GERMANY DOES NOT EXPECT A BREAK

Note Was First Published in Berlin Today, Good Friday Holiday.

THE REPLY IS NOT EXPECTED FOR A WEEK

Newspapers Say Generally That Germany Will Not Yield, But Break Will Not Result.

(By United Press)

Berlin, April 21.—President Wilson's note demanding cessation of Germany's submarine campaign was printed today. Good Friday made it impossible to obtain an expression of opinion in the foreign office. A reply is not likely before the end of next week. Bankers, merchants and heads of government departments will probably be summoned for a conference over the reply.

Newspapers almost unanimously declared that Germany will not yield, though most of them expressed the opinion that a diplomatic break will not result. The Vossische Zeitung predicted congress will prevent a break.

By Carl Ackerman.

Berlin, April 21.—by wireless via Tuckertown.—(Copyrighted.)—Germany can go no further in submarine concessions to America, Admiral von Holtzendorff, chief admiralty staff declared in an interview with the United Press today. "We do not desire a break with the United States. That would be insanity, and shall not bring it about despite our desire to push vigorously the submarine warfare. Many submarines have sighted scores of passenger ships between England and America, but none were touched, although they knew every one was carrying munitions for the Allies. We have definitely agreed to warn the crews and passengers of lines. We have lived up to our promise in every way. We cannot be asked to regard freighters in the same manner. We could have destroyed hundreds of thousands of tons of enemy ships, except for promises we gave America." He admitted some submarines have been lost since March first.

Washington, April 21.—It is believed Ambassador Von Bernstorff has been caught in a trap from which he cannot escape. Washington has concluded Bernstorff faces the necessity of admitting improper activities or having the facts proved against him with paper taken from Von Igel, arrested in the New York bomb plot charges. It is freely predicted that Bernstorff might receive his passports for reasons independent of the submarine controversy.

Trapp results from Ambassador Bernstorff's desire to reclaim the documents. As yet is not officially admitted they are the property of the embassy. If the embassy refuses the papers involving a criminal propaganda, the government will have free use of them.

Pythian Sisters—

At the meeting of the Pythian Sisters tonight, Mrs. F. E. Hochstetler, of Portland, deputy grand chancellor, will be present and speak. She is a former resident of Albany.

POLYGAMY CASE TO COME BEFORE GRAND JURY

The case of Ruth Hogan vs. Lee Hogan and Bessie Medley, who are under arrest upon state charges, Lee Hogan for polygamy and Bessie Medley for lewd and lascivious cohabitation, was to have come up at 9 o'clock this morning, but has been postponed until next week to come up before the grand jury.

The case of Mrs. Ruth Hogan vs. Lee Hogan to regain possession of her son is to come up before County Judge McKnight at 3:00 o'clock today.

CLAIRE DAWSON LEAVES FOR LONG TRIP TO FAR NORTH

He Will Spend the Summer After Furs on Hershell Island.

Clair W. Dawson left last night on the first stage of his long trip to the north where he will remain several months on a fur trading expedition. He went to Seattle, where he will have another interview with Captain Louis Lane, whose Arctic expedition Dawson expects to join at the mouth of the McKenzie river next August.

From Seattle Dawson will go to Edmonton, Alberta, and thence to Peace River crossing. Here he will board a lake steamer to cross Great Slave Lake, and then go down the McKenzie river to its mouth, cross out 200 miles into the Arctic ocean to Hershell Island, where he will put in the time trading with the Indians for furs, and trapping. He will take a large supply of food and other articles to trade. He expects to be reached by Lane's party about August.

The Lane party is composed of this well known northern sailor, John Borden, Chicago millionaire traveler and sportsman, and a party of friends. A boat owned by Lane and Borden is being built at Seattle which will be fitted up in the most approved Arctic style, equipped with every convenience. The party will go into the north to hunt valuable fur bearing animals, eider ducks, and to harpoon whales. They will also pick up Captain Valpalmar Stefansson, who is now in the north exploring, and will help him if needed to relocate the continent he discovered in the Polar regions.

