NON-PARTIZANSHIP.

Gov. Lister, of Washington, has come out in favor of a policy that commends itself to the world, the non-partizan election of state, county and city officials, and declares that he will do his best to bring about such a non-partizan movement in Washington.

NO JOBBOLDERS WANTED.

The president's instructions that federal office holders be ignored in selecting convention delegates is in accord with the sentiment of the day and looks to a literal fulfillment of his letter to ex-Congressman Palmer stating the conditions on which he would accept a renomination.

Because democracy has been out of office so much, one spectacle was less familiar in democratic than in republican conventions. This was the spectacle of the collector of customs serving as chairman of the state delegation, the collector of internal revenue representing the delegation on the resolution committee, the pension agent barring hostile delegates as a member of the credentials committee, and the postoffice inspector and special treasury agents combing the corridors for wavering gentlemen entitled to seats.

LIFE IN THE OPEN.

George Washington was a grown man before he ever saw a city of over 5000 population. He was essentially a farmer.

In a letter written in 1788 he stated his views on agriculture in these words: "The more I become acquainted with agricultural affairs, the better I am pleased with them. I can nowhere find so great satisfaction as in those innocent and useful pursuits. In indulging in these feelings I am led to reflect how much more delightful to an uneducated mind is the task of making improvements on the earth than all the vain glory which can be acquired from ravaging it by the most uninterrupted career of conquests."

When we measure the full import of the ravages the war is making in the old world, how it is debauching the present manhood of Europe and condemning future generations unborn, to economic slavery, we can grasp the truth and wisdom of the utterance of the Father of our Country.

Real happiness, genuine satisfaction, undiluted enjoyment of life can best be found—in truth can only be found, save in exceptional cases—by keeping in close touch with nature. It would be interesting to know just what proportion of the truest contentment enjoyed by the people of America is confined to the farm. The figures would doubtless be startling as well. Yet our urban population is growing alarmingly; our rural population decreasing. It is a problem looming up for some master mind to solve, the question of keeping our boys on the farm. The farm tenantry and rural credits propositions, worked out on proper lines, will be a big step in the right direction. The United States senator or congressman who offers the best remedy along these lines will find his name at the top of the roll of honor or a few generations hence.—News.

MISFITS

Some one has figured out that a weak, sickly girl will exert more energy in dancing an hour than a woman will in washing that long.

War is no Alphonse and Gaston game, whether on land or sea.

The origin of Scio is a very interesting story. In the early 50's five or six men, who had settled there, were together when it was suggested that there were enough around to have a name for the place, and the selection of a name began. Then there was fun, for each man wanted a different name, and it waxed hot until it looked like trouble, when Mrs. Kelly, who was present, suggested that Scio, which she thought meant peace, would be a good name, and it took at once. Mrs. Kelly is alive now, residing near Turner.

A Dallas minister, Rev. G. H. Bennett, recently preached a sermon on fishing, with some excellent spiritual thoughts, giving the following poem: A feller isn't thinkin' mean,

Out fishin', His thoughts are mostly good an' clean, Out fishin', He doesn't knock his fellow men, Out fishin', A feller's at his finest, when Out fishin'.

The rich are comrades to the poor, Out fishin', All brothers to the common lure, Out fishin', The urchin with the pin an' string Can chum with millionaire an' king; Vain pride is a forgotten thing, Out fishin'.

A feller gets a chance to dream, Out fishin', He learns the beauties of a stream, Out fishin', An' he can wash his soul in air That isn't foul with selfish care, An' relish plain an' simple fare, A feller has no time fer hate, Out fishin'; He isn't eager to be great, Out fishin'; He isn't thinkin' thought of self, Or goods stacked high upon the shelf, But he is always just himself, Out fishin'.

A feller's glad to be a friend, Out fishin'; A helpin' hand he'll always lend, Out fishin'; The brotherhood of rod an' line, An' sky an' stream is always fine; Men come real close to God's design, Out fishin'; A feller isn't plottin' schemes, Out fishin'; He's only busy with his dreams, Out fishin'; His livery is a coat of tan, His creed: To do the best he can; A feller's always mostly man, Out fishin'.
