SHORT SESSION OF CIRCUIT COURT HELD THIS MORNING

Judge Wm. Galloway held a short session in Department No. 2 of the circuit court this morning, granting two divorces and passing on a few other matters.

Judge Galloway will return Friday and continue court on to Saturday of next week.

In the case of Thomas Froman vs. Amanda Rexford, et al. to foreclose mortgage, default and decree entered. In the case of G. J. Schroder vs. Bertha Schroder, divorce granted to plaintiff and custody of five minor children given to defendant.

Divorce was granted to Maggie S. Uhl from Henry Uhl, and plaintiff's name changed back to Sullivan.

morning to attend the concert of the New York Symphony orchestra of over 150 pieces, and the piano recital of Josef Hofmann.

Albany a Favored City—

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jensen, who are here with the Brown-Robertson Art exhibit, of New York, will leave Sunday for San Francisco and from there will go direct to Boston on their way home. But few cities on the coast will have had the opportunity to see the splendid exhibit of the world's best paintings and engravings, and Albany is indeed fortunate in having had this opportunity which closes at the Art Craft this evening.

Orange Peel Contest—

Do you know that there are only 19 more voting days left until the Orange Peel contest closes? Isn't a three days' trip to the Portland Rose Festival worth giving your favorite? Ask for your votes when trading with advertisers. Here's how the contestants stand today: Laura Chambers, 346,068 1-2; Stella Hoover, 264,222; Dena Fromm, 119,396 1-2; Vesta Hulbert, 85,941; Hazel Hockensmith, 24,027; Hattie Ferguson, 18,886; Audrey McMeekie, 10,558; Mrs. L. Compton, 10,246 1-2; being those above 10,000.

Singers Made Hit—

Ted Ullmark, the baritone who is singing at the Rolfe theatre this week, made a hit last night with the crowd at the performance of "The Ruling Passion," with his splendid work. He will be heard again at this theatre tonight. Wm. E. Shay and Claire Whitney were all that could be desired in the strong Wm. Fox production, "The Ruling Passion."

"Nedra" a Fine Production—

At the Globe theatre last night Geo. Barr McCutcheon's famous novel "Nedra," was presented for the first time, and made a decided hit with the large audience which saw the play. The settings are rich, real and natural. There are hundreds of cannibals, all too true to life. Many people who have read McCutcheon's book welcome the opportunity to see the play. Edward J. Porter, who opened a three day engagement at the Globe last night and made a fine impression with his character solo work.

SOCIAL

Wednesday evening in the Baptist church basement, the Amomas and Agogas—the young ladies and young men's Sunday school classes—met for an evening of business and pleasure. Each class met separately for the fore part of the evening; the club of the Amoma class having its business meeting and program, which consisted of a study of American poets, and the Agogas met to form a similar culture club, with appropriate initiation. At nine o'clock the two classes met together and games were played until a late hour. About forty lively young people participated in the evening's pleasure.
