Led the Singing—

Loren Luper, of Tangent, went to Roseburg last Monday to attend the state Sunday School convention. While there he led the singing playing on his trombone. He also played solos. Mr. Luper passed through the city enroute to The Dalles yesterday.

Attends Friends' Funeral—

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Butler went to Salem this morning to attend the funeral of Charles Fullerton, who died in Portland. The two men were former friends when they lived in Corvallis.

Bill Woods Passes—

Bill Woods, well known musician, who has been conducting a moving picture theatre in Cottage Grove, passed through the city yesterday morning enroute to Portland.

Madame X Fine—

A large crowd greeted the opening performance of Madame X at the Globe last night. This story is so well known in the book form that no comment is needed, save to say that Dorothy Donnelly handles the difficult role of the woman, who, craving for love is turned aside by her husband to fall the victim of his friend, then to be cast out and sink to the lowest depths. Her portrayal of the part is great work, and the court room scene is a wonder in tense acting and pathos.

Easter Drill—

Sunday night at the Baptist church a class of young ladies will repeat an Easter trumpet drill by request.

School Entertainment—

The pupils of the Central, Madison and Maple schools will render the Operetta, "The Pixies" at the Globe theatre Tuesday evening, May 2nd, at 8 p. m. Admission 15c and 20c.

Conrad Small a Papa—

C. M. Small, who, up to a few days ago was agent for the Great Northern Express Co. in this city, writes friends in this city that at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, April 27, his wife presented him with a nice nine pound baby boy. Both mother and son are doing fine. Mr. and Mrs. Small have scores of friends who will congratulate them on the new member of their family. Mr. Small says that he is going to make a baseball pitcher out of his boy, but that he can't be a "south paw." The address of the Smalls is 134 Howard Ave., North, Apt. A. (Seattle).

WOMEN SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO PROPOSE IF THEY WISH

A short time ago a prominent New York woman gained considerable newspaper notoriety by declaring that if a woman wanted to marry a man he should come right out and propose to him. Well, there is really no good reason why she shouldn't, if she thinks she can get away with it—and getting away with it is simply a matter of knowing how to go about it. There are a few simple, definite rules, by which a woman can marry any man she wants to marry. This may sound queer, but it is an absolute, cold-blooded fact. All you have to do is to follow the rules, and you

OWEN JOHNSON'S WONDERFUL STORY

A Tale for Everywoman The Film of the Week

"The Salamander shows any girl how to live without going behind the ribbon counter, but also that the ribbon counter is the safer way."

"It reminds men that they may be shackled to a Salamander and not know it--that they must trade as shrewdly after dark, as besore."

"Salamanders have been scuttling men's purses ever since man was."
