and contains a lesson no one should miss.

RICHARD BENNETT IN "DAMAGED GOODS"
A MUTUAL SPECIAL FEATURE IN SEVEN PARTS
MADE BY AMERICAN

No less than four local physicians were in the crowd who witnessed the play last night, all of whom endorsed "DAMAGED GOODS," most highly, one of whom said:

"DAMAGED GOODS" is a play which certainly should be seen by all young people. It is in now way overdrawn, in fact it is very conservative, for there are worse examples of this terrible disease right in Albany. As an educational picture it is of untold value, and parents should see that their child children over 16 years of age see it.

Blain. A variety program consisting of two instrumental solos, two readings and some comic songs, was enjoyed, after which a dainty collation was served. The pleasant rooms were decorated with white lilacs and apple blossoms.

Miss Katherine Allen delightfully entertained the girls of her class on Wednesday. The girls met in the parlors of the St. Francis hotel and were entertained with contests and games. After a delightful evening the girls were treated to refreshments at the Elite. The girls who were present were Hildegard Spillman, Corintha Hart, Nathel Donaca, Harriet Van Tassel, Della Stover, Carolyn Wright, Hazel Ross, Vere Smith, Marciel Austin, Lee Fortmiller, Edna Taylor, and Beatrice Sanders. Before leaving, Miss Allen gave each of the girls hand painted favors.

The members of the Epicurean covered dish club delightfully surprised Mr and Mrs. J. D. Summers in celebration of Mr. Summer's birthday, by giving them a small party. Thursday evening, Pinochle was played during the evening and refreshments were served. Present were Messrs. and Mesdames Walton Worrell, R. Walworth, Glen Junkin, A. J. Hodges, S. E. Watson. Mrs. Hand and Mrs. Linch.

The Art Craft club met on Tuesday of this week with Mrs. A. J. Hodges. The afternoon was spent in fancy work and conversation. Choice refreshments were served by the hostess. Additional guests were Mrs. F. P. Nutting, Miss Conger, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Bilyeu.

Thursday afternoon the H. D. W. club met with Mrs. William Van Winkle. Each member answered to the roll call by a "Hint on Household Helps." The ladies spent a very pleasant afternoon with needlework and conversation. Afterwards delicious refreshments were served. The following were the complimented guests: Mrs. Isaac Butler (Portland, Mrs. L. M. Parish (Corvallis), Mrs. Harry Nebergall, Mrs. W. B. Chance, Mrs. Robnett, Mrs. L. E. Moe, and Miss Pearl Cameron.

The Pythian Sisters held a called meeting Friday evening. Mrs. George Hochstetler, a supreme officer, was here to inspect the work. After three initiations, the ladies enjoyed a banquet.

The Ladies' Rural club met Thursday with Mrs. Virgil Looney. During the afternoon music and sewing were enjoyed by the ladies. Invited guests were Mrs. Looney of Portland, and Mrs. Koons. The members present were Mesdames E. R. Allen, John Ehrenreich, U. G. Smith, Chas. Ashton, D. W. Shirley, W. Ralston, Robert Fisher, Ed. Schoel, May, George Vincent, P. F. Altermatt, Nelson Altermatt, Miss Mattie Eichert, Miss Nancy Ralston and Miss Florence Ralston.

Mrs. A. W. Bowersox entertained the Leisure Hour club in a delightful manner Friday afternoon in her pleasant rooms, bridal wreath, white lilacs and baskets of pansies were used in profusion. A guessing contest of the names of the streets of Albany was an interesting diversion. Mrs. Hobbs of Eugene received the prize. Many guests including Mrs. Jessie Wallace of Baraboo, Wisconsin and Mrs. Hobbs of Eugene were present.

Last week a tea was given by Mrs. Charles Stewart honoring Mrs. Jessie Wallace of Baraboo, Wisconsin. A number of intimate friends of Mrs. Wallace were present. Mrs. H. Cusick and Mrs. Jos. Ralston poured.