Mr. Dawson expects to return to the United States next fall, but he may be prevented from making the return trip by adverse weather conditions.

SECOND HAND DEALERS HAVE ANOTHER SAY ON ORDINANCE

Ask Numerous Questions and Among Others That Mayor Veto Ordinance.

Editor Democrat.—As the new ordinance controlling the trade of second hand stores seems to have assumed an interesting attitude in public prints, we deem it fair to answer the interpretation recently published in your paper emanating from the city attorney, Victor Olliver.

We may regret to publicly acknowledge our ignorance of the English language but if Attorney Olliver's statements as to the meaning of the ordinance he says he wrote is a correct interpretation, we must confess our early training in school has been very defective. We quote Mr. Olliver verbatim as appearing in the Democrat: The merchants who deal in second hand goods evidently do not understand the ordinance. There is no license attached to the ordinance on the books regulating and licensing this class of business. The ordinance was written by myself.

The ordinance as passed is reported as follows: Hereafter each junk or second hand dealer or pawn broker will be required to obtain a license, and to keep a record of every article taken in or sold, the time of day, the description of the person selling same, etc., where not bought from an established wholesale house, manufacturer or from any person doing business in an established place in the city. A fine of from $5 to $25 or not more than 50 days imprisonment is imposed for the violation of this ordinance.

Attorney Olliver says "There is no license attached to this ordinance." Please inform us what the fine of from $5 to $25 or 50 days imprisonment means when the ordinance says the second hand dealer will be required to take out a license or be fined or imprisoned? Is it possible we are so densely ignorant we can't interpret such plain statements? For such ignorant persons as Attorney Olliver assumes we are it might be safe for a special school to be opened in Albany that can prove to the simple people that "black means white," that a $25 fine don't have any meaning at all, and that 50 days in jail means the freedom of the city is turned over to law breakers, and when a license is taken out the dealer is empowered

VERDUN BATTLE RAGING ON MEUSE

Germans Penetrated French Line; But Were Driven Back Losing Ground.

PRACTICALLY NO ADVANCE ON EITHER SIDE

French Claim Small Captures of 120 and 20 German Prisoners.

(By United Press)

Paris, April 21.—Following a heavy bombardment, the Germans last night powerfully attacked between Thiaumont and Vaux and south of Douaumont, where they penetrated the French lines. Counter attacks drove them back. The French captured several prisoners and two quick-firing guns. It is alleged the French advanced on both sides of the Meuse, renewing fighting there, where the French captured a trench on the edge of Carrette Wood, taking 150 prisoners. Twenty Germans were captured south of Haudremont and wounded Frenchmen lying between the lines were rescued.

Engagement By Boys.

The following, written by one of the Democrat's carriers, is given, without the names, showing that New York City has none the best of Albany, Ore.

A large fight took place in front of the Democrat Office yesterday afternoon between a Democrat carrier and ———. It was hotly contested all the way through, and when they were stopped by Chief of Police the Hon. John Catlin ——— seemed to have the best of it by a small margin. It created considerable excitement and there were pretty near fifty people who witnessed the engagement.

Miss Janet Dawson and little Miss Janet Millard will go to Newport this week-end.

to do business without regulation laws."

We hope the mayor will veto Attorney Olliver's ordinance because he don't handle the English language as it is understood by the average Oregonian. He is too highly educated for those who deal in second hand goods to understand.

THE MAN AT THE HELM THESE STORMY DAYS

ALBANY GOING AFTER QUEEN HONORS HARD

Many Events Planned to Raise Money For Albany's Choice For Queen.

To raise money to buy votes for Miss Marion Anderson, Albany's candidate for queen of the Portland Rose Festival, a series of entertainments and other events will be given in the near future.

The latest to be announced is a play to be given by Albany people under the direction of James W. Mott, of New York City, a professional actor who is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Mott, of Salem. An interesting incident in connection with Mr. Mott is the fact that he played a part in the Benet play, "Damaged Goods" when it was first produced in New York. Mr. Mott does not appear in the moving picture cast which will be seen at the Rolfe tonight, however.

