lovers should take advantage of this opportunity of hearing the wonderful orchestra and Walter Damrosch and Josef Hofmann—two great names in the concert world of today, in Eugene on April eleventh. All seats reserved. Prices $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

In compliment to Mrs. Ketter, of Medford, Oregon, who is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Tracey, Mrs. O. D. Austin was a delightful hostess on Tuesday, when she entertained the Entre Nous club members and several additional guests. "Bridge" was the game played and in the late afternoon an elaborate collation was served by Misses Marcell Austin and Nathiel Donaca. The club members included Mesdames L. E. Tracey, S. N. Train, J. K. Weatherford, U. G. Smith, W. M. Parker, L. L. Swan, Chipman, J. A. W. Gardiner, E. C. Brandeberry, and O. D. Austin. The complimentary guests, on this occasion were Mesdames J. L. White, Owen Beam, Joseph Ralston, F. C. Pate, A. W. Bowersox, W. C. Tweedale, Leroy Wood, Bell (Eugene), Keweenaw (Medford), Charles Monson, W. H. Barker, A. Stark, J. R. Hulbert, Montgomery, Mark Weatherford, R. A. B. Veal and Reed Walworth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Weatherford were hosts on Monday at an elaborate seven course dinner for the members of the Lafolot club. Daffodils, intermingled with ferns were artistically arranged on the dining table, around which were seated Messrs and Mesdames O. D. Austin, J. L. White, W. H. Barker, George Sanders, L. L. Swan, Glen Junkins, Charles Monson, J. J. Barrett, J. K. Weatherford, Miss Katherine Barrett and Mr. Ed Barrett. Five hundred made up the latter part of the evening's diversion.

On Tuesday the Albany military club gave an informal dancing party, in the armory, with a large crowd present. Excellent music was furnished throughout the evening by the seven-piece orchestra from the Rolfe theatre.

An informal dance was given last night in Bussard's Tall by several of the younger contingent. A three-piece orchestra furnished the music during the evening.

On Tuesday night the young men of Dr. Littler's Sunday School class of the Methodist church organized themselves into a class to be known as the Young Men's Bible class, after a delightful banquet in the basement of the church. The officers of the club included President, John R. Penland; vice president, Charles Lamb; secretary, Clark Canfield, and treasurer, Roy Kinsey.

Mrs. A. Bowers was a delightful hostess on Friday for the Paxtang club members. Five hundred was the game played and in the late afternoon a dainty repast was served, at which time a few additional guests called. The guests included Mesdames Panck, Tillman, L. L. Swan, Charles Burggraf, Hoqvist, Misses Z. Galloway, Cecil Knok, Edna Metcalf and Mae Tillman.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church gave a ten cent on Wednesday afternoon in the church basement. The ladies brought their fancy work and enjoyed a social hour together and the following program was given: A reading by Mrs. M. Veal, a recitation by Dorothy Clifford and a reading by Mrs. C. M. Kendall. A unique feature of the afternoon was the passing of slips of paper to several ladies, with the name of a lady written on them and the four ladies holding slips with the same name had to form a quartet and sing. This caused much merriment and laughter. At the close dainty refreshments were served to about one hundred ladies.

The new Idea club members met with Mrs. Kendall this week. After a short business session, a contest in which each lady brought her baby picture, was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Alvin Carnegie guessing the names of all the babies and was awarded the prize, a picture. A dainty collation rounded out the afternoon's pleasure. The members present included Mesdames Veal, Bivens, Burkhardt, Alvin Carnegie, John Carnegie, Farley, Lasselie, Byron Peebler, Elmer Peebler, Skeen, Tower, Ward and Kendall. The hostess complimented on this occasion Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Darwin Carnegie (Minneapolis) and Mrs. Knapp.

Mrs. W. G. Williamson was hostess for the North Albany Thursday club, this week. The ladies brought their needle-work and enjoyed a social hour together, followed by singing the old folk songs, after which choice refreshments were served. The members present were Mesdames George Small, J. H. Saffley, Merrill Peacock, Rainwater, Prettyman, George Ralston, J. G. Gibson, Jones, J. Culver, H. Packer, Charles School, Culver, W. Salisbury, Pathman, M. Gilbert, J. Saffley, B. Small, Clyde Peacock, Miller, Quattlebaum, A. G. Gregory, Cooper, Williamson and Miss Margaret Gibson. The honored guests were Mesdames E. Wafer, F. E. Beauchamp, L. Kroschell and Elbert Small.

A delightful affair of the week's Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. John A. Shaw on West Third street. Mrs. Shaw, who has made a splendid record for several years past, resigned her office. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Thomas Hopkins, president; Mrs. Shaw, vice president; Mrs. France Pfeiffer, second vice president, and Mrs. A. Hart, secretary and treasurer. After a social hour, the hostess served a dainty repast.