Mr. Mott is a young man, but has had a wide experience in professional dramatics, and as a director of amateur theatricals he had made a decided success. "The Fortune Hunter" which will be given here, has been staged at Eugene and Salem under his direction with great success, and in Salem he has put on "Brown of Harvard," "Arizona," and other well known plays, all of which have been enthusiastically received.

The date for the presentation of "The Fortune Hunter" has not been set as yet, but the cast has been mostly selected and rehearsals will begin at once.

Another playlet will be presented by local talent at one of the motion picture shows following the larger play. This is a skit entitled "Albany on Wheels," which was written by an Albany man and abounds in good humor and witty cracks.

It is understood that the Albany band will also give a dance for the benefit of the queen, and several of the prominent society ladies of the city will give a series of 10 cents for the purpose of raising vote money. Every effort will be made to keep Miss Anderson's name near the top and to make it head the list at the finish. Manager Eastburn, of the Commercial club, calls attention to the newspaper coupons and requests everybody to save theirs.

20 Killed By Storm.

Kansas City, April 20.—Rains which fell throughout the sections of Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri, which last night were torn by tornadoes, were believed by weather officials to have marked the end, at least temporarily, of the tornado period. Inefficient wire communication today permitted few added details of damage and loss of life, but the latter, which at noon today stood at 20, was believed to be approximately correct. Hundreds have been injured.

BURIED BODY NOT THAT OF VILLA

Report of Consul Letchers Asserts That Villa Is in Durango.

CARRANZISTAS AS BAD AS THE VILLISTAS

People Are Objecting to Americans Remaining Longer, Meaning Trouble.

(By United Press)

Chihuahua, April 21.—The exhumed body proved not to be Villa's, advises today stated. Consul Letcher's reports asserted Villa, unwounded, is in Durango. The general here announced that he had received Carranza's order prohibiting aviators from flying over cities, barring American expedition from using telegraphs and telephones. Carranzistas citizens fired a volley at an aviator on Wednesday, apparently attempting to land here. Later they flew toward San Antonio. Resentment of the soldiers and populace against the continued presence of the expedition has become so general, Carranzistas declared they will be unable to control the people unless the troops are withdrawn. Consul Letcher reported the fight at Parral not an isolated case. Other attacks it is believed occurred. Guiterre said he always considered the report of Villa's death unfounded. Consul Letcher's reports said Villa was probably not in the Guerrero battle.

San Antonio, April 21.—Gen. Pershing withdrew the advanced detachments of his expedition to prevent a possible massacre at the hands of the Carranzistas, headquarters stated. The expedition is stalled. Future activities depend upon the conference between Gen. Funston and Scott. Gen. Pershing's latest advice detailed the Carranzistas attitude. The contents are not revealed.

Lon Angeles, April 21.—Major baum Padilla, the confidential representative of Carranza, refused to affirm or deny the reports that he is searching for Villa, believing him hiding in this locality since the Columbus raid. Padilla heads the Sonora state police. He admitted his mission here is of the utmost importance to his government. He said he had pledged not to talk regard the object of his visit. It is known two organizations here are trying to institute a new revolution.

Washington, April 21.—Investigation of alleged German connection with the Villista raid at Columbus is awaiting the return of American expedition, it is learned authoritatively today.

HOTEL MEN BOOST FOR BETTER ROADS IN OREGON

Convention in Eugene Passed Strong Resolution; B. R. Westbrook Took Part.

B. R. Westbrook, of the Hotel Albany, returned yesterday evening from Eugene, where he attended the convention of hotel men, an enthusiastic affair, with some good results. Good roads was a prominent theme, resulting in a strong resolution in favor of constructive legislation that will lead to the early building and maintenance at state expense, of the main trunk highways of the state, so located that commercial and lateral highways can readily and to best advantage connect with it, with such legislation as shall enable the different counties to expeditiously and economically lateral highways, so that the products of the farm may be cheaply transported to market and offered for use in the best condition possible to the mutual advantage of producer and consumer.

Mr. Westbrook was down on the program, and the Register says: B. R. Westbrook, of the Hotel Albany, at Albany, succeeded in getting action on a matter of all valley hotels making a uniform charge of five cents for telephone calls within the city. The secretary was instructed to send blank agreements to all hotel men outside of Portland on this subject, also as to charging bus fare to and from the trains. This is to be 10 cents. A lobby card will thus be printed, signed by the hotel association, authorizing the charge.

Battleship to Sail.

TOTAL REGISTRATION FIGURES COMPILED BY CLERK

Both Republican and Democratic Parties Show Gains This Year.

The total registration in Linn county for the primary election was compiled by County Clerk R. M. Russell today and shows that this year's primary election will have a larger list of registered voters than registered in the primaries for 1914. With the possible exception that a few cards may still be in the hands of sub-registers the total count shows 8972 registered as compared with 8391 in 1914. This is far better than was expected a few days before the close of the registration books, and means that in the general election in November this list will be brought up to the 12,000 mark.

There were 5386 men registered and 3586 women. The Republicans registered 5302 and the Democratic party 2850. There are 301 Prohis, 20 Progressives, 188 Socialists, 258 Independents, 37 refused to state party and 16 registered in miscellaneous parties. This year the Republican party shows a gain of 62 members over 1914 and the Democratic party a gain of 112. The Progressives lost 72 this year and the Socialists lost 65.

'An Odd Coincidence—

In 1909 F. M. Redfield gave a check for $1270 to Foshay and Mason in payment for a bill of goods. Yesterday a man named Rose was looking around in the vacant land below the Jewish cemetery where the city dump pile is located and came across this same piece of paper. It had never been endorsed, but the hole made by the three-cornered bill file in the bank was there. No other stamp or sign that the check had ever been cashed was visible. Mr. Rose took the check to Mason's and it was taken to the Cusick bank, on which it had been drawn. The bank record shows that it was paid. But how it ever got to the city dump pile, or why no other marks are on the check issued so long ago are mysteries that can never be solved.

Jackson in Scio—

County School Supt. W. L. Jackson left this morning for Scio where he will look after school matters.

U. O. PROFESSOR TALKS ON MUSIC

He Says It is a Part of One's Education As Much As Anything Else.

NOT INHERITANCE, BUT SOMETHING TO BE LEARNED

The Progress of Music From the First Sounds Reads Like a Story.

That music is a part of education was the statement of Prof. J. J. Landsbury, of the U. O., in his library lecture last night, on "What is Music Made of, and How is it Made?" Music is something for everybody, he said. It is not tied up in a package. It isn't just born in one. It has to be put into a person, learned. This has reference merely to an understanding and appreciation of it, regardless of its execution.

With illustrations the professor showed how music has been built up into the wonderful compositions of the world. Starting with mere sounds they were gradually put together and combined, and with the motif idea he told the story of music, its original language and its development. This was done with some pretty illustrations with a piano by his side. The same law prevails in the progress of music as in everything else.

Things first condemned are not established and a part of music, and the development has brought the sonata, concerta, symphony, etc. In music, as in other things, it is not the material, but what you do with it. Whether music or anything else there is the same "think-box." The development of emotion is a part of education, and the world needs good listeners as well as those who execute.

An expert piano player Prof. Landsbury along the way of his lecture gave illustrations of a striking character, and no one could hear him without being impressed and having a better understanding of how music has been made and developed through the ages, and that anyone can cultivate a taste for it, and does not have to have it born into one.

So greatly was the audience pleased with the offering the professor has been asked to give another lecture covering the subjective side of the subject.

Good Friday Service.

SECOND DINNERS DANCE TONIGHT AT HOTEL ALBANY

The second of the popular dinner dances of the season will be held in the dining room of the Hotel Albany this evening at 7:00 o'clock. The success of the first event held two weeks ago has encouraged the management to give another of the series. As at the previous affair, there will be several car loads of society folks from Salem and Corvallis, and it is reported that some people are coming from Eugene tonight if the weather permits. The music will be furnished by the Heister orchestra.