The Needlecraft club members were delightfully entertained on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Harry Nebergall. Needle-work, interspersed with music and a social hour, was the diversion of the afternoon, followed by choice refreshments. Mrs. D. E. Nebergall was an honored guest.

A delightful time was had yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. F. Kennedy, when a surprise was tendered Mrs. Lee Bennett. Besides a good time socially refreshments were served. Besides those mentioned there were present Mrs. Frank Carman, Mrs. T. J. Sutes, Mrs. J. E. Denny, Mrs. Chas. A. Berry, Mrs. Alton B. Coates, Mrs. C. P. Phillips, Mrs. E. W. Albers and Mrs. R. J. Whitney.

A very pretty little affair of the week was a luncheon Friday noon in the dining room of the Albany high school. Given by four of the domestic science girls, assisted by Miss Thordarson and the rest of the class in honor of the few business men. A large vase of lambtoniques centered the prettily decorated table. The menu was arranged and served by Ruth Rawlings, Opal Howard, Hazel Gilbert and Ardys Doughton. After the luncheon much merriment followed including the registration of the guests as follows: Gustave Abraham, single, phone 531 or 355-J; P. D. Gilbert, married, Albany; R. K. Ohling, married, Albany; Willard L. Marks, married, Albany; Chas. B. Estess, married, Albany; H. C. McDonald, Y. M. C. A.; John R. Hulbert, single; Raymond Tomlinson, single yet; Elmer Williamson, single lemon pie; F. P. Nutting, 2 pieces.

Mrs. Fred Ward entertained for the Monday Bridge club members this week. The ladies passed the afternoon in playing cards and at the close, choice refreshments were served. Mrs. W. V. Merrill and Mrs. Charles Monson were honored guests.

The Elk's Ladies met on Monday in the lodge rooms, with Mrs. I. N. Sears as hostess. Five hundred was the game played and in the late afternoon choice refreshments were served.

In compliment to her house guest Mrs. Aldrich of Mill City, Mrs. E. C. Brandeberry entertained a few friends on Friday. "Bridge" was the game played at three tables and dainty refreshments rounded out the afternoon's pleasure.

Mrs. Clara Hand will entertain the "covered dish club" tonight at her home on East Seventh street.

Mrs. Edgar's Sunday school class of girls of the First Presbyterian church gave a social in the church basement last night. Games and music were very much enjoyed, until a late hour, when refreshments were served.

Mrs. R. A. B. Veal was a charming hostess on Thursday, when she entertained the members of the Priscilla club. Fancywork was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by a dainty collation. The honored guests included Mesdames O. D. Austin, Young, Fred Harris and Ohling.

Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rufus Thompson, the Baptist ladies held a ten cent tea for the purpose of getting money to furnish a rest room in the basement of the church. About fifty ladies called during the afternoon and a very interesting program was given. Mrs. F. Dawson, Mrs. Reeves, and Mrs. Alan Banks each gave a reading; Master Donald Parent of Portland recited, and little Madelyn Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ward, and Mrs. W. C. Burkhardt each rendered a piano solo. The ladies, besides spending a very enjoyable afternoon, received five dollars and seventy cents towards furnishing their room.

The Nons Numphe club members, accompanied by their husbands, made up a theatre party on Wednesday at the Globe Theatre. An after theatre party was then enjoyed, with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Canfield as hosts. On entering the guests found partners by

JACK FROST

Jack Frost comes like a thief in the night. If you have any growing plants out he will nip them—unless they are covered over—protected. And how about your money? Is it protected against the burglar—another thief who comes in the night? Protect your money by keeping it here. It is safe here. No thief can get it while you do not need it, and when you do need it you can get it at any time.

Keeping Up With Uncle Sam

IN THE last thirty-seven years of national progress, the Bell Telephone has played an important part.

Out of the public's demand for universal service has grown the Bell system, covering the entire country with one great intercommunicating system.

Today there are more than 7,500,000 telephones connected by 14,000,000 miles of wire in the Bell system, and every day the service is extended to meet the ever increasing needs of the people.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

Coming Again

Most of the Clothcraft Suits in our store will be bought by men who wore Clothcraft last winter.

We know these men will come back—for Clothcraft buyers are repeaters.

Ask any man who wears Clothcraft—we can tell you lots of them—if he ever before got as much comfort, good style and long wear for the same cost.

Clothcraft's makers have for three generations devoted all their efforts to improving medium-priced clothes. By scientific study they have worked out shorter and better ways to perform all the operations that make a suit. Their success gives you better fabrics, better linings, superior workmanship—in a word, more style, comfort and value for your money.

Drop in and see Clothcraft Clothes for spring and summer. We know that after one experience your own satisfaction will tell you why Clothcraft wearers come again.
